QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

DEDICATION OF FEMALE CHILDREN TO THE TEMPLE OF JAGANNATH IN PURI

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked:—

I. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the open letters published in a Calcutta paper named Satya Sanatan Dharma on the 14th November, 1910, and again on the 6th April, 1911, addressed to the Government of Bengal and to the Imperial Government, respectively, bringing to light the custom of dedicating female children to the temple of Jagannath in Puri (Orissa), who, when grown up, lead immoral lives as long as they live, and requesting the Government to abolish the said custom ?

(b) Is the Government in a position to say whether the allegations made in the said paper are correct ?

(c) Will it please the Government to state whether any communication on this subject has been received by it from the Secretary of State for India ?

(d) Is the Government aware that the aforesaid complaint of the Satya Sanatan Dharma has been supported by nearly the entire Indian Press, not only by those in favour of reform, but also by such orthodox Hindu papers as the Hitabadi and Hita Varta of Calcutta ?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Government propose to take any action in the matter with the object of stopping this immoral custom ?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) Government has ascertained that about 100 dancing girls are attached to the Jaganath Temple at Puri and are dedicated to its service. The allegations referred to are believed not to be applicable to any other temple in the Province.

(c) The answer is in the affirmative.

(d) Government is aware that these allegations have been made by other newspapers.

(e) Government would view with favour and lend its support to any organized attempt made by Hindu society at large to eradicate the evils which have grown up round the system at Puri, but it considers that any such movement should emanate from the people themselves, and it does not propose to initiate reforms on its own motion in a matter so closely connected with religious observance.

UNSUITABILITY OF THE INDIAN SUCCESSION ACT TO THE ABORIGINAL TRIBES OF CHOTA NAGPUR.

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked:—

II. Is the Government aware that the provisions of the Indian Succession Act are quite unsuited to the conditions of the Mundas, Urans and other aboriginal tribes of Chota Nagpur who, in the matter of succession and inheritance, follow their own peculiar customs ?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

It has been ascertained that the aborginal tribes in Chota Nagpur are governed by peculiar customary rules of succession and inheritance. As Chota Nagpur is about to be dissociated from the Province of Bengal, this Government consider that the question of the unsuitability of the provisions of the Indian Succession Act, in the case of these tribes, may be properly left to the new Government to deal with."

LOCATION OF AN ADDITIONAL JUDGE OR A SUBORDINATE JUDGE AT MOTIHARI.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

111. (a) Will the Government now be pleased to supply the figures asked for in my question No. XII (a) put in this Council on the 15th August, 1911, on the subject of the location of an Additional Judge or a Subordinate Judge at Motihari in the Champaran district?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has received the reports of the District Judge and the Subordinate Judge of Muzaffarpur, the District Magistrate and Collector of Motihari and the Sub-divisional Magistrate of Bettiah, as also the opinions of the leading men of the town and district of Motihari and of the Manager of the Bettiah Raj on the subject of the memorial submitted by the people of Motihari praying for the location of an Additional Judge or a Subordinate Judge at that station?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether the consensus of the said opinions is in favour of the location of an Additional Judge or a Subordinate Judge at Motihari?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to locate an Additional Judge or a Subordinate Judge at Motihari; or what action, if any, it intends to take on the said memorial and on the reports of the officials referred to in clause (b) of the question?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

(a) The figures asked for are contained in the statement which is placed on the table.

(b) (c) (d) The District Judge and the High Court have been consulted in regard to the prayer contained in the Memorial for the location of an Additional or Subordinate Judge's Court at Motihari. The District Judge has replied, and the High Court's opinion is awaited. The Government is not disposed to take any action until the High Court's opinion is received.

DIVISION OF THE PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL AND EXECUTIVE SERVICES BETWEEN THE PROVINCES OF BENGAL AND BIHAR.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

IV.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Provincial Judicial and Executive Services are going to be divided between the Provinces of Bengal and Bihar?

(b) If so, from what date will the said division take effect?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to specify, grade by grade, the number of Subordinate Judges, Munsifs and Deputy Magistrates which it is intended to assign to the Province of Bihar?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, in making the division of the services, it intends to retain in Bihar such Bengali (Judicial and Executive) Officer as have experience of Bihar districts?

(e) Is the Government in a position to state how many Biharis are likely to be appointed as Subordinate Judges in the new Province of Bihar at the time of the division of the cadre?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(a), (b) and (c) The question of the division of the Provincial Judicial Service between the Provinces of Bengal and Bihar is under consideration. The Executive Service will be divided between both the Provinces, but no particulars regarding the date from which the division will take place, or the grades to be assigned to either Province, have yet been finally decided.

(d) The principle suggested is being followed so far as it is consistent with the other considerations which arise.

(e) Government is not at present in a position to state how many Biharis are likely to be appointed as Subordinate Judges in the new Province of Bihar.

ABOLITION OF THE 4TH GRADE OF THE PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

V.—In view of the fact that the Government has abolished the eighth grade (on Rs. 200) of the Provincial Executive Service, will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to take any action with a view to a similar abolition of the fourth grade of the Provincial Judicial Service, which carries the same pay?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

Government have already had a proposal before them for raising the pay of the lowest grade of Munsiffs. The consideration of the question has been postponed, pending the reconstitution of the Province.

THE NEW SECRETARIAT AND BIHAR'S CLAIM.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

VI. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to an article headed "The New Secretariat and Bihar's claim" which appeared in the issue of Young Bihar of the 29th January, 1912?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the statement, made in some of the Calcutta papers, that it is proposed to staff the Secretariat for the new Province of Bihar solely with officers taken from Calcutta, is correct?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, when making appointments to the new Secretariat and other offices in the new Province of Bihar, it intends to consider the claims of the people of Bihar, Orissa and Chota Nagpur?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to notify the number of such appointments and to invite applications therefor?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state when the said appointments will be made and who will make them?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) to (e) The scale of Secretariat and other office establishments for each of the new Provinces and the Assam Administration has not yet been fixed, and, until this is done, the selection of the personnel to fill the several posts cannot be undertaken. When the selection is being made, it will be necessary to pay due consideration to the claims of those clerks who are already in the employment of Government. The method of selecting outside applicants to fill available vacancies in the Secretariat and other office establishments of the new Province of Bihar and Orissa will rest with the Government of that Province, when constituted, and is not a matter within the competence of the Bengal Government.

APPOINTMENT OF A SUB-OVERSEER IN THE DALTONGANJ MUNICIPALITY.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

VII. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the letter of a Daltonganj Correspondent, which appeared in the Bihar Advocate and Kayastha Messenger of the 1st and 8th January, 1912, regarding the appointment of a Sub-Overseer in the Daltonganj Municipality?

(b) Is it a fact that the claims of many trained Biharis, who had passed the requisite examinations of the Bihar School of Engineering, were overlooked by the Municipal Authorities in favour of an outsider who had undergone no such training and had none of the necessary qualifications?

(c) If the answer to the last question is in the affirmative, will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to take any action with a view to putting a stop to occurrences of this nature?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied:—

The appointment of Municipal servants is regulated by statute. Under section 46 of the Municipal Act, the Municipal Commissioners can decide upon the scale of establishment necessary, and, subject to this scale, the Chairman has powers to appoint such persons as he may think fit, but an appointment to an office, the salary of which is Rs. 50 a month, requires the sanction of the Commissioners at a meeting. These powers are limited by section 61 which requires the sanction of the Commissioner when the salary of an office is Rs. 100 a month and that of the Local Government when the salary is Rs. 200. No qualifications have been prescribed for the post of Municipal Sub-Overseer, and Government is unwilling to interfere with the discretion of the Municipality by inquiring into the circumstances of this particular appointment.

SUB-REGISTRARS AND THE SALARIED SYSTEM.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

VIII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is a fact that, on or about the 21st March, 1910, several Sub-Registrars, who had served in that capacity before the introduction of the salaried system, submitted separate memorials to Government praying that the period of their services before the introduction of that system might be counted towards pension on the grounds advanced in their memorials?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has considered the subject of the said memorials and, if so, what action has been taken thereon?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied:—

(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) Government has considered the memorials. The orders that service before the introduction of the salaried system should not count for pension were passed by the Government of India, and this Government, in view of the other advantages gained by the Sub-Registrars from the introduction of the salaried system, did not feel justified in asking for a reconsideration of the matter. Orders have, however, been issued that the ordinary rules relating to retirement should be applied with discretion in the case of Sub-Registrars, whose work is mainly of a routine character and does not demand so much mental and physical energy as is required in most other services. It has been directed that consideration should be shown in the case of a Sub-Registrar who has exceeded the age of 55 years, but who is still fit for work, and who may qualify for pension with a reasonable amount of extension of service.

COTTON-GAMBLING IN CALCUTTA.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJ KISHOR PRASAD asked:—

IX. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to a series of articles on the subject of the growing practise of "Cotton gambling" in Calcutta, which appeared in the weekly edition of the Bharatmitra of the 28th October, 1911, and in the daily edition of the same paper of the 5th December, 1911, 4th January, 1912, and 16th January, 1912, respectively?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether it has taken, or intends to take, any action in the matter with a view to putting a stop to this evil?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(a) The reply is in the affirmative.

(b) A proposal to legislate with a view to suppress Cotton-gambling is now under the consideration of Government.

INCREASE OF PAY TO OFFICERS OF THE LAST GRADE OF THE PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL SERVICE.

The Hon'ble RAI BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN BAHADUR asked:—

X. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, now that the eighth grade of the Provincial Executive Service has been abolished and the officers of that grade have been amalgamated with the officers of the seventh grade, and accorded a salary of Rs. 250 per mensem, it intends to raise the pay of the officers of the last grade of the Provincial Judicial Service to Rs. 250 per month?

(b) If so, will the Government be further pleased to state when it intends to do this?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

(a) & (b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the reply given to the Hon'ble Babu Braj Kishor Prasad's question upon the same subject.

COTTON-GAMBLING IN CALCUTTA.

The Hon'ble MR. GOLAM HOSSEIN CASSIM ARIFF asked:—

XI. (a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the recent establishment of a large number of shops in the town of Calcutta and its suburbs where gambling is carried on publicly, under a system known as the "Cotton figure", and to the fact that these shops are frequented by, amongst others, women and school children?

(b) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the fact that the Commissioner of Police has expressed his inability, under the present law, to close these shops or to stop gambling therein?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied :—

(a) & (b) The answers to both questions are in the affirmative.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE PAY AND PROSPECTS OF CIVIL ASSISTANT SURGEONS IN BENGAL.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked :—

XII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has received any communication on the subject of the proposals submitted by it to the Government of India with reference to the petition submitted, in 1907, by the Civil Assistant Surgeons in Bengal, praying that their pay and prospects in the service might be improved?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay the communication on the table?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state how many Civil Assistant Surgeons hold the appointment of Civil Surgeon within the territories under the jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

A communication was received from the Government of India in October last, but a further reference to that Government was necessary. As the matter is still a subject of correspondence with the Government of India, the papers cannot be laid on the table.

There are at present three Civil Assistant Surgeons in permanent charge of Civil Surgeoncies in this Province.

SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT OPERATIONS IN BIHAR.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked :—

XIII. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has received the report called for from the Director of Land Records, in regard to the representation submitted by the Bihar Landholders' Association, Bankipore, on the 5th April, 1911, relating to the grievances of the people of Bihar against Survey and Settlement operations in that Province?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay the report on the table?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied :—

(a) The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) The report was received from the Board of Revenue on the 8th February, 1912, and is still under the consideration of Government and so cannot be laid on the table.

ALLEGED PROPOSED PARTITION OF THE DISTRICT OF MIDNAPORE.

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT asked :—

XIV. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has any proposal now under consideration for the partition of the district of Midnapore?

(b) Is the Government aware that there was such a proposal in 1907, but that the Government of India declined to take any action upon it?

(c) Is the Government aware that a memorial was submitted to the Government of India in 1907 by the people of Midnapore protesting against the partition of the district of Midnapore?

(d) Is the Government aware that the Government of India informed the memorialists, through the Government of Bengal, in a letter dated the 17th of April, "that the people will be given a full opportunity of expressing their opinion before any such step is taken," meaning thereby "any step towards the partition of" the district of Midnapore?

No year has been stated. A. W. WATSON— 16-2-1912.

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state what opportunity, if any, has been given to the people and the public, or to any representative body, to express their opinion regarding the rumoured partition of the district of Midnapore?

(f) Is the Government aware that there is a strong feeling in Midnapore regarding the proposed partition of the district?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it has considered the question of the expenditure which will be entailed upon the provincial revenues if the proposed partition is effected?

(h) Will the Government be pleased to state what is likely to be the recurring and non-recurring expenditure if the partition of the district is effected and a new district is created?

(i) Will the Government be pleased to defer the consideration of the question of the proposed partition of the district of Midnapore till the new Governorship in Council is constituted?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

The answer to the first question asked by the Hon'ble Member is that proposals for the partition of the district of Midnapore are not now under consideration and will not be taken into consideration by the present Government. In these circumstances the Hon'ble Member will perhaps agree that the remaining questions call for no reply.

LOCATION OF A SUBORDINATE JUDGE AT HOWRAH.

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT asked:—

XV. Will the Government be pleased to state what steps, if any, have been taken for the location of a Subordinate Judge at Howrah?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

The question of the location of a Subordinate Judge's Court at Howrah is under the consideration of Government, in consultation with the High Court.

GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTION TOWARDS THE EXTENSION OF THE HOWRAH WATER-WORKS.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY asked:—

XVI. Will the Government be pleased to refer to Bengal Government letter No. 712M. (Municipal Department), dated the 4th April, 1911, addressed to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, intimating that the Lieutenant-Governor in Council was pleased to promise a contribution of 5 lakhs of rupees from Provincial Revenues towards the costs for the extension of the Howrah water-works, and to state whether the contribution was burdened with any condition?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied:—

The promise of the contribution of rupees 5 lakhs from Provincial Revenue towards the cost of the extension of the Howrah water-works was made upon a full consideration of all the bearings of the rough project then before Government. This consideration included the probability of a supply of filtered water being made available to the Uttarpara Municipality. The promise was of course contingent upon the detailed plans being in substantial conformity with the rough project.

SUPPLY OF FILTERED WATER TO THE UTTERPARAH MUNICIPALITY.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY asked :—

XVII. Has the attention of the Government been drawn to a memorandum No. 963M., dated the 18th October, 1911, addressed by the Commissioner of Burdwan to the Magistrate of Howrah, forwarding copy of a communication from the Sanitary Board in regard to the supply of filtered water to the Utterparah Municipality ?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

No copy of the Memorandum by the Commissioner of Burdwan referred to has been forwarded to Government.

DISCONTINUANCE OF THE PRACTICE OF TAKING SPECIAL NOTICE OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY IN THE ANNUAL RESOLUTION ON THE WORKING OF MUNICIPALITIES IN BENGAL.

The Hon'ble BABU MAHENDRA NATH RAY asked :—

XVIII. Will the Government be pleased to refer to paragraph 38 of the Government Resolution on the working of Municipalities in Bengal, during the year 1905-1906, and to state for what reason the practice of taking special notice of the administration of the Howrah Municipality in the Annual Resolutions has since been discontinued ?

The Hon'ble MR. STEPHENSON replied :—

"A short separate review of the administration of the Howrah Municipality was made for the first time in the Resolution on the working of Municipalities for the year 1902-03 and was discontinued in the Resolution for the year 1907-08. There has been no special reason for the discontinuance since that year, but the necessity for a separate review of the Howrah Municipality depends principally upon the nature of the working during the year."

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The Hon'ble Mr. Greer made a statement in regard to the Financial Statement for 1912-1913.

He said :—

It has been thought desirable that the Members of Council should be made acquainted at the earliest opportunity with the procedure contemplated in connection with the Budget for 1912-13.

In the ordinary course the draft Financial Statement would by now have been examined by the Finance Committee whose recommendations would have been considered by the Local Government, prior to the submission of the second edition of the estimates to the Government of India. The Revised Financial Statement would then have been introduced and explained by the different Members in charge early in March, and Resolutions would have been moved and discussed. Finally the budget debate would have been held, about the end of the month.

It has probably already struck the Members of this Council that the announcements made by His Imperial Majesty at Delhi, which affect the existing constitution of this Province must have a considerable effect upon this normal procedure. The Finance Committee were consulted originally in the preparation of the estimates for this Province but the estimates for the ensuing year are now being framed separately for that portion of the present Province which will continue in Bengal on the one hand, and for Bihar, Chota-Nagpur and Orissa on the other, with the consequence that there will be no Financial Statement with which this Council, with its present membership, is legitimately concerned. The non-official members from the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and those officials who will continue in Bengal have no authority to criticise the future Budget of Bihar and Orissa; the estimates for the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions will only be a fragment of the Budget for Bengal, and even in that fragment the non-official and official representatives who are about to sever their connection with Bengal are not interested. The position is peculiar, but it is unavoidable, and in these exceptional circumstances it is hoped that it will be recognised as fair and reasonable that the ordinary budget procedure during the current Session must be waived. This is from no desire to burke discussion but merely as the natural consequence of the unusual conditions existing. The Budget of each of the new Provinces for the next year must simply consist of what the Government of India allot under the various heads. In the absence of a Council capable of dealing with the Budget of each Province, this is the only course. The President therefore has been pleased to exercise his power of suspending such of the Rules as would have rendered the above procedure obligatory, and no Financial Statement or Budget will accordingly be brought before the present Council.

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Caution when approaching British Ports.

No. 60 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 1 of 1912), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that local or other circumstances may arise in which it may be necessary, on account of periodical exercises, manœuvres, or otherwise, to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (2), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (2), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there or keep the sea.

(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

Examination Service.

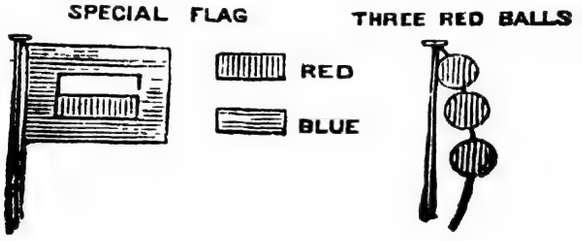
(1) Under certain circumstances it may become necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.

(2) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (4) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor.

(3) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (4), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

(4) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.



By night the steamer will carry—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(5) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions as to entry given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

(6) In case of fog, Masters of vessels are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(7) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

ADMIRALTY PUBLICATIONS.

True bearings to be introduced.

No. 61 (third publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 2 of 1912), are republished:—

Notice is hereby given that, on and after the date of this Notice, TRUE bearings will be introduced as soon as practicable in all Admiralty Publications.

Details of the new system are as follows:—

(a) On charts:

A new pattern compass is already being gradually introduced which enables True Bearings to be laid off on the chart in addition to Magnetic Bearings as at present. (See diagram overleaf.)

The compass consists of two graduated circles, clearly separated from each other.

The outer circle is a True compass; graduated from 0° (True North) to 360°, measured clockwise.

The inner circle is a Magnetic compass, graduated in points and in degrees from 0° to 90° as heretofore.

The bearings of leading and clearing marks, etc., will be given both True and Magnetic, and a note to this effect will be placed in the title of the charts. (See overleaf.)

Example.—The bearing S. 40° W. true, with a Variation of 12° Easterly, will be shown thus: 220° (S. 28° W. Mag.)

(b) In Sailing Directions:

Bearings will be given as True only, in degrees from 0° (North) to 360°, measured clockwise; and a note to this effect will be given in the Title-page, in the Advertisement, and in the page immediately preceding page 1 of all volumes of Sailing Directions. The variation will continue to be given on each page as at present, so that Magnetic bearings may be obtained when required.

This alteration will be introduced gradually.

(c) In Notices to Mariners:

All bearings will be given both True and Magnetic in a similar manner to that adopted on charts, the necessary alteration having been now made in the heading of the Notices.

(d) Lists of Lights:

Bearings will be given as True only, in degrees from 0° (North) to 360°, measured clockwise.

On each page of the Lists of Lights in which this alteration has been carried out, a footnote will be placed stating that all bearings are TRUE FROM SEAWARD.

New Pattern Compass.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 30TH SEPTEMBER 1911.

Dated Calcutta, the 22nd February 1912.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending the 30th September 1911.

THE area of the province as now constituted is 115,792 square miles. Including 3,567 square miles of original work completed during the year ending the 30th September 1911, the total area, which has been cadastrally surveyed, and for which a record-of-rights has been prepared, under the control of the Director of Land Records, is 54,959 square miles; and topographical or forest surveys have been made in respect of an additional area of 9,243 square miles. The tracts which have been completed entirely are the temporarily-settled estates of Orissa, where the operations included a resettlement of the land revenue, and the Tirhut and Bhagalpur Divisions. In the Patna Division, the district of Patna will be completed by the end of March 1912, while in Shahabad, which was begun in the field season of 1907-08, the operations will come to a close in the financial year 1914-15. In the district of Gaya, the traverse survey has only just started, and the whole work will not be finished until about October 1917. Of the five districts in the Chota Nagpur Division, Ranchi and Singhbhum have been practically completed ; in Hazaribagh operations were commenced in the field season of 1908-09, and will be completed in the financial year 1915-16. In Manbhum, Parganas Barahabhum and Patkum, comprising an area of 934 square miles, were taken up in 1908-09 in advance of the rest of the district, owing to the strained relations which existed between the Midnapore Zamindari Company and their tenants and to the necessity for an early solution of the Ghatwali question. The operations in these two parganas will probably be completed in the ensuing financial year. The rest of Manbhum, covering an area of 3,230 square miles, and the district of Palamau are the only areas which remain to be dealt with in the Chota Nagpur Division. In the latter, operations will be commenced in the field season of 1912-13.

As regards the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, the only tracts which have, so far, been taken in hand are the district of Midnapore and an area of 136 square miles in the Rampur-Hât subdivision of the district of Birbhum. In the former district, the settlement of the Government and temporarily-settled estates and of certain scattered private estates, covering in all over 1,000 square miles or about one-fifth of the district, has been completed, and it has now been decided to extend the work to the remainder of the district. The traverse survey was commenced in October 1910, and the operations are likely to continue till about the end of September 1917. The Sonthal area in Birbhum was taken up in 1909-10 in advance of the provincial programme, in consequence of serious discontent amongst the Sonthal cultivators, and is likely to be completed in the ensuing financial year.

2. During the year under report, the programmes of both the Survey and the Settlement Departments were practically carried out in full. The outturn, (3,618 square miles), of traverse survey, which was carried on in the districts of Hazaribagh, Shahabad and Midnapore, was practically the same as in the previous year (3,635 square miles). As compared with 1909-10, there was a reduction of cost rates in Hazaribagh (from Rs. 35·2 to Rs. 30·5) and in Shahabad (from Rs. 36·5 to Rs. 35·7). In the former district, the traversing was less intricate and required fewer stations to the square mile, but in the latter the conditions were much the same as in the previous year. It is satisfactory to note that in Midnapore, where labour rates are higher than in Bihar or Chota Nagpur, and where the usual difficulties of the first season's work had to be encountered, the cost per square mile amounted only to Rs. 35·6.

Notwithstanding various difficulties, good progress was made in the revision survey of Calcutta and allied items of work, which are nearing completion. The experimental diara survey commenced in the preceding year was continued, and covered about 50 linear miles. The work has so far proved successful, and a proposal to extend it gradually to all the diaras of the Province is now under consideration. In the Bengal Drawing Office, good progress was made in the various branches, and the Surveyor General of India, who inspected the office, expressed his satisfaction with the work which is being carried out.

The work of the Settlement Department lay in 15 districts, and consisted of the settlement of rents payable by tenants and of land revenue in Government or temporarily-settled estates, the preparation of a record-of-rights with the settlement of fair rents on the application of landlords or tenants in permanently-settled tracts, and the revision of the cadastral survey and record-of-rights in the districts of Cuttack, Puri and Balasore, with experimental maintenance of the record in Balasore.

4. The total area cadastrally surveyed was 3,378 square miles as against 3,474 square miles in the previous year, and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council is glad to learn that the Director of Surveys, who inspected a large proportion of the work done in Bihar and Chota Nagpur, found that the required standard of accuracy was being well maintained by the settlement staff, and that the style of drawing was, on the whole, distinctly good.

Including the revisional and experimental maintenance work in Orissa, the total number of tenancies for which particulars of rents and status were recorded during the year was 1,135,342 as against 1,134,366 in 1909-10. The number of cases in which rents were settled by compromise under section 109 C of the Bengal Tenancy Act was smaller than in the previous year, but it was sufficiently large to show that the procedure continued to be useful and to be appreciated by the landlords and tenants concerned. In Shahabad especially, a considerable number of longstanding disputes were satisfactorily terminated with the help of this section. There was a large amount of settlement of fair rents under section 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act and section 85 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, notably in South Monghyr Patna, Ranchi, Dhalbhum and the Jagir Mahals including Parikud in the district of Puri, and moderate enhancements were allowed on the grounds of rise in prices and excess area. In the Puri Jagir Mahals and in Dhalbhum, the chief work of the year was the settlement of rents, with which was combined the commutation of produce rents. In the former area, a complete rent settlement of the tract has been made, and all produce rents have been commuted to cash rents; while in Dhalbhum about two-thirds of the pargana have been similarly dealt with. In the latter tract, the Midnapore Zamindari Company themselves applied for the commutation of produce rents: the reason apparently being that, in a large zamindari where rents are collected by underlings, much of the produce is intercepted by them, and it is of advantage to the zamindar to have produce rents replaced by cash rents that are nominally lower. Commutation cases disposed of during the year in South Monghyr numbered 4,726, and in Patna 3,080. It is noticed that a large number of appeals are pending against the commutation proceedings in these districts, and it is hoped that steps will be taken to dispose of them at an early date.

5. The provisions of section 112 of the Bengal Tenancy Act were for the first time put in force in the case of the estate of Babu Sukhan Singh in South Monghyr. The Director of Land Records reports that considerable difficulties were experienced, owing partly to the obstructive attitude of the landlord and partly to defects in the section itself. He suggests that the section should be amended so as to give the settlement officer fuller powers to deal with produce rents and with arrears. Fuller experience of the working of the section is, however, necessary before any definite proposals for its amendment can be formulated.

6. The Director of Land Records has drawn attention to the widespread disregard by the landlords of South Bihar of the provisions of section 56 of the Bengal Tenancy Act relating to the grant of proper rent receipts, and to the inadequate penalties imposed in many cases by Revenue Officers under section 58. Mr. McPherson's remarks on this point should be brought to the notice of the Commissioners of the Bhagalpur and Patna Divisions and of the district officers concerned. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council is glad to see that the judicious working of the corresponding provisions of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act have had a marked effect in producing obedience to the law in Chota Nagpur, and he trusts that the same results will be achieved in Bihar.

7. The facts as to the agrarian conditions of the Sonthal villages in the Rampur Hât subdivision of Birbhum, which have been brought to light by the settlement proceedings, have fully justified their extension to that area. In paragraph 78 of the Director's report a vivid picture has been given of the abuses prevalent in Hazaribagh. The attestation stage has disclosed that the raiyats as a body are under the heels of the landlords and that the absence of litigation is due not to satisfactory relations between the landlords and their tenants, but to the ignorance of the tenants of their rights and to their despair of successful resistance to the landlords in the courts. It is said to be a common practice with the landlords to evict their tenants without bringing any suit. Illegal enhancements of rent were found in nearly every village, and had frequently been repeated at five-yearly intervals. The worst evils were found in areas under the thikadari system, where villages are leased out by the landlords on short temporary leases to farmers, who, having no permanent interest in the villages, merely try to exact the largest possible sum from the raiyats during the term of their contract. It is hoped that the settlement operations, by providing an authoritative record-of-rights and obligations and by their educative effect, will appreciably improve the condition of the tenantry in this district, as they have in others.

8. Good progress was made in the work of revising the records in Orissa. Draft publication of records was completed in all three districts, and considerable advance was made in final publication. In both cases the records were published at convenient central camps instead of in the village,—an innovation which is reported to have been a complete success, as regards economy and expedition of work, wherever it has been adopted. The volume of case work is now expected to be much heavier than originally anticipated, but as the additional cost will be recouped from court-fee receipts, the net total expenditure on the operations will not, in all probability, much exceed the estimate.

9. The experiment of annual maintenance of records in Balasore was extended, in the year under review, to the whole district and considerable progress was made. Experience showed, however, that any system of efficient annual maintenance must involve very heavy expenditure, and in July, in view of the orders received from the Government of India, the work was stopped and the rest of the year devoted to the preparation of a programme of triennial maintenance in Balasore, and such portions of Cuttack as might be ready for the experiment in the present field season. The whole question is now under the consideration of Government and a report will shortly be submitted to the Government of India.

10. The work of the Land Records staff in Sambalpur was performed satisfactorily. The mutation offices established in North Bihar under the Land Records Maintenance Act, 1895, continued to be unsuccessful, but the Lieutenant Governor in Council agrees with the Director of Land Records that the question of their abolition should stand over until it has been decided when the revision survey and record-of-rights in North Bihar is to be taken up. The record of mutations in Government estates was on the whole satisfactory, but in Wards' estates the standard attained still leaves much to be desired and the Board should draw the attention of the local officers to the subject. His Honour in Council notices with satisfaction that district officers are taking a growing interest in the maintenance of boundary marks, and that cadastral maps and settlement records, wherever they exist, are freely consulted and are found to be invaluable in criminal cases and in all branches of revenue work.

11. The Survey Department was in charge of Colonel Crichton, C.I.E., for the whole year, with the exception of a period of 20 days during which Captain R. Foster, the Assistant Director, officiated. The Hon'ble Mr. H. McPherson was in charge of the Department of Land Records throughout the year. The two departments worked in perfect harmony and the usual high standard of efficiency was maintained. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council are due to these officers, and also to Messrs. J. D. Sifton, J. A. Hubback, J. F. W. James and J. Taylor, who were in charge of the larger settlements. His Honour in Council is also pleased to notice the good services of a large number of other officers of both departments, whose names have been mentioned in the concluding chapters of the two Reports.

ORDER—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Gazette and that a copy of it with copies of the two Reports be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 1011For.—The 29th February 1912.—The following orders of the Government of India regarding the appointment of Probationers for the Indian Forest Service are published for general information.

J. H. KERR,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CIRCULAR No. 3-F.—267-5.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

(FORESTS.)

Simla, the 12th February 1912.

THE following revised Regulations for the selection and training of probationers for the Indian Forest Service in 1912 are published in supersession of those published in this Department's Circular No. 27F.—267-3, dated the 23rd October 1911 :—

INDIAN FOREST SERVICE.

Regulations as to the appointment of Probationers, 1912.

1. Appointments.—The Secretary of State for India in Council will, in the summer of 1912, make not less than five appointments of Probationers for the Indian Forest Service, provided that so many candidates are considered to be in all respects qualified.

In making these appointments, he will act with the advice of a Selection Committee.

2. Applications for Appointment.—Applications for appointment must be made on a printed form to be obtained from the Secretary, Revenue Department, India Office, Whitehall, London, S.W., and to be returned to him not later than Monday, the 1st July 1912. Candidates must be prepared, if called upon, to attend at the India Office, at their own expense, for a personal interview with the Selection Committee within three weeks from that date.

3. Age Limit.—Candidates must be not less than 19 but under 23 years of age on the 1st July 1912.

Notice is hereby given that the age limits for the recruitment of 1913 and following years will be 19 and 22 years on the 1st January of the year in which the selection is made.

4. Nationality, etc.—Every candidate must be a natural-born British subject. He must be unmarried, and if he marries before he reaches India he will forfeit his appointment. He must be of good physique, and must produce evidence of character to satisfy the Secretary of State for India in Council that he is suited for the Indian Forest Service.

5. Qualifications.—Candidates must be able to show that in addition to having received a good general education they have passed with honours in a public examination for a degree in some branch of Natural Science held by a University in Great Britain or Ireland. A good general education should be understood to include, at the least, a fair knowledge of English Composition, Mathematics up to and including Plane Trigonometry, and either German or French. The production of school certificates granted by the examining authorities of Universities, or of certificates that a candidate has passed the Matriculation Examination of a University, in the subjects named or of other certificates held by the Secretary of State in Council to be equivalent, will be taken to show that a candidate satisfies the requirements of his clause.

Note.—The Selection Committee will consider the applications of candidates who have sat at an examination for a degree as mentioned above but have not, at the time of the meetings of the Selection Committee, learned the result of the examination.

6. Should there be more candidates considered to be qualified in every respect than vacancies to be filled, the Secretary of State reserves the right to require them to pass a competitive examination conducted by the Civil Service Commissioners, on the results of which their final selection would depend. Particulars of this examination, which would be held in August, will be found in Appendix I.

7 Medical Examination.—Selected candidates will be required to undergo a strict examination by a Medical Board at the India Office, at which particular stress will be laid on good vision and hearing, and to satisfy the Secretary of State for India that they are physically fit for service in the Indian Forest Department (see Appendix V).

Candidates who do not satisfy the Secretary of State for India that they are physically fit for appointment to the Indian Forest Service will not be admitted to the competitive examination mentioned in Regulation 6.

8. Period of Probation.—The ordinary period of probation will be two years. During that time probationers will be required to pass through the Forestry course at one of the Universities named in the margin, becoming members of that University if not so already; to obtain the Degree or Diploma in Forestry which it grants; to acquire some knowledge of Hindustani; and to satisfy such other tests of proficiency as may be deemed necessary. The case of students who have already obtained such degree or diploma at any of the above-named Universities will be specially considered in each case.

Oxford, Cambridge, Edinburgh.

During the vacations the probationers will, under the direction and supervision of the Director of Indian Forest Studies appointed by the Secretary of State for India in Council, receive practical instruction in such British and Continental forests as may be selected for the purpose.

9. Charges.—The probationers will be required to defray all expenses of lodging, board, tuition, and excursions, while at the University, and on practical instruction in Britain and on the Continent with the exception of fees payable to local forest officers in Britain and on the Continent.

10. Allowances.—The Secretary of State for India in Council will make payments to each probationer at the rate of 120*l.* annually, not exceeding a total of 240*l.* (besides the fees to local officers mentioned above). These payments will ordinarily be made on the following dates in each year:—

On the 1st December	30
On the 1st March	30
On the 1st June	60

The cases of probationers whose probation does not extend over the full two years will be specially considered.

The grant of the allowances is subject to the following conditions:—

(a) that the progress of the probationer in his studies is satisfactory;

(b) that the probationer gives security to refund the payments in case he fails to join the Indian Forest Service at the end of the period of probation.

11. Conduct.—Every probationer will be required to conduct himself during the period of probation in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary of State, and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in his studies in such a manner as may be required, failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he will be liable to have his name removed from the list of probationers.

12. Appointment and Seniority.—Probationers who obtain a Degree or Diploma in Forestry, and are of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Indian Forest Service, will be appointed Assistant Conservators in the Indian Forest Department. Their position in the Provincial Forest Lists will be determined by the Secretary of State for India in Council on the Report of the Director of Indian Forest Studies; but in making selections for the post of Conservator, officers joining the service in the same year are reckoned as equal in seniority unless the Secretary of State for India in Council shall for special reasons have directed otherwise in any particular case or cases.

They will be allowed at the end of the period of probation to state their preference in respect to the Provinces to which they desire to be allotted; but the distribution will be made to the several Provinces according to the needs of the public service, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India. Officers are, however, at all times liable to be transferred from one Province to another at the pleasure of the Government of India.

13. Riding.—Every probationer, before proceeding to India, will be required to satisfy the Secretary of State, in such manner as may be determined, of his ability to ride.

14. Articles of Agreement.—Within a month of his nomination as Assistant Conservator, each nominee must sign articles of agreement describing the terms and conditions of his appointment; he must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State, and must engage his own passage. Failure to embark at the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

15. Passage Allowance.—An allowance on account of passage to India will be paid to each probationer on appointment to the Indian Forest Service, to the amount of 37*l.* 10*s.* for passage to Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, and 43*l.* for passage to Rangoon.

Note.—The above is the normal rate of passage allowance. In consequence of the surtax of 10 per cent. at present charged by shipping companies in respect of passages to India the above rates of passage allowance have been raised to 41*l.* 5*s.* and 46*l.* 5*s.*, respectively. Should this surtax be removed, these rates will be reduced to those given in paragraph 15.

16. Salary.—An Assistant Conservator of Forests will draw pay at the rate of Rs. 280 a month (equivalent to 304*l.* a year, when the rupee is at 1*s.* 4*d.*) from the date of his reporting his arrival in India.

17. Promotion, Leave, Pension and Provident Fund.—Promotion, leave, and pension will be governed by the Regulations laid down by the Government of India, and applicable to Forest officers, such regulations being subject to any modifications or alterations which may be made in them from time to time by the Government of India, and their interpretation in case of any doubt arising being left to that Government. A copy of the existing regulations can be seen on application at the India Office.

Certain information regarding appointments in the upper controlling staff of the Indian Forest Service, the pay of which has been recently improved, will be found in Appendix II; a summary of information regarding Leave is contained in Appendix III; and regarding Pensions and the Provident Fund in Appendix IV.

APPENDIX I.

LEAVE.

1. The following is a summary of the principal regulations relating to the leave admissible to officers appointed to the Indian Forest Service by the Secretary of State from the United Kingdom.

Long Leave.

2. Furlough and special leave with allowances (see paragraph 6) are admissible to an aggregate maximum amount of six years during an officer's service. The amount of furlough "earned" is one-fourth of an officer's active service, and the amount "due" is that amount less any enjoyed.

3. Furlough without medical certificate can, if due, be generally taken after eight years' active service, and again after intervals of not less than three years' continuous service. It is limited to two years at a time.

4. Furlough on medical certificate may be granted (a) to an officer who has rendered three years' continuous service, for not more than two years, but capable of extension up to three years; and (b) to an officer who has not rendered three years' continuous service, up to one year in any case, and up to such longer period, if any (but not exceeding two years in all), as the officer may have furlough "due" to him.

5. The allowances admissible during furlough are:—

(1) During the first two years of furlough without medical certificate and during so much of furlough with medical certificate as may be "due"—half average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.

(2) After the expiration of the period for which the foregoing allowances are admissible—one quarter of average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.

6. Special leave may be granted at any time for not more than six months, with intervals of six years' service; allowances, calculated as during furlough, are given during the first six months only, whether taken in one or more instalments.

Short Leave.

7. Privilege leave is a holiday which may be granted to the extent of one-eleventh part of the time that an officer has been on duty without interruption; and it may be accumulated up to three months earned by 33 months' duty. During privilege leave, the officer retains a lien on his appointment, and receives the salary which he would have received if on duty. An interval of not less than six months must elapse between two periods of absence on privilege leave.

Privilege leave may be prefixed to furlough, special leave, or extraordinary leave without allowances. The whole period of leave thus taken in combination is known as combined leave. Combined leave may not be granted for a period of less duration than six months, nor, except on medical certificate, may it be extended beyond two years.

8. Subsidiary leave in India for a minimum of 10 days, usually with half average salary, is granted to an officer proceeding on or returning from leave out of India, or on retirement, to enable him to reach the port of embarkation or to rejoin his appointment. It is admissible only at the end and not at the beginning of combined leave.

9. Short leave is also granted to enable officers to appear at examinations, etc.

10. Extraordinary leave without allowances may be granted in case of necessity, and, except in certain specified cases, only when no other kind of leave is by rule admissible. It may be granted in continuation of other leave.

General Rules.

11. Leave of absence, whether on furlough or on privilege leave, can never be claimed as of right, and is given or refused at the discretion of Government.

12. After five years' continuous absence from duty, an officer is considered to be out of the employment of Government.

13. When leave allowances other than privilege leave pay are paid at the Home Treasury, or in a Colony where the standard of currency is gold, rupees are converted into sterling at the rate of exchange fixed for the time being for the adjustment of financial transactions between the Imperial and Indian Treasuries, unless any other rate has been exceptionally authorised. But for the present the rate of conversion is subject to a minimum of 1*s.* 6*d.* to the rupee. Privilege leave pay when issued from the Home Treasury (this is only admissible when privilege leave is combined with other leave) is converted at 1*s.* 4*d.* to the rupee.

APPENDIX IV.

PENSIONS AND PROVIDENT FUND.

1. The following is a summary of the principal pension rules applicable to officers of the Indian Forest Service appointed by the Secretary of State from the United Kingdom.

An officer of the Indian Forest Service is eligible for a pension on voluntary retirement after completing 20 years' qualifying service or attaining the age of 55 years. If at an earlier date he is compelled to retire from the service through ill-health, not occasioned by irregular or intemperate habits, he becomes eligible for an invalid pension or a gratuity according to the length of his service.

The amount of pension or gratuity is regulated as follows :—

After a service of less than 10 years, an invalid gratuity not exceeding one month's emoluments for each completed year of service.

After a service of not less than 10 years an invalid pension not exceeding the following amounts :—

	Rs.
10	1,000 a year.
12	1,800 „
13	2,200 „
14	2,600 „

Scale of Pension.

Years of completed service.	Sixtieths of average emoluments	Maximum limit of pension.
		Rs.
20 to 24 ...	30	4,000 a year.
25 and above .		5,000 „

Officers who have shown special energy and efficiency during an effective service of three years as Inspector-General of Forests or Conservator may, at the discretion of the Government of India, be allowed an additional pension of Rs. 1,000 a year, subject to the condition that the officer must not retire voluntarily before the completion of a total qualifying service of 28 years.

Subject to certain prescribed conditions, rupee pensions are now issued to pensioners residing in countries where the Indian rupee is not legal tender at the rate of exchange of 1s. 9*d*. the rupee.

2. A General Provident Fund has also been established on the following basis :—

(a) The contribution is compulsory up to 6¼ per cent. on salaries, with voluntary contributions of not more than a further 6¼ per cent. Subscriptions on leave of any kind are optional.

(b) Compound interest on such payments is annually credited by Government to each officer subscribing, the rate being at present 4 per cent. per annum.

(c) The sum which will thus accumulate to the credit of an officer to be his absolute property, to be handed over to him unconditionally on quitting the service; or, in the event of his death before retirement, to his legal representatives.

(d) Other forms of life insurance will, however, if they fulfil certain conditions, be accepted in lieu of the contributions in (a).

APPENDIX V.

GENERAL PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS.

Note.—These Regulations are published for the convenience of candidates and in order to enable them to ascertain the probability of their coming up to the required physical standard. But it must be clearly understood that the Secretary of State reserves to himself an absolute discretion to reject as unfit any candidate whom he may consider, after hearing the opinion of his medical advisers, to be physically disqualified for the public service; and that his discretion is in no respect limited by these Regulations.

1. A candidate must be in good mental and bodily health, and free from any physical defect likely to interfere with efficient performance of duty.

2. In the examination of candidates the Medical Board will apply the following table of correlation of age, height, and chest girth:—

Age.	Height without shoes	Chest.
		Girth when expanded.	Range of expansion.
	Inches.	Inches.	Inches.
19 to 20	62½ and under 65	35	2
	65 „ 68	35	2
	68 „ 70	35½	2
	70 „ 72	36	2
	72 and upwards	36½	2½
21 and upwards	62½ and under 65	35	2
	65 „ 68	35½	2
	68 „ 70	36	2
	70 „ 72	36½	2½
	72 and upwards	37	2½

3. Measurement of Height.—The candidate will be placed against the standard with his feet together, and the weight thrown on the heels, and not on the toes or outside of the feet. He will stand erect without rigidity, and with the heels, calves, buttocks, and shoulders touching the standard; the chin will be depressed to bring the vertex of the head level under the horizontal bar, and the height will be noted in parts of an inch to eighths. No fixed limit of height is imposed.

4. Measurement of Chest.—The candidate will be made to stand erect with his feet together, and to raise his hands above his head. The tape will be carefully adjusted round the chest, the posterior upper edge touching the inferior angles of the shoulder-blades, and its anterior lower edge the upper part of the nipples. The arms will then be lowered to hang loosely by the sides, and care will be taken that the shoulders are not thrown upwards or backwards so as to displace the tape. The candidate will then be directed to empty his chest of air as much as possible. This is best done by continuous whistling with the lips as long as sound can be produced. The tape is carefully gathered in during the process, and when the minimum measurement is reached it is recorded. The candidate will then be directed to inflate his chest to its utmost capacity. This maximum measurement will likewise be noted. The girth with the chest fully expanded and the range of expansion between the minimum and the maximum will then be recorded.

5. The hearing must be good.

6. The speech without impediment.

7. The teeth in good order, i.e., decayed or broken teeth must be properly stopped or crowned, and deficient teeth replaced by artificial teeth where necessary for effective mastication.

8. The chest must be well formed, the lungs and heart sound.

9. Rupture, hydrocele, varicocele, varicose veins in a severe degree, or other condition likely to cause inefficiency will disqualify a candidate, unless such condition is cured by operation.

10. The limbs, feet, and toes must be well formed and developed, with free and perfect motion of all the joints.

11. A candidate must have no congenital malformation or defect likely to interfere with efficiency.

12. A candidate must not be the subject of chronic skin disease.

13. Evidence of previous acute or chronic disease pointing to an impaired constitution will disqualify.

14. Candidates may, not more than two years before they are qualified to compete for an appointment, undergo a preliminary examination by the Medical Board, which meets at the India Office every Tuesday, under the following conditions :—

(a) Applications must be addressed to the Under-Secretary of State, India Office, Whitehall, London, accompanied by a fee of two guineas, and a statement of the candidate's age.

(b) Candidates must pay their travelling expenses.

(c) Candidates considered to be unfit by the Medical Board at this preliminary examination are not bound to accept its opinion, but may, at their own risk, continue their studies, with the knowledge that they will have to submit themselves for a final medical examination by the Medical Board, prior to their apppointment.

(d) On the other hand, it must be distinctly understood that the preliminary examination by the Medical Board is held solely for the candidate's information, and that if after that examination he is reported to be apparently fit, he has not on that account any claim to be accepted as physically fit when he presents himself for the final Medical Examination, upon which alone his acceptance or rejection will depend. Candidates may be considered fit for the Service at the preliminary examination, but may be found at the final examination to be unfit, either on account of some physical defect which did not exist or passed undetected at the preliminary examination, or for other reasons.

REGULATIONS AS TO THE STANDARD OF VISION FOR THE INDIAN FOREST SERVICE.

1. If myopia in one or both eyes exists, a candidate may be passed, provided the ametropia does not exceed 2·5 D, and if with correcting glasses, not exceeding 2·5 D, the acuteness of vision in one eye equal $\frac{6}{9}$ and in the other $\frac{6}{6}$, there being normal range of accommodation with the glasses.

2. Myopic astigmatism does not disqualify a candidate for service, provided the lens or the combined spherical and cylindrical lenses required to correct the error of refraction do not exceed—2·5 D ; the acuteness of vision in one eye when corrected being equal to $\frac{6}{6}$, and in the other eye $\frac{6}{9}$, together with normal range of accommodation with the correcting glasses, there being no evidence of progressive disease in the choroid or retina.

3. A candidate having total hypermetropia not exceeding 4 D is not disqualified, provided the sight in one eye (when under the influence of atropine) equals $\frac{6}{6}$ and in the other eye equals $\frac{6}{9}$ with +4 D or any lower power.

4. Hypermetropic astigmatism does not disqualify a candidate for the service, provided the lens or combined lenses required to cover the error of refraction do not exceed 4 D, and that the sight of one eye equals $\frac{6}{6}$ and of the other $\frac{6}{9}$ with or without such lens or lenses.

5. A candidate having a defect of vision arising from nebula of the cornea is disqualified if the sight of one eye be less than $\frac{6}{12}$. In such a case the better eye must be emmetropic. Defects of vision arising from the pathological or other changes in the deeper structures of either eye, which are not referred to in the above rules, may exclude a candidate for admission into the service.

6. Squint, or any morbid condition, subject to the risk of aggravation or recurrence, in either eye, may cause the rejection of a candidate. The existence of imperfection of colour sense will be noted on the candidate's papers.

Ordered that a copy of the foregoing Regulations be forwarded, for information, to the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin, the Inspector-General of Forests, and the Comptroller, India Treasuries. In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads:—

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the borrowing body has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.

It is proposed to levy a water-rate for maintaining the water works at a rate varying from Rs. 6 to Rs. 4 on the annual value of holdings within the area benefited by the water supply. The total income from this source is estimated at Rs. 7,500, to which Rs. 1,000 can be added annually from the general fund to make up Rs. 8,500. The estimated annual cost calculated by the Sanitary Engineer is Rs. 2,800. So Rs. 5,700 can be saved from the total annual income for payment of the proposed and the outstanding debts by half-yearly instalments.

(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the local body.

Some new buildings which are under construction will be completed next year. By this means the revenue of the Municipality will be increased. The water rate will fetch an income of Rs. 7,500 a year.

RESOLUTION.—The pay of Civil Assistant Surgeons in this Province was last revised in the Resolution of the Government of India. Home Department, No. 1142-50, dated the 22nd August 1898, and orders were then passed abolishing supernumerary pay and making other improvements in the prospects of these officers. It was provided that, subject to examinations, their pay should rise after 7 years to Rs. 150 and after 14 years to Rs. 200, and a senior grade, on Rs. 300 limited to 10 per cent. of the number in the service, was sanctioned, promotion to which was by selection and was open to any officer who had completed 14 years' service. In addition, a certain number of Civil Surgeoncies were declared available for Civil Assistant Surgeons in this Province on the retirement of the uncovenanted medical officers who then held them, and the pay to be drawn by the officers so appointed was fixed at Rs. 350—30—500.

2. It was soon felt that these concessions, though valuable to senior officers, did not sufficiently improve the pay in the first years of service. In 1908, memorials were received from Civil Assistant Surgeons urging the necessity of improving the conditions of service and suggesting certain methods of doing so. Orders have since been passed on all the other suggestions, but the principal complaint. viz., the alleged inadequacy of the pay has been under consideration, and the question has now been finally decided by the Government of India and the Secretary of State. In the place of the existing scale of pay a time-scale has been sanctioned, and the two scales are compared below :—

EXISTING SCALE.	NEW SCALE NOW SANCTIONED.

Senior grade, selected from 1st grade without examination, Rs. 300 a month.	Ten per cent. of the total cadre to be in these two grades, which are to be filled by selection on merit alone from officers having more than 14 years' service.	325
Civil Surgeons, selected from senior grade, Rs. 350—30—500.	Civil Surgeons ...	350—30—500

In future, after two years' service, Civil Assistant Surgeons in Bengal will receive an annual increment of Rs. 10 until they reach the pay of Rs. 300 a month ; but the passing of examinations after 7 and 14 years' service is still a condition precedent to the drawing of any further increment. Above the pay of Rs. 300, there will be two grades on Rs. 325 and Rs. 350, ordinarily limited to 10 per cent. of the service and filled by selection from all officers who have completed 14 years' service. In addition, the appointments to Civil Surgeoncies, eventually seven in number in the Province, as at present constituted, on a pay of Rs. 350—30—500 will still be open to members of the service.

3. These orders will have effect from the 1st April 1912.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals and the Accountant-General, Bengal, for information and guidance ; and to all Commissioners of Divisions and all Heads of Departments, and to the other Departments of this Government, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

H. L. STEPHENSON,

Offg Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

SECOND FORECAST OF THE SPRING OILSEED CROP OF BENGAL, 1911-12.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10 the area under linseed, rape and mustard in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 23·4 and 12·4 per cent. of the total area under these crops in British India.]

Explanatory.—This forecast deals with all kinds of oilseeds, except sesamum for which four separate forecasts are prepared.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the different kinds of oilseeds, excepting til, is estimated at 2,137,400 acres against 2,080,900 acres of last year. The increase is due to favourable weather during the sowing season.

Character of the season and condition of the crops.—Oilseeds are grown chiefly in Bihar and also in the Presidency and Chota Nagpur Divisions. The rainfall in September and October was general and sufficient for sowings of the crops in normal time. Sowings were somewhat late in parts of Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly, the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Darbhanga, Purnea and Darjeeling. The rainfall in November was general over the Province, the fall being in excess of the normal in Bihar and in Chota Nagpur, but below normal in Orissa and most districts of Lower Bengal. The rainfall in January was below the normal in all districts, except in Champaran where it was in slight excess. Prospects of the crops are generally reported to be good.

According to the estimates of the District Officers the total outturn of the different kinds of oilseeds (excepting til) for the whole Province works out to 91 per cent. of the normal. But in view of the favourable weather conditions, I think that the outturn has been underestimated in some districts, and estimate that the total crop will be not less than 100 per cent. of the normal.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

SECOND FORECAST OF THE WHEAT CROP OF BENGAL, 1911-12.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10 area under wheat in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 4·7 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage (a) in British India, and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1909-10, averaged (a) 40·8 per cent. and (b) 14·3 per cent., respectively.]

Character of the season.—Wheat is cultivated chiefly in Bihar and also in Nadia, Murshidabad, Hazaribagh and Palamau. The rainfall in September and October was general and sufficient for sowings of the crop in normal time. Sowings were somewhat late in parts of Saran, Champaran and Darbhanga on account of the heavy rainfall in the sowing season. The rainfall in November was general over the Province, the fall being in excess of the normal in Bihar and especially in Chota Nagpur, but below normal in Orissa and most districts of Lower Bengal. A dry December followed. The rainfall in January was below the normal in all districts, except in Champaran where it was in slight excess. The season has been favourable, and prospects of the crop are reported to be good.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the crop this year is estimated at 1,340,100 acres against 1,382,500 acres of last year.

Outturn.—The estimated percentage outturn in the 15 districts where the crop is most important is as follows:—Saran 125 per cent., Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Bhagalpur 108 per cent., Patna, Gaya, Darbhanga, Hazaribagh and Palamau 100 per cent., Shahabad and Sonthal Parganas 92 per cent., Nadia and Murshidabad 83 per cent, Monghyr 77 per cent., Purnea 75 per cent.

According to the estimates of the District Officers the outturn for the whole Province works out to 97 per cent. of the normal. But in view of the favourable weather conditions, it appears that the outturn has been underestimated in some districts, and I think that the crop will be not less than 100 per cent.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

The date of sowing was late owing to flood. Increase in the area sown as compared with that of last year is due to the fact that wheat has taken the place of autumn rice and other bhadoi crops, as well as winter rice that was destroyed by the flood. Owing to want of timely rainfall, the normal crop was not expected. As sowings were not complete when the preliminary forecast was submitted, the area now reported in column 6 is greater than what was put down in column 4 of the first forecast.

Papers No. 8.—Letter, dated the 1st January, 1912, from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division (with enclosure), containing opinions on the provisions of the Bill.

Papers No. 9.—(1) Memorial, dated the 9th January, 1912, from the Hon'ble Sir Bijay Chand Mahtab, K.C.S.I., K.C.I.E., I.O.M., Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, regarding the Orissa Tenancy Bill, 1911.

(2) Letter, dated the 24th January, 1912, from the Hon'ble Raja Rajendra Narayan Bhanja Deo, forwarding a memorial regarding the Orissa Tenancy Bill, 1911.

(3) Memorial, dated the 16th January, 1912, from Raja Kristo Dass Law and others, regarding the Orissa Tenancy Bill.

Paper No. 10.—Note, dated the 20th February 1912, by the Hon'ble Mr. H. McPherson regarding the status of Chandnadars in Orissa.

2. Clause 4—Classes of tenants.—We have added to the classes of tenants enumerated in this clause the holders of homestead land who have been recorded in the Revenue Settlement as chandnadars, and we have made consequential amendments, wherever necessary, in other clauses of the Bill. The reasons for this alteration have been fully explained in Paper No. 10.

3. Clause 5—Definition of raiyat.—We have added to sub-clause (4) an explanation which is based upon the rulings reported in XV Calcutta Weekly Notes, pages 218 and 897.

4. Clauses 11 and 12—Permanent tenures.—We have made these provisions generally applicable by cutting out the words 'in a permanently-settled area,' and we have added, in Clause 12, a proviso to safeguard the rights of landlords in respect of the special classes of tenures which are resumable by contract or custom or which, according to local custom, are not transferable without their landlords' consent. Such resumable tenures are reported to exist in the permanently-settled estates of Orissa, and it appears from the Orissa Settlement Report of Mr. Maddox that sarbarakari tenures in the temporarily-settled estates were not, at the date of the report, transferable without their landlords' consent.

Clauses 13-16.—Transfer of tenures.

5. We have entirely recast these clauses. Clauses 13A, 13B and 13C have been substituted for Clauses 13, 14 and 15, while Clause 16 has been omitted, as it is completely covered by Clause 91 as revised. Transfers by succession have been dealt with in new Clause 13A, which extends to all classes of tenures. The fee payable on the registration of such transfers has been fixed, and provision has been made for automatic registration through the Collector in the event of the landlord refusing to register. Transfers other than by succession have been dealt with in Clause 13B, which applies to all tenures that are known to be transferable without the landlord's consent, and in Clause 13C, which applies to all other classes of tenures. In the former case, the fees originally proposed have been retained and provision has been made for automatic registration through the Collector. In the latter case, the fees originally proposed have been slightly modified and provision has been made for reference to the Collector, who may order registration if satisfied by inquiry that a right of transfer exists.

The provisions of the original clauses, regarding the effect of non-registration, have been retained and repeated in all three of the new clauses.

Clause 17.—Raiyats holding at fixed rates.

6. The new proviso to Clause 12, regarding permanent tenures which are resumable by the landlord or not transferable without his consent, has been repeated here, in respect of raiyati holdings at fixed rates.

Clause 19.—Presumption of occupancy-rights.

7. We have added the words 'or under any other law' after the words 'in any proceeding under this Act,' in sub-clause (7), in order to make it clear that the presumption applies in all suits affecting raiyats in their relations with their landlords. This was the intention of the legislature, but it has been obscured by the recent rulings reported in the Calcutta Weekly Notes XIV, pages 335 and 470. A similar addition has been made in sub-clause (2) of clause 52 for analogous reasons.

New Clause 20A.—Acquisition of occupany-rights in areas that are not included in villages.

8. It has been brought to our notice that the Bengal Tenancy Act is defective in that it fails to provide for the acquisition of occupancy-rights in areas that are not included in villages as defined in section 3 (10) of that Act. The omission was probably due to the fact that the whole of Bengal was supposed to have been covered by the operations of the Revenue Survey and to have been included in Revenue Survey villages. It now appears that areas not included in Revenue Survey villages do exist and that there are such areas in some of the permanently-settled estates of Orissa [vide the proviso to sub-clause (2) of new Clause 54A]. The provisions of sections 6 and 7 of Act X of 1859, which are not confined in their application to villages, have been repeated in new Clause 20A to safeguard the occupancy-rights of raiyats in such areas. So far as Orissa is concerned, the new clause is not an innovation, as Act X of 1859 is still in force in Orissa in respect of these areas.

Clause 21.

9. Sub-clause (2), which deals with the acquisition of occupancy-rights by co-sharer landlords, has been replaced by new sub-clauses (2a) and (2b) taken from section 21 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as amended by the Eastern Bengal and Assam Act No. I of 1908. This alteration, while not affecting the legal rights of co-sharer landlords, who have acquired occupancy holdings, clears up many difficulties of record and of rent recovery and enhancement, which are caused by the Bengal version of the same section. Sub-clause (2c), which deals with the disabilities of farmers and other persons who intervene temporarily between the landlord and the raiyat, has been amplified on the lines of the corresponding sub-section [sub-section 20 (3)] of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908, to cover mortgagees and persons who hold such temporary interests jointly with others.

New Clause 25 A.—Transfer of occupancy holdings.

10. This is an important addition to the Bill. The transfer of occupancy holdings was left by the Bill, as it originally stood, to be governed by custom or usage, the only reference to the subject being contained in illustration (1) of Clause 246, which ran as follows:—

"(1) A usage under which a raiyat is entitled to sell his holding without the consent of his landlord is not inconsistent with, and is not expressly or by necessary implication modified or abolished by, the provisions of this Act. That usage, accordingly, wherever it may exist, will not be affected by this Act."

The results of the Revision Settlement, which is now in progress in Orissa, show that, since the last Revenue Settlement, occupancy holdings have been transferred extensively, both in whole and in part, throughout the temporarily-settled area, that the transferees have been freely recognised by landlords on payment of mutation fees, that the mutation fee has been almost universally a sum equal to one-fourth of the consideration money, and that the transfers have taken place to a very preponderating extent amongst the raiyats themselves.

11. We think that it will be a great advantage, both to landlord and tenant, to recognise the existing practice and to fix, in accordance with it, a maximum fee which will prevent exceptional landlords from demanding higher fees than the ordinary landlord, and thus preying on the necessities of their tenants, whose occupancy holdings would thereby be deprived of much of their value. A right of appeal to the Collector, against the refusal of a landlord to accept the ordinary mutation fee, is provided, and the Collector may order registration, if satisfied that the right of transfer exists by custom and that there is no other good and sufficient cause to refuse recognition to the transfer. The expression "good and sufficient cause" has been so defined as to discourage transfers in favour of non-agriculturists and to keep the exercise of the right as far as possible within the limits of the village and adjoining villages. It has been reported that the right of transfer, without the consent of the landlord, does not exist within certain of the permanently-settled estates of Orissa. The clause has been so drafted as to safeguard the rights of the proprietors of such estates.

Clause 41.—Commutation of produce rents.

12. We have amended the language of sub-clause (6) dealing with the exceptional cases in which the effect of commutation on the income of the landlord is to be especially considered, but have not altered the intention of the original sub-clause. We have modified the appeal provisions, which, as they stand in the Bengal Tenancy Act, have given rise to difficulty of interpretation, and, following the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, have left it to the Local Government to prescribe the course of appeal by rules under the Act.

Clause 49.—Bar to occupancy-rights.

13. We have added to the existing classes of land, in which occupancy-rights may be barred by special arrangement, land belonging to Government or to any local authority which is used for public works. The Bengal Tenancy Act extends this privilege only to such land as has been acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. In consequence, much difficulty is experienced in managing the side lands of public roads and embankments, which have been acquired otherwise than under that Act. These are of peculiar importance in Orissa.

Clause 50.—Rents of under-raiyats.

14. We have substituted, for the provisions of the original sub-section (2), which dealt with the rents recoverable by bajiaftidar-raiyats from their under-raiyats, a new proviso which it is believed will be more favourable to bajiaftidar-raiyats and at the same time more equitable.

Clause 51.—Ejectment of under-raiyats.

15. We have revised sub-clause (b), so as to enable the landlord of an under-raiyat to eject him at the end of the agricultural year (that is, about the middle of April), if he has served on him a notice to quit not less than six months before (that is, before the middle of the preceding November). This amount of notice is sufficient to tide the under-raiyat over the cultivating season. Under the corresponding section 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the superior raiyat could not obtain possession on less than twelve months' notice.

New Clause 54 A.—Reclamation of waste land.

16. We have embodied in this clause the principle that, when a raiyat is found to have been cultivating for several years land which was formerly waste land, he shall be deemed to have obtained his landlord's consent and be entitled to retain possession of the land on payment of a fair and equitable rent. This is a principle of common equity which has been recognised in the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908 [vide section 64, sub-section (3)]. It had already been embodied in the present Bill, but was given a place in clause 148 of Chapter XII, which deals with the maintenance of records and is permissive only. In Clause 148, the presumption of consent was proposed to be attached to two years' cultivation, and this period has been retained in Chapter XII, as being suitable of application to areas in which maps and records are revised and brought up to date at regular intervals. So far as the principle is applicable to areas that do not fall under the scope of Chapter XII, it is proposed that the period of cultivation should be four years and not two years. There is a further proviso that the section shall not apply to certain tracts of waste land, which are reported to exist in some of the permanently-settled estates of Orissa, and to be excluded from villages as defined in sub-clause (26) of clause 3 of the Bill. To these tracts the ordinary twelve years' rule will apply.

Clause 55.—Instalments of rent.

17. We have accepted the recommendation of local bodies and local officers that, subject to agreement and usage, money rents should be payable in two equal instalments falling due on the last day of each half of the agricultural year, and we have added a provision which will make it possible for the courts to decide when a produce-rent shall be deemed to have fallen due.

Clause 60.—Penalties for withholding rent receipts.

18. We have restored the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act, limiting the time within which the Collector may take action under this clause, and we have provided that there shall be only one appeal from orders passed under the clause.

Clauses 63-65.—Deposit of rent.

19. We have cut out the provisions for the deposit of produce-rents, as we anticipate that it would be difficult for the local officers to work them, and we think that there is sufficient safeguard for the payers of produce-rent in the special provisions of clauses 71 to 74. We have limited the application of the deposit clauses to rents that have fallen due and to duly registered tenants. We have also simplified the procedure of the Court for the receipt and payment of deposited rents.

Clause 71.—Recovery of produce-rents.

20. We have made it clear that the special provisions of this clause apply to all forms of produce-rent, and we have arranged for the recovery of produce-rents that may have fallen due under the existing law at the date of the commencement of the Act.

Clause 87.—Acquisition of holdings by landlord for special purposes.

21. We have extended the scope of this clause slightly in order to provide for additional purposes of a public or semi-public nature, and we have made provision for delivery of possession, on the model of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act [section 50, sub-section (2)].

Clause 90.—Abandonment of holding.

22. We have provided for the case of a non-resident raiyat abandoning his holding.

Clauses 96-103.—Common Manager.

23. We have considered the suggestions of local bodies and local officers for improving the efficiency of common management, and, in accordance with their recommendations, we have modified the provisions of Clause 101, so as to strengthen the hands of the common manager and prevent mischievous interference by co-sharers with the objects of management. We have also provided a new Clause 102A for the supervision and control of the work of the Collector, under these clauses, by the Commissioner.

Clauses 103A-103G.—Communal rights.

24. The clauses dealing with communal rights, which were separately circulated, have now been incorporated in the Bill. We have modified them slightly so as to make it clear that it is the communal rights rather than the lands themselves which are placed under the protection of the Collector. We have also made two important additions to the clauses. The first, contained in clause 103D, empowers the Collector to remove from the communal (sarbasadharan) record lands that appear to him to have been wrongly included in it. The second, contained in Clause 103G, removes from the scope of the chapter the permanently-settled estates of Orissa, until such time as any permanently-settled proprietor may himself apply to have his estate brought under it. The justification for this exception is that, up to date, no record of communal rights has been prepared for the permanently-settled estates, save in a comparatively small area, and that, in other respects, there has been less interference by the local officers between landlord and tenant with regard to questions of this nature in permanently-settled estates than in temporarily-settled estates.

Record of rights and settlement of rents.

25. Chapter XI, as it stands in the Bill, has been copied almost word for word from the corresponding Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act. We have left it untouched, except in the following particulars, where amendments have been proposed to meet practical difficulties that have arisen in the working of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act:—

Clause 118.

26. An addition has been made to sub-clause (9) of this clause, which will enable the final orders or decrees of the Civil Court to be incorporated with the record, in the same manner as orders passed after final publication on applications and suits under sections 105 and 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act are now incorporated with the record under section 107 of that Act [vide the corresponding Clauses 120, 122 and 125 of the present Bill].

Clause 120.

27. We propose that the period of limitation for filing applications for the settlement of fair rents should be increased from two months to three months. Three months is the period of limitation for the filing of suits under Clause 122. It is inconvenient, both to parties and to settlement officers, to have to keep in mind two different dates of limitation, and the distinction serves no useful purpose. The proprietors of large estates will welcome the extension of time under this clause, as it is difficult for them in major settlement operations to get all their applications ready within two months. The provisions of section 105 A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, repeated in Clause 121 of the Bill, have also caused a certain amount of overlapping between fair rent settlement work and the disposal of disputes regarding the accuracy of the record. This makes it desirable that the period of limitation should be the same in both clauses.

Clause 122.

29. It was the intention of the legislature, by the corresponding section 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, to allow a right of objection on every question of right, title, interest or possession connected with any entry in the published record or omission therefrom, but as regards disputes arising between landlords of the same or neighbouring estates, the effect of the ruling reported in XII, Calcutta Weekly Notes, 8, which has been followed in XV, Calcutta Weekly Notes, 974-6, has been to exclude questions of title, and to confine the scope of section 106 suits to questions of possession. We have amended Clause 122, so as to make it clear that no such limitation is intended by the legislature. It is open to interested parties either to file a plaint under Clause 122 or to sue in the Civil Court, if they wish to contest the accuracy of the published record. There seems to be no reason why the suit under Clause 122 should not cover the whole ground of dispute.

Clause 123.

30. We propose to make an addition to this clause, whereby it will be possible for the Court which disposes of an application under Clause 120, or a suit under Clause 122, to allow the amendment of the application or suit by the addition of parties, or otherwise, at any time during the hearing of the same. The object of this addition is to meet a practical difficulty. The period of limitation under sections 105 and 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is necessarily short, because settlement operations cannot be conducted with economy unless the proceedings are more or less continuous. It thus happens that, when applications and suits under these sections are filed in large numbers by the bigger proprietors, mistakes are made in the joinder of parties and in other respects. These are detected when the cases come on for hearing, but many of them cannot be legally corrected as the law now stands, and cases have to be dismissed to the loss and hardship of the parties.

Clause 148.—Land Records.

31. We have revised this clause so as to bring it into general conformity with the provisions of new Clause 54 A (vide paragraph 16 above), but have retained the two years' limitation which was originally proposed in respect of reclaimed lands comprised in temporarily-settled estates that may be brought under the scope of the Chapter.

New Clauses 150A and 150B.

32. We have substituted for Clause 150 two new Clauses 150A and 150B which enable the final framing of the land records to be made immediately after the process of publication, and provide for the presentation and disposal of formal objections after final publication. The results of these objections will be incorporated in the finally-framed record, and the whole will have that presumption of correctness which is provided by Clause 151. We understand that these changes have been proved to be necessary by the experience gained in the experimental work of maintenance which is now being carried on in Orissa.

Clause 162.—Proprietors' private lands.

Clause 163.

34. We have recast this clause so as to make it clear that its provisions apply to temporarily-settled estates only, and that identity of record as nijchas in the last Land Revenue Settlement and in the pending Revision Settlement will be accepted as sufficient proof that a plot is entitled to be treated as private land.

Clause 213.—Appeals.

35. We have made important amendments in this clause with the result that the existing system of appeal is practically restored. The changes originally proposed in the Bill have excited considerable local opposition, and there do not appear to the Committee or to the Commissioner, who has been consulted in the matter, to be sufficient compensating advantages. The number of appeals to the District Judge under the existing law is reported to be moderate, and it therefore seems unnecessary to raise the Collector's appellate jurisdiction from Rs. 100 to Rs. 500. The change would practically destroy the right of appeal to the District Judge. The same limit, moreover, of Rs. 100 is fixed in the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908. Nor does there appear to be sufficient occasion for the appointment of officers specially empowered to pass final orders up to a limit of Rs. 50, or for the bifurcation of appeal proposed in sub-clauses (3) and (4) of the clause as originally drafted.

Schedule IV.—Limitation.

36. We have provided a period of limitation for suits of the class described in sub-clause (b) of clause 202. Such suits have a special period of limitation under section 33 of the Bengal Rent Act, 1859, and under section 236 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908. We have extended the period from one year to two years, and have abandoned the proviso regarding fraud as it has been found useless in actual practice.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE BABU JANAKINATH BOSE.

IN my opinion Chapter XII should be deleted from the Bill.

JANAKINATH BOSE,

Member of the Bengal Legislative Council.

CALCUTTA;

The 27th February 1912.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, K.C.S.I., K.C.I.E., I.O.M., MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN.

I SIGN the Report subject to my dissent in respect of the following provisions:—

Scope and extent of the Act.

2. I dissent from the view taken by the Government in respect of the scope and extent of this Act. In my opinion, it cannot be and should not be enforced in the Treaty estates, as the Government did not reserve its right to legislate in such areas when it entered into Treaty-Engagements with the proprietors thereof. I need not repeat the arguments which I have adduced in support of my view, as they have already been incorporated in Paper No. 9; but, I wish it to be distinctly understood that all the suggestions that I have made and all the amendments that I have proposed and which have been accepted, were for the purpose of making the agrarian law as perfect as possible, which as a Member of the Council, it was my duty to see to, and for the interest of the general body of the landlords apart from all personal considerations. It is on these very considerations that I have assented to the other clauses of the Bill as being of necessity in a complete agrarian Code. I do not thereby yield the rights which I have claimed in my memorial, and I am still of opinion that the provisions of this Act cannot apply to the Killajat estates dealt with in section 35 of Regulation XII of 1805. My association with the Select Committee and all that I have done as a member of that Committee shall not therefere be so construed as to prevent me from referring this matter of the status of Killajat estates in a Court of Justice should I so wish to do.

Clause 25A.

3. I differ from the Committee in the matter of inserting a new clause 25A in the Bill. As, in the absence of a custom or usage to the contrary, occupancy holdings are not transferable, it would have been better to leave such transfers to be decided under clause 246, as in the Bengal Tenancy Act, than to have made any express provision for them. It constitutes a departure from the principle hitherto followed and I am afraid that an express provision for such transfers will, in course of time, have the effect of making these holdings generally transferable by shifting onus of proof from the raiyat to the landlord. I further hold that the suits instituted in the Civil Courts should be absolutely independent of the suits decided in the Revenue Courts; and the discretion of the Civil Court Judge should not be fettered by compelling him under sub-clause (5), of clause 25A, to presume the finding of the Collector to be correct. VIII of 1885.

Clause 90.

4. In view of the rulings of the Hon'ble the High Court in the case of Jamir Ghazi vs. Gonai Mondal (reported in 12 W.R., page 110) and in the case of Damri Sheikh vs. Bisweswar Lal (reported in 13 W.R., page 291), I consider some protection should be offered to the landlord who would enter on a holding under sub-clause (4), of clause 90 so that he may not be considered a criminal trespasser against a sub-lessee in possession.

Chapter XII, clause 143 (1) (a).

5. I consider Chapter XII to be quite unnecessary as entailing an amount of expenditure and trouble which will not sufficiently repay. In my opinion it should be expunged altogether, or if it has to be retained at all, the provision in clause 143 sub-clause (1) (a) for framing a revised edition of the record-of-rights every year should be modified. The expense of such a measure will be prohibitive, and it will cause needless harassment to all people—landlords and tenants alike. If, therefore, the Government considers it indispensably necessary to frame such revised editions of the record-of-rights, it should reserve power to do so at an interval of 20 years or 15 years at the earliest.

Clause 163.

6. I do not agree with the proposal of the Select Committee to alter clause 163 of the Bill as they have done. I do not find any reason why the permanently-settled estates should be deprived of the benefit of this clause. There are large areas of land known as nij-chas lands in many of the permanently-settled estates which are nothing but the proprietors' private lands, so there is no reason why a Revenue Officer should not record them as such. I, therefore, prefer the clause as it stood in the Bill to the clause as amended by the Select Committee.

Clause 245.

7. In view of the judgment of the Hon'ble High Court delivered in a case reported in 10 C. W. N., page 944, which lays down that the incidents of the homestead of a raiyat shall, subject to local custom or usage, be regulated by the incidents of his holding, even though the landlords of the holding and homestead are different or they are situated in different villages, I consider it necessary to make some provision to counteract the effect of this ruling so that the clause may be applicable only to the resident raiyats and to those raiyats who hold the homestead and the holding under one and the same landlord: for, it is unreasonable to hold that the incidents of a homestead at Kanika shall be regulated by the incidents of a holding at Balasore.

The 29th February, 1912. BURDWAN.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE BABU HRISHIKESH LAHA.

I DO not approve of the Bill as a whole, and strongly object to the many material changes which it proposes to make in the substantive law in respect of the rights in land. The Bill has undergone material alterations at the hands of the Select Committee, but its cardinal principles remain unchanged. The position of the zamindars has been made worse than it was before, by the introduction of communal rights in land, and in many respects even-handed justice has not been done between the zamindars and the tenants. I do not propose to discuss all the contentious clauses of the Bill, but shall generally touch upon those which will materially affect the interests of the zamindars as a whole.

Revenue Courts.

2. Sub-clause (4) of clause 3.—Though a Deputy Collector may be empowered by the Collector, with the approval of the Commissioner, to discharge all the functions of the Collector, yet it is nowhere provided that an inexperienced Deputy Collector should not be appointed, but that only officers who by their training and experience could take a comprehensive and equitable view of things should be entrusted with the functions of the Collector. In view of the fact that revenue-officers are merely executive or administrative officers and have no judicial training, it will lead to failure of justice if the law does not clearly provide that really experienced officers should be appointed for the trial of cases under this Bill. The Bill should also have contained a clause to the effect that these officers should hold their post in the head-quarters either of the district or of the sub-division, as it is a matter of common knowledge that parties are made to attend from camp to camp while the officers are on tour, to the great inconvenience of the parties and their witnesses, both physically and pecuniarily. It has proved a prolific source of hardship and consequent dissatisfaction among the people. The cry against such a system is great, and, surely, this is not the means of attaining speedy justice.

Proprietor's Private Lands.

3. In clause 49 it is stated that "a proprietor's private lands when they are held by a tenant on a lease for a term of years, or on a lease from year to year" should be exempted from the right of occupancy; but what would be the position of the proprietor if his land were held by a tenant on a verbal contract or by a raiyat who refused to execute a lease? It is not the intention of the Bill to convert such lands into occupancy-holdings, but the raiyats who cultivate such lands under a verbal contract for more than 12 years can easily claim under the commutation clauses to have the produce-rent commuted to a money-rent, and such procedure would involve the landlord into litigation and would seriously affect his income. If, as stated in paragraph 58 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons, the total area of nij chas and nij-jote land in temporarily-settled estates which are now in the khas possession of proprietors be fixed and no further extension be granted in future, surely the proprietors are entitled to have their rights protected in every possible way, as the substantial concessions which are said to have been given would be lost to the landlords if their khas lands were converted into raiyati lands, and the income of the landlords would thereby be considerably reduced. In this way what are now given to them as concessions cannot but be viewed by them in the light of a sop to pacify their mind.

4. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill remarked in his speech in Council that "nij-jote or privileged embraced the lands which had come down to them as demesne-lands from the previous settlements, and nij-chas or non-privileged included all lands which did not fall under the first category, such as lands which had been abandoned by raiyats in the great Orissa famine of 1886, or had been acquired by purchase from raiyats." This artificial distinction between nij-chas and nij-jote is not ordinarily known to the proprietors, and as such it is necessary that it should be clearly defined in the Bill. But I may be allowed to ask if a landlord manages to get in the record of-rights all his land in the names of his relatives and friends, how can the law prevent him from reaping the advantages of khamar or nij-jote.

Transfer of a tenure or portion of a tenure.

5. Clause 13 A deals with the transfer of a tenure or portion of a tenure by succession, but the method proposed to be adopted does not allow the landlord an opportunity to question the right of the so-called successor, even if he has a bonâ fide doubt that he is not the real successor. Any person claiming as successor can deposit the requisite fees, and have his name registered in the sheristá of the landlord. This omission must be rectified by providing for the Collector to serve a notice upon the landlord.

6. Clause 13 C provides that in case of a sale of a tenure, 25 per cent. of the consideration-money should be paid as the fee of the landlord for registration of the transfer of the tenure. There would have been no objection if the clause provided some means for putting down the actual market value in the deed of sale, but the clause as it stands would lead to collusion and fraud, as in order to defraud the landlord of his just dues and the Government of its legitimate stamp duties and registration fees, the real value of the land would be suppressed and a fictitious value put in the kobala. This is surely to be guarded against, as the clause holds out a high premium to perjury and fraud.

7. Clause 13 C, sub-clause (3) requires that the Collector shall, after giving notice to the landlord, inquire and decide whether the landlord is entitled by custom, or for any other good and sufficient reason, to refuse his consent to the transfer, and if the Collector finds that the landlord is not so entitled, shall declare that the transfer has been duly registered. It is wrong in principle to throw the onus upon the landlord to justify the reason of the refusal. Clause 12, sub-clause (i) declares the transferability of permanent tenures, simply because such a declaration is desirable. Clause 13 B declares which classes of tenure-holders are entitled to transfer their tenures without the consent of the landlord, implying thereby that there are other classes of tenures, of course not permanent, especially tenures situated in temporarily-settled estates, which cannot be transferred without the landlord's consent, though there is no expressed provision to that effect. But clause 13 C, sub-clause (3) directs the Collector to inquire whether the landlord is entitled by custom or any other good reason to refuse his consent to the transfer, assuming thereby as if the tenure-holder is entitled by law to transfer his tenure, though there is no provision in the Bill to make such assumption except as laid down in clauses 12 and 13 B, sub-clause (1), and calls upon the landlord to prove custom to the contrary. If the onus be thus thrown upon the landlord, it will be difficult for him to prove a negative, and he shall consequently be placed in a disadvantageous position. The onus, therefore, should be laid upon the tenure-holder to prove that the tenure is transferable by custom.

8. In drafting clauses 13 A, 13 B, 13 C and 25 A read with clause 91, sufficient consideration has not been given to the interests of the landlord in the matter of the sub-division of a holding. My reasons are—

(i) Where the holding comprises different classes of land, a sub-division of the holding and a proportionate distribution of rent would be productive of serious loss to the landlords where the better classes of land have been transferred, and the inferior ones left in the possession of the old tenant, who, after the transfer, may easily abandon or surrender his holding. In case of such abandonment or surrender, it would be difficult for the landlord to obtain the average rate on which the original holding had been let out.

(ii) It would be difficult for the landlord to realize small dues consequent on such sub-division.

(iii) To realize such small dues, facilities should be given to the landlords in the shape of a certificate process or any other less expensive mode of realization. Unless this is done no sub-division should be allowed.

The Government depends for its revenue upon the punctual payment of rent to the zamindars, and if facilities be not given for the realization of their dues, there is risk in the revenue not being punctually paid or paid at a considerable sacrifice to the landlord.

This transfer or sub-division opens up undoubtedly some room for letting in hostile or objectionable tenants.

Commutation of produce-rents into money-rents.

9. Clause 41 empowers either the raiyat or the landlord to apply for the commutation of produce-rents to money-rents, but as a matter of fact the landlord never applies for such commutation, for he is aware that the crops necessary for the maintenance of himself and his family are in the hands of his tenants who give the produce-rent. The only person interested in making such applications is the raiyat. The poverty of the raiyats generally and a good portion of the landlords is well known. The country, moreover, is subjected to periodical droughts and floods. Under the circumstances it would be advantageous for both the landlords and the tenants that no option should be given to commute the rents in kind to money rents, as the loss of one year may be compensated for by the good outturn of another. If the rent in kind be commuted, it would be impossible for the raiyats to pay it in years of drought and flood. It is distinctly an advantage to the cultivator that, however small the produce of his field in a season of scarcity, he should retain a part of it. On the other hand, a tenant, who is bound to pay a uniform money-rent, finds that in many cases the value of his whole crop is not equal to the landlord's fixed money demand. Viewed in this light, commutation of rents in my opinion must be held to be undesirable as exposing the agricultural population to the rigours of scarcity and famine.

Reclamation of waste lands.

10. Clauses 54A and 148.—It is provided that the consent of the landlord may be inferred if he does not bring a suit against the trespasser within four years from the date of the reclamation of waste lands in a permanently-settled estate, and within two years in a temporarily-settled estate. The general law of limitation gives twelve years' time two bring a suit against him. The periods of limitation as prescribed in the Bill would operate prejudicially against the landlords and may put a premium on wrongful acts. The difficulty of the landlord would be obvious when the trespasser acts in collusion with some of his unscrupulous agents or employés, to keep out all information from the landlord about his occupation It is, therefore, highly desirable and absolutely necessary that the period of limitation for permanently-settled and temporarily-settled estates should be eight and six years, respectively.

Produce-rents.

11. The period of limitation for the recovery of produce-rent as fixed by clause 71, sub-clause (1) is only one year if not paid in time. The curtailment of the period of limitation from the usual three years to one would act very injuriously both upon the landlord and the tenant alike. Why should there be a difference of principle with regard to the period of limitation in the recovery of arrears of produce-rent, it is difficult to understand. Sub-clause (17) of clause 3 defines "rent" to mean "whatever is lawfully payable or deliverable in money or in kind by a tenant to his landlord on account of the use or occupation of the land held by the tenant." By Article 2, Part I of Schedule IV, three years have been prescribed for the recovery of arrears of money-rent, whereas with regard to the recovery of arrears of produce-rent the period of limitation is fixed for one year only. The reason assigned for this difference in paragraph 35 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons is that "the landlord lets the lean years pass and waits for a fat one. He can easily prove the condition of the crops just reaped while evidence as to the previous crops is necessarily weaker, and he expects to induce the Court to decree the rent of all three years at the same rate." The reason does not appear to be cogent nor founded upon any principle. When a person under the law is obliged to do a certain thing, it is incumbent upon him to discharge that obligation. If a tenant under the law is bound to pay his rent either in money or in kind, he must pay that rent without waiting for any demand from his landlord, and it is on this principle that the law awards interest or damage when an arrear is found due from a tenant. It is, therefore, the duty of the tenant who pays produce-rent not to wait till his landlord brings a suit against him for the recovery thereof, but to pay that rent of his own accord when it falls due. If he does not do so, he must take the consequences of law upon himself. This period of limitation would be harassing to the tenant himself by reason of the fact that he is likely to lose the benefit of the sympathy and kindness of the landlord, if he be so inclined, and waits for the payment of the arrears due till a prosperous year, as is always usual with good landlords, and it is needless to mention that the generality of the landlords are good. On the other hand, the landlords also would be harassed by being compelled by law to institute suits against their tenants just after the rent has fallen due. No good landlord, I submit, is blind to the interest and happiness of his tenantry. In fact, rightly understood, the interests of the two are interwoven with each other. A prosperous and contented tenantry is a blessing to the landlord. No one, therefore, would be benefited by this clause, whereas the large amount of process and other fees while swelling the raiyat's liability in suits, in many cases to four or five times the amount of arrears of rent, would go to increase the revenues of Government, the practical effect of the Bill will be to increase litigation to an alarming extent and to place the raiyats at the mercy of pettifogging touts and mukhtears. This clause is also objectionable on the ground that sanja rent, which is a fixed produce-rent, has been included in it and no exception made in its favour.

12. The most objectionable feature of Chapter XA is that lands, which are not communal lands at all and which appertain to the zamindar's own lands, have been included in the sarba sadharan portion of the record-of-rights either by mistake or through negligence as pointed out by the Orissa Association (see page 283 of the Collection of Opinions), and by Babu Raj Kissore Dass, Manager, Jagannath Temple, Puri, in his letter, dated the 13th January, 1912. Hence it is necessary that the zamindar's kabuliyat should be referred to as he is bound to keep intact lands which by his agreement he has bound himself to conserve as communal lands of the village. But to compel a zamindar to set apart a land which was never a communal land before, entered as sarba sadharan land in the record-of-rights by haste, mistake, or neglect of the officers of the Settlement Department, and then to prosecute him under clause 249 of the Bill on the basis of such erroneous entry cannot certainly be justified under any circumstances. It is not denied that communal lands should be preserved; they are necessary for the preservation of health and cattle. But steps should be taken that in the solicitude for the conservation of communal lands, peoples' private lands are not taken on the pretext of their being communal. No doubt, by clause 103 D, the Collector has been empowered to set aside a wrong entry in the sarba sadharan portion of the record-of-rights, but at the outset the zamindar is at a disadvantage, and as experience has shewn, it is difficult for him to set aside an entry once wrongfully made. So the necessity for a reference to the zamindar's kabuliyat would be obvious. The provisions
1860. of the Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure are comprehensive enough to cover any encroachment upon communal rights. Hence Chapter XA is not at all necessary, and the effect of the clauses contained therein would have the effect of putting the landlords and tenants at loggerheads, and the tenants would combine to take as much land as they can from the zamindar on a slight pretext, and their combination would be effective so far as evidence is concerned in a court of justice as against the zamindar's own lands. This chapter in the long run would prove injurious to the interests of the zamindar. However, if it is the object of the legislature to retain it, it must be hedged in with safeguards, so that the law may not be made an instrument for the perpetration of injustice. The sanctity of the law must be preserved before all pretended communal rights.

CHAPTER XII.

13. This chapter should altogether be omitted. It has been inserted in the Bill as has been explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, with a view—

"(a) to protect the rights of those who possess interests in land,

(b) to furnish information which will form the basis of assessments of land-revenue,

(c) to furnish information, when required for administrative purposes, and

(d) to furnish up-to-date agricultural statistics."

If the object of this chapter is to secure contentment, peace and amity, as is clear from the provision (a) mentioned above, by framing a special edition of the record-of-rights annually or periodically, then that object would be defeated. For instead of peace, contentment and security of rights, the enforcement of the clauses contained in this chapter would have the effect of sowing discord between the landlords and tenants and at the same time would stir up all the evil passions which will be kept up and maintained by proceedings and suits in the Revenue, Civil and Criminal Courts. The amins and underlings of the settlement operation, who would be entrusted with the measurement of lands in order to adjust contentious claims and who have been proved by experience to be corrupt, would not fail to take advantage of their position in order to extort money and foment disputes. And this, it should be borne in mind, is to be done annually or periodically. The people of Orissa generally are poor, and most of them have to live upon their own earnings. They have to attend the Provincial Settlement at the end of every 30 years and also the Revisional Settlement within that period, leaving their ordinary avocations and other duties, at the same time expending money by selling or mortgaging their small properties to meet the expenses, and undergoing all sorts of trouble to secure their rights. This is enough to impoverish a province and chase away peace, comfort and contentment from it. But to impose upon them the fresh burden of an annual or periodical land-records would prove simply disastrous. The objects mentioned in the Statement of Objects and Reasons can better be secured by the records-of-rights themselves, if certain safeguards be provided with regard to the giving of information to the officers employed for that purpose in respect of succession, reclamation or transfer, to be noted in the last record-of-rights since their final publication under clause 108, such note being considered as a part of the record, instead of setting up such a huge and cumbrous machinery which is sure to prove an engine of oppression. The very idea of "measurement" to the people of Orissa causes anxiety of a harrowing nature, as it is always associated with all that is troublesome and expensive. Next to life is one's property, which must be maintained by all means. The evils of the maintenance scheme would far outweigh the benefits that are expected to result from it. To let loose the evils of a settlement operation upon a poor but contented people in order to secure information for forming the basis of land-revenue, which can be gleaned from existing materials, would not be justifiable. If, in Bengal, most of the items of information mentioned in the Statement of Objects and Reasons can be secured without having recourse to the system of the maintenance of land-records, those informations may also be gathered without the insertion of this chapter in the Bill. The circumstances of the Punjab and the Central Provinces are quite different from those of Orissa, and what is good law for those provinces need not necessarily be good for Orissa. Another effect of the retention of this chapter in the Bill would be to do away with the finality and authenticity of the record-of-rights, though much time, money and trouble have been expended upon them to bring about a completion. I am strengthened in my opinion by that of the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox, who says that the annual maintenance of records is not necessary for protecting the rights of the people (vide his Report, Volume I, page 357). Orissa wants rest after the Provincial and Revisional Settlements, and some respite should be given to it. It should not again be plunged annually into the whirlpool of troubles, anxieties and expenses.

RESHEE CASE LAW.

The 29th February 1912.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE RAJA RAJENDRA NARAYAN BHANJA DEO.

Clause 3 (11).— The words "permanent settlement" in the Bill ought not to include peshkash and sanad estates for reasons stated at length in the memorials submitted by me and the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraj Bahadur of Burdwan. The wholesale application of the present Bill is entirely unsuitable to the peculiar conditions of these estates. The present Bill requires modifications in many important matters in order that it may be made applicable to the special conditions of these estates.

2. Clauses 3 (15) and 49 (a).—I fully appreciate the intention of Government to end the bitterness and strife and not to allow any further increase in the nijjote area, but the fact should not be overlooked that many landlords, through their ignorance or negligence, let out their nijjote lands without leases or counterpart agreements. In the course of the Revisional Settlement such lands were recorded in the names of the tenants in consequence of the definition of proprietor's private lands and the restrictions in clause 49 to the effect that unless let out for a term of years or from year to year, the lands would cease to be private lands. The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson, in his letter No. 4556, dated 30th November last, while noticing an increase of 25,170 acres, also noticed a decrease of 18,690 acres during the last Revisional Settlement Most of the landlords of Orissa let out their nijchas lands without any lease, in the belief that no occupancy right would accrue in them; they will, under the present Bill, lose the benefit of the concession. It is, I presume, not the intention of Government to deprive them of such lands. In order that the concession may be wholehearted and really effective and beneficial to all, specially the small landholders, the restrictive condition "under leases for a term of years or under leases from year to year" imposed in the definition of clause 3 (15) and in (a) of clause 49 should be removed, for otherwise such landlords would be deprived of their bread-giving lands. The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson observes: "it is an arbitrary concession and arbitrary methods may be followed in giving effect to it."

3. Clause 13C and explanation.—The tenures that are transferable according to local custom are well known They have been enumerated by the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox and have been dealt with in clause 13B. As regards other tenures, especially those created by contract, for instance, for purposes of reclamation, their transferability may be open to question. In such cases it would hardly be fair to require the landlords to prove the negative against the general principle of law, which lays upon the party who relies upon custom, the burden of proving it. The explanation is, in the circumstances, objectionable.

4. Clause 21 (2a) and (2b).—The substituted sub-clause place the co-sharer acquiring occupancy rights either by private purchase or by execution sale at a greater disadvantage than he was under section 22 (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. He was only liable to pay rent to the other co-sharers to the extent of their shares. It was proposed in the Notes on Clauses to consider in Select Committee whether the purchaser of occupancy-rights should still be allowed to continue in possession as a raiyat from the date of sale where the property was subsequently sold for its own arrears of revenue. The Orissa Landholders' Association, therefore, suggested that a proprietor or a co-proprietor purchasing occupancy-rights should be allowed to retain possession of those lands, even after sale of the property or a share of the property on revenue sale, and that they should be treated to some extent like the ex-proprietary tenants in the North-West Provinces, who are allowed to retain possession of their sir lands at concession rates of rent. While no concession in rent was sought for, it was pointed out that the majority of landholders in Orissa being poor, they deserved some indulgence specially when they paid full price for the purchase of the occupancy-rights, there being no reason why they should be treated differently from any other purchaser. While, under the old law, there was some chance of their maintaining possession of such lands even after sale of their estates, they will be deprived of the chance by the substituted sub-clauses which treats them as proprietors, and the occupancy rights purchased by them will thus pass out of their hands when their estates are sold. It is the intention of Government not to allow them to acquire occupancy rights by purchase, but the reason for treating them differently from other purchaser is not indicated. There might be some reason for discouraging acquisition of occupancy-rights by private purchase but a clear distinction ought to be drawn in cases where proprietors or co proprietors are compelled to purchase occupancy-rights in execution sales. In such cases there is no justification for treating them differently from other purchasers. The landlords of Orissa are considerate to their tenants and the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox admits "very occasionally a bad tenant gets sold up, but as a rule the zamindar knows that it is to his interest to keep his raiyat going" (Vide Orissa Settlement Report, Volume I, page 132, paragraph 189.)

5. Clause 25A.—The introduction of this new clause for the first time in the course of consideration of the Bill by the Select Committee is a highly objectionable procedure. In the most advanced Province of Bengal, where both the landlords and the tenants are keenly alive to the protection of their respective rights and interests, it has not yet been thought necessary to introduce any legislative measures to define their rights in respect of such an important question as the transferability of occupancy-rights. This is still governed by custom and local usage and although the Bengal Tenancy Act has, since its introduction, been brought up for amendment on several occasions and a large number of cases have been decided by the High Court, there has yet been no legislation on the subject. In Orissa, occupancy-rights (except in thani lands) have grown up very recently during the last settlement, transfers of such rights have therefore originated very recently and they have been made invariably with the consent of the landlords. In no instance has it been shown that the right of transfer without the landlord's consent has been asserted against the landlord in order to justify the recognition of such right by law. The very fact that there have been numerous transfers with the consent of the landlord would hardly amount in law to establishing the custom of the transferability of occupancy-rights. In many instances the consent of the landlord is obtained even long after registration of the deeds by payment of his salami. There are several instances in which landlords have not only withheld consent but have obtained khas possession by ousting the purchasers. There is therefore not the least justification for the recognition by law of a right which does not exist or which has not even been successfully asserted in any court of law. There has been no such general complaint as yet of any serious abuse of the right of veto on the part of the landlord as to justify the imposition of any restriction on the exercise of such right. This restriction of their rights would not only tend to make the tenants refractory, and the landlords, who are admittedly neither exacting nor oppressive, less sympathetic, but lead to an undesirable tension of feeling between them. Besides, the introduction of such an important measure without giving the people and the public bodies an opportunity of expressing their opinion is hardly constitutional.

VIII of 1885.

The burden of proof of the custom should be distinctly laid on the party who asserts it.

6. The explanation I seems to be wholly unnecessary and misleading. The fact of the landlord charging a fee for giving consent would in no way help the party who alleges a custom of transferability of occupancy-rights without the landlord's consent. The proviso regarding the presumption of the correctness of the Collector's finding is also objectionable, especially when it is subject to revision by the Commissioner.

7. Clause 41.—Almost all the public bodies in Orissa have strongly objected to the retention of this clause on the ground of its unsuitability to the present condition of Orissa. In the Orissa Committee all the non-officia members opposed its retention. Mr. Taylor, while supporting its retention suggested that commutation should not be allowed in special cases, "for instance in the case of grants to religious and charitable bodies, or where, by reason of cast or physical disabilities, the landlord was unable to cultivate with his own hands or where the commutation would cause hardship to the landlord. He would also forbid commutation on any particular lands recorded as zamindar's nijchas in the settlement papers." The Orissa Landholder's Association and the Orissa Association have taken pains to show how the principle of commutation would injuriously affect the interests of both the landlords and the tenants of Orissa For this reason the provision of section 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, relating to commutation, although extended to Orissa in 1896, was not availed of till the Revision Settlement. The Hon'ble Mr. Maddox admits that "most of the money (or rather grain) lending in Orissa is in the hands of zamindars or proprietary tenure-holders, and they are by no means hard creditors* * * and will supply him on the usual terms with the necessary grain even though there be a large accumulated debt. (Settlement Report, Volume I, page 132.) VIII of 1885.

8. The proprietor, sub-proprietor and petty lakhrajdars need more paddy than money not only for their own use, but for payment of labour employed by them, and the labouring classes as well as the village artisans prefer payment in paddy to money wages. The Orissa Landholders' Association has very properly and forcibly pointed out that, "so long as the resources of the country are not developed and industries do not supplement the small margin of income, if any, of the agriculturists and provide other means of support to the labouring and other classes, it is not desirable to introduce the principle of commutation to Orissa, which will have only the following baneful effect, viz., it will greatly contract the already reduced income of the proprietary class, deprive them of the principal means of support, and prevent them from helping the raiyats who are always improvident, in times of bad harvest, and deprive the landless and labouring classes of their means of subsistence." The suggestion of Mr. Taylor was not accepted wholly; "hardship" as a ground for exemption is not included in the clause.

9. The public bodies have also suggested that such cases should not be left to the unfettered discretion of the Revenue officers. Any concession on this most important question, vitally affecting the interests of both landlords and tenants, should be whole-hearted, and, in order to be really effective, should follow the lines suggested by Mr. Taylor.

10. The present Bill allows half the gross produce as legitimate and unobjectionable. It was suggested that, where a landlord contracts for one-fourth of the gross produce as produce-rent, such reduced rent should be protected from commutation. This would be advantageous to the tenants.

11. Clause 54 A.—The objections to the introduction of the new provision relating to transferability of occupancy-rights at a late stage, when the Bill is under consideration by the Select Committee, apply with equal force to the introduction of this new clause. The most serious objectionable feature in this new legislative enactment is that it curtails the statutory period of twelve years during which a landlord is entitled to evict a trespasser cultivating waste lands without his knowledge or permission. Clause 93 allows the landlord to measure lands of his estate once in ten years, and it would be difficult for any landlord to ascertain within this short period the existence of unauthorized cultivation. The landlords in Orissa very rarely withhold their consent, and the curtailment of the period would be detrimental to their interests as it would encourage clandestine cultivation. The practice at present entitles a landlord to realize a salami in the case of cultivation of waste land. When this reclamation is done surreptitiously, the zamindar, by treating the cultivator as a trespasser, not only realizes his rent for past years, but realizes the salami as well. The provision of the present Bill shortens considerably the period during which the zamindar can exercise his right of ejectment. This will increase the percentage of cases in which the timely exercise of the right of ejectment will be avoided by the raiyat (1) by the manufacture of false evidence of the period of cultivation and (2) by intentional attempts to conceal the fact of cultivation.

12. The clause is an inequitable adjustment of the existing rights of zamindar and raiyat as evidenced by prevailing custom. The custom of payment of salami exists, and if anything was wanting to prove it, that was supplemented by the conduct of the settlement officer in helping the zamindar to realize his salami in most cases. The raiyat's right in the land was not recorded in the Revision Settlement till, to the knowledge of the settlement officer, the salami was paid. The present clause is most favourable to the raiyat. He reclaims the land without permission. He is now a trespasser. This clause raises him to the position of a raiyat, and in most cases it will arm him with an occupancy-right against the zamindar, and this he attains in the course of four years; whereas, in the case of any other land, he would have been obliged to wait for 12 years or pay for the right to a vendor. The market-value of this right will be the market-value of other lands in the village with similar rights. It seems inequitable that the legislature should favour so much the conduct of a trespasser. But if this is deemed necessary in the interests of the raiyat, the law should provide safeguards to protect the interests of the zamindar; otherwise it will set a premium on clandestine and dishonest conduct.

13. Clause 60 (3a) (3b.)—There is serious objection to the inquiry being made summary, especially when, under sub-clause (6a), the order of the Collector is subject to appeal before the Commissioner. Clause (6a) will hardly be any safeguard if there be no evidence on record. The Collector might not record sufficient evidence to make the provision of an appeal useful. The provision for summary procedure when there is an appeal is unusual.

14. Clauses 69 and 70.—Formerly damages at 25 per cent. on the amount claimed were invariably decreed in rent cases, but since the passing of the Amending Act I of 1907,[1] courts decreed interest at 12½ per cent. instead of awarding damages, although the law made provision for awarding damages where the defendants, "without reasonable or probable cause, neglected or refused to pay the amount due." The courts awarded interest at 6 per cent. after decree up to realization, although there is no reason why the rate of interest should be reduced for the period after the institution of the suit and after decree. The result is that the defaulting tenant seldom voluntarily pays the decretal amount till it is realized by process of execution. This is inequitable. The majority of the landlords are burdened with heavy lists of arrears. The institution of rent suits and execution of decrees for the realization of arrears involve costs which are not all realized, and these (added to the already heavy cost of collection) stand in the way of landlords seeking the help of the court on a large scale for the realization of rents. The landlords, especially the small landlords, have to put up with the loss due to the rents being barred. They have to pay the increased revenue, and the sunset law forces them to incur debts where they cannot pay on due dates. They have to pay heavy penalties to save their estates from being sold up. To award interest at 12½ per cent. till realization would be some compensation for the loss they have to sustain for the default of the tenants.

15. Clause 71.—The sanja system has this advantage that no share of the straw or other crops has to be paid and the share of the paddy is fixed at less than a half. It presses hard upon the tenant only when the crops are lost or the outturn is poor. It is only the small and absentee landholders who generally prefer and contract for sanja rents. If they are obliged to sue for one year's sanja, the tenant will be at a disadvantage, as his inability to pay in due time is not due to wilful default so much as to loss of crops on account of drought or inundation. The Commissioner recommends its exclusion from the operation of this clause, and the District Judge also thinks that "it will hardly suit the case of sanja rent and would work hardship." While in the case of money-rent, suits for three years' arrears can be instituted, it is not very clear why in the case of sanja rent, which is equivalent to cash rent, a suit for one year only will have to be instituted.

16. Clause 90.—This clause, as it stands at present, leaves open a door to collusion with a view to defraud the zamindar. Under colour of abandonment a tenant may transfer his holding and arrange with the transferee for payment of rent. The clause should not give protection to the parties to such fraud. The words of the clause ought to be altered.

17. The Commissioner of Orissa made some salutary suggestions based on his local knowledge. These have not received due attention, though, on what grounds, it is not known.

CHAPTER XII.

18. Land Records.—All the public bodies and private individuals consulted have very strongly expressed themselves on the introduction of this legislative enactment. The four grounds mentioned in paragraph X of the Statement of Objects and Reasons justifying it have been criticised in detail by the Orissa Landholders' Association. The disastrous effect of the operation of the provisions of this chapter can very well be anticipated from, and gauged by, the results and experiences of the late Revisional Settlement, which have been graphically described in the opinion submitted by the Orissa Landholders' Association.

"Mr. Maddox, however, advocated periodical revision after fifteen years, in order to enable zamindars to apply for settlement of fair rents on payment of cost. It is notorious that the last settlement gave rise to much bitterness and litigation, and both the landlords and tenants were exhausted in the hard struggle, which dragged on for several years after its close, to protect their respective rights and interests. Before they had settled down to enjoy a little rest, the Revisional Settlement re-opened the old sore. Both the landlords and tenants, having learnt by bitter experience how difficult it was to undo the mischief done by the amins at the last settlement, were more alert than before, and money flowed in and swelled the amins' pockets. Brass utensils and silver bracelets were ungrudingly pledged to the profit of village mahajans, and the amins sold their favours to the highest bidder either to make or remove entries. Pilgrim-hunters, cooks, gardeners, coolies, petty traders and small landholders engaged in mills and other different pursuits in Bengal and other parts of the country, all came back to their villages. The village blacksmith left his forge, the carpenter his workshop, the cultivator neglected his fields, and the landlord's agent stopped his collections to crowd about the settlement camps, to dance attendance with witnesses outside the enclosures from day to day from early morning to late at midnight. Any one who has been to a settlement camp could not but be impressed with the painful spectacle of the great surges of human passions. Disputes, such as petty encroachments, removal of fences or the like, which in ordinary village life would have been amicably settled by village elders, were carried to the settlement camps and the feelings were at times so far strained as to end in the commission of grave offences. If the Revisional Settlement, by its procedure, interrupted or suspended all trade, agricultural and industrial pursuits temporarily the maintenance of records, with similar procedure, will tend to their serious dislocation from year to year, as those who have any interest in land will be required to be always on the alert to protect such interests. The Revisional Settlement, undertaken at a huge cost, is nearing completion, and it is not necessary to disturb the country afresh by early or periodical revisional proceedings with a view to maintenance of records. It is admitted by experienced officers that such proceedings tend to increase litigation, and not only disturb the peaceful relation between landlords and tenants, but between tenants and tenants (vide Mr. Maddox's letter at page 135, volume II of his report).

The Orissa Association observes—

"As the whole of Orissa is opposed to the framing of these records, it ought not to be enforced against the wishes of the whole nation, to their irreparable injury. Their arts and pursuits under the peaceful administration of the British Crown should be retained."

In the opinion of the National Society, Balasore, "this chapter ought to be expunged altogether." The District Judge thus observes—

I am opposed to either an annual or triennial maintenance of land records at the present juncture. Apart from the expense it would entail, there is a general feeling in Orissa that a rest is required after the Provincial and Revisional Settlements. There has been a general stirring up; time is required for settling down again. The Revisional Settlement has followed very closely upon the Provincial Settlement, and soon preparations will be commencing for the next Provincial Settlement. One feature of such preparations is the attempt to get possessions of lands so as to be found there when the Settlement Officer arrives, and this gives rise to criminal cases. Riots are few in Orissa, but such cases as I have had before me have all had to do with settlement disputes. * * * We are told that the raiyats would welcome the maintenance of the land records; I would rather say that at the most they are quite indifferent about the subject. The landlords are, of course, opposed to it, owing to the expense and trouble it entails. They long for a rest, and I am sure the rest would be acceptable to the raiyats."

The Commissioner of Orissa observes—

The Puri Bar Association and National Society, Balasore, have expressed themselves strongly against a scheme of maintenance chiefly on the ground of harassment to the people. I have reported separately on this matter in my letter No. 2151R., dated the 23rd November 1911, to the Board of Revenue, and I do not propose to discuss the question further here."

The Honb'le Babu Janakinath Bose requested in Select Committee that this letter might be laid on the table, but the Hon'ble the Chairman was unable, under the rules relating to official correspondence, to comply with this request. It is, however, presumed that the opinion of the Commissioner is adverse to this measure.

19. Thus there is a singular consensus of opinion in opposition to this legislative enactment. It is surprising that such an unpopular and obnoxious legislative measure should be thrust upon the people of Orissa in the teeth of this unanimous protest. Two provisions of the chapter need special mention. They are contained in clauses 148 and 153, and are particularly objectionable.

20. In clause 148 the period of two years during which a landlord should sue to eject a trespasser cultivating waste lands without his knowledge or consent is too short. The reasons have been set forth in the opinions of the Orissa Landholders' Association and under clause 54A above. There should not be two periods—one for the permanently-settled area, and another for the temporarily settled area. There is no valid ground for the curtailment of the statutory period of 12 years.

21. Clause 153 confines appeals only to orders of the Revenue officer "relating to a rent settled," and bars appeals against other orders passed in other proceedings under this chapter. Under Chapter XI provision has been made for appeal against orders passed by the Revenue officers and for civil suits.

CHAPTER XA.

22. Although the public bodies and private gentlemen consulted generally supported legislation to place the responsibility upon the Collector for the preservation of communal lands that were set apart at the last settlement for the use of the community, and in respect of which the proprietors or sub-proprietors were bound by the terms of the kabuliyats executed by them not to allow any cultivation of them, strong exception was taken by all of them to the reckless manner in which communal lands were recorded during the Revisional Settlement, in a great many cases without the consent and against the wishes of the zamindars and raiyats. The present legislative provision is an attempt to give legal effect to the wrong entries of sarba sadharan made during the Revisional Settlement in respect of unabadi or waste lands, tanks, orchards, filled up tanks and even trees, giving varied rights in them to the zamindars and the village communities. Although power has been given to the Collector to correct or remove such entries, there is justification for the Settlement Officer's apprehension "that it will be difficult to persuade him to do so." There is a good deal of force in the Settlement Officer's objection to the proposed legislation, and in his observation that "whatever is done, it ought to be insisted on that action shall be taken only on complaint made before the Collector by some person interested, * * * because it throws the onus of complaint on some party interested. I do not think that parties interested will be found to be apathetic when any right which is important to them is challenged" (vide page 6 of Paper No. 6 on the Bill).

23. The proposed legislation in regard to communal land is defective, in as much as it tends only to the preservation of pasture lands without any adequate provision being made for growing fodder on them or planting trees thereon to afford shade, and with a view to rendering the lands fit for pasture. It is nobody's business to see to their improvement; on the other hand, both the zamindars and the tenants are afraid of any interference with them, and unless adequate provision is made, as pointed out by the Orissa Landholders' Association, for the improvement of these lands, the object of legislation will be defeated. Besides, adequate provision should be made for the exchange of lands set apart for gochar lands, but which are really unfit for such purposes for other lands.

R. N. BHANJA DEO.

The 2nd March, 1912.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE MR. M. S. DAS ON THE ORISSA TENANCY BILL.

1. The present Bill is the result of revolution, not evolution. Land-laws, under all civilized Governments, are made to provide for or against the existing state of things in a country. By existing state of things, I mean the existing rights and interests in land owned at a given period by the different sections of a population. The object of legislation is to secure to each section the full enjoyment of the rights and interests they own, and to provide against all encroachments thereon by other sections having adverse interest.

2. Rights and interest in land among a people are the accumulated result of countless social and economical forces. The duty of the legislator is to record and adjust the existing rights with a view to secure social harmony which is the foundation of a peaceful society. As society changes, the legislator recasts his work to suit the new social conditions. Agrarian relations between the different classes in an Indian village or cluster of neighbouring villages formed in ancient times an integral part of the social economy. Except in large towns and cities, which are the outcome of European civilization, the forces which shape every-day life are still to some extent of a social nature. Agrarian relations are controlled by social considerations. This is especially so in Orissa where down to the beginning of last century there was the feudal system. For people who have been accustomed to be frequently on the move, it is not possible to realise how social influences can control agrarian relation. For the same reason the nomadic Arab cannot appreciate the feelings which to an Englishmen are associated with the English word "Home."

3. I have said above that the present Bill is a work of revolution. It is the result of a disregard of the legitimate duty of the legislator as described above, an ignorance of the social forces and influences which control agrarian relation in Orissa, and an utter disregard of local opinion both official and non-official as to the adaptability of the Bengal Tenancy Act to the condition of Orissa in the eighties of last century.

4. The Bengal Tenancy Act did not apply proprio vigore to Orissa. The power of extending it to Orissa was reserved to the Local Government. This meant that the condition of Orissa was suited to the provisions of the Act in 1885, when the Act was passed. It was expected that altered conditions of the province might at some future date make its extension desirable. (I shall hereinafter give a brief sketch of the circumstances which made the Bengal Tenancy Act necessary in some areas administered by the Government of Bengal.) It is clear that at the date when the Act was passed, Orissa was not fit for it. Within five years the province was considered fit for the introduction of certain portions of the Act. VIII of 1885. VIII of 1885.

5. Local opinion, both official and non-official, was opposed to this introduction. This opposition, it was pleaded, was due to the "conservatism of the Uriyas," and the opinion of the local officials was attributed to a sympathy with the same conservatism with which "the officials had been imbued." The march of civilization, it was said, made the change necessary. Sir Henry Maine's theories were quoted. But, in the enthusiasm of the moment, those responsible for the final decision of the question lost sight of the fact that theories are abstract propositions; their successful application requires correct information regarding the condition of the society to which it is sought to apply them. The manner in which the Act was extended to Orissa also shows the ignorance of the authorities of the provisions of the Act, and the connection of the different portions of the Act to each other.

6. Chapter X of the Act was first introduced for the purpose of revenue settlement. The main object the Government of India had in view in directing that the revenue settlement should be made under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act was to secure an enhanced revenue; the other object was a classification of the tenancies according to the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The reason for this was that the classification was superior to that embodied in Act X of 1859 [1], and if the record-of-rights were made during the revenue settlement on the basis of the laws in force in Orissa, the subsequent introduction of the Bengal Tenancy Act would be impossible. What was the result of this? The settlement operations began. If the Assistant Settlement Officer happened to be a Bengalee, who was familiar with the rights and interests which the Bengal Tenancy Act deals with, he found on the spot new rights which found no place in the Act. If the Assistant Settlement Officer happened to be an Uriya to whom the local rights in lands were familiar, he received no light from the Act. The Settlement Officer himself was wiser. He moved the Government to extend some other portion of the Act as occasions presented difficulties in the working of Chapter X of the Act. All groped in darkness. The Supreme Government supremely ignorant of the local conditions were the legally constituted guide. It was a case of the blind leading those struggling in darkness. Sections after sections of the Bengal Tenancy Act were introduced as difficulties arose during the progress of the settlement operations. Experience of the degree of darkness which surrounded the responsible duties of the Settlement Officer, led him to try new openings for additional light, but the additional light showed some more dark spot. Portions of the Act were extended from time to time to remove difficulties, but every new extension started unforeseen difficulties in another quarter. This process was carried on till the Government came to the conclusion that Orissa wanted a special Code adapted to its peculiar circumstances. VIII of 1885.

The above is a history of the nativity of this Bill.

7. Of the two objects Government of India had in view, the first—an increased revenue—has been secured. The present revenue is 50 per cent. more than the revenue fixed by the settlement of 1839. I shall have occasion to refer to this hereinafter again. But what about the second object the Government had in making the settlement under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act? This was done with a view to extend the Bengal Tenancy Act to Orissa. Has this object been gained? VIII of 1885.

8. It is not necessary to go into a detailed criticism of the effects of this piece-meal extension of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Some of them are to be found in the Bill; and some of them have been noticed by the Hon'ble Mr. S. L. Maddox, C.S.I., in his letter No. A., dated 6th April 1909, to be found at page 10 of paper No. 2 relative to this Bill. I shall refer to one instance mentioned at page 12 of the letter. It is the case of Brahmanund Mahapatra versus Arjun Rout reported at page 310 of Calcutta Law Journal, Volume I. In that case their Lordships held that sections 20 and 21 of the Bengal Tenancy Act having been extended to Orissa, without an extension of section 116 of that Act, occupancy rights can accrue in zamindar's nij jot lands. This decision is dated August 1905. To remove this grievance of the zamindars, in August 1906 Chapter XI was extended to Orissa But this brought to light another defect. To quote the words of the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox in para. 17 of the letter above referred to:—"As soon, however, as Chapter XI was introduced, zamindars had recourse to provisions of section VII of Act X, [1] and caused kabuliyats to be executed by their raiyats barring the accrual of rights of occupancy in all kinds of lands * * * . The present state of affairs is, of course, intolerable, and steps must, at once, be taken to re-establish by legislation the principles already quoted in para. 10."

(1) The Bengal Rent Act, 1859.

One is tempted to ask who is responsible for this inalterable state of things? The raiyats or the zamindars?

9. Act X of 1859 [1] was the first legislation to protect the raiyat against the oppression of zamindars, undertaken under the power reserved to Government by section 8 of Regulation I of 1793 and section 67 of Regulation VIII of 1793. Within four or five years of its promulgation the difficulties of working Act X of 1859 [1] in Bengal were felt. Those difficulties were brought to the notice of Government by the High Court. To ensure smooth working Act VIII of 1869 [2] was passed. It did not make any change in the substantive law. The provisions of Act X of 1859 [1] were retained, but the trial of suits was transferred to the Civil Court. It was an alteration in the law of procedure. The Revenue Courts had been found incompetent to try the intricate questions of law which the strained relations between the zamindars and their tenants raised in suits between them. But Act VIII of 1869 [2] too was found insufficient. Early in the seventies of last century the agrarian disturbances in Pubna necessitated special legislation to restore peace and order. The result was Act VI of 1876[3]. The object of this Act was "to provide for disputes regarding recovery of rent and to provide for agrarian disturbances." This was a temporary measure. The idea of recasting the whole law of landlord and tenant with a view to suit the state of things in Bengal was decided upon. But it took some years before Government came to a decision what form the proposed legislation should take.

10. In the meantime the condition of the agricultural population of Bihar attracted the attention of Government. The condition of Bihar tenantry had attracted the attention of the Government as far back as 1868. In Bihar too things went from bad to worse. About the time when the Agrarian Disputes Act of 1876 was passed, a Commission was appointed to advise Government on measures necessary to remedy the state of things in Bihar. The condition of tenantry of Bengal and Bihar necessitated, according to the view of Government, more stringent legislation to protect the rights of the raiyat. I am not in a position to say that the zamindars of Bengal and Bihar were really oppressive. On the contrary I should be inclined to think that the picture was overdrawn. But for the purposes of this note, I assume that the official literature on the subject represents the true state of things in the Provinces of Bengal and Bihar. The strained relations between the landlords and raiyats necessitated stringent legislative provisions. The above are the antecedents which led to the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Ben. Act VI of 1876. VIII of 1885

11. The permanent settlement of Bengal and Bihar was made in 1793. The demand of Government revenue on the zamindar was fixed. Regulations VII of 1799 was passed to enable proprietors to realize their rents with greater punctuality, and large powers of distraint were conferred, which in the hands of unscrupulous landlords became a powerful engine of oppression. A limited demand of Government revenue, with great facilities and large powers for realization of rent, soon developed a rich aristocracy of which Bengal and Bihar have just reason to be proud of at the present moment.

12 From the time of the permanent settlement to the enactment of Act X of 1859[1] the policy of Government was to strengthen the hands of the zamindar with a view to secure the punctual payment of Government revenue. During this period extending over more than half a century the zamindars of Bengal and Bihar improved their position, and to a corresponding degree the condition and status of the raiyats suffered. This would in any country bring about strained relations of payer and payee to one another.

13. It is necessary to see how Orissa fared during the early period of British administration.

[1] The Bengal Rent Act, 1859.
[2] Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1869.
[3] Agrarian Disputes Act, 1876.

Five settlements were made within the short period of 11 years from the commencement of British occupation of the Province. The result is given below from an official correspondence of the time—

> "The revenue was enhanced during this period by about 3½ lakhs of rupees, being raised from Rs. 13,14,825 in 1804-05 to Rs. 16,37,924 in 1818-19. The amount of the average yearly demand for each settlement collected during the currency of the settlement fell from 94 per cent. to 27 per cent. between the years 1805-06 and 1818-19, and during this period it was necessary to bring to sale no less than 1,129 estates bearing a jama of Rs. 9,65,984. This measure ruined two-thirds at least of the old Uriya proprietors and transferred their lands to rich absentee Bengalees. Estates were sold at the Revenue Board in Calcutta, and thus they passed into the hands of the rich Bengalees."

This was followed by the Revenue Settlement of 1839. It was for a term of thirty years.

When the term of the settlement in 1839 was about to expire and a fresh settlement was due, the Province was visited by the most devastating famine ever known to British rule.

Correct figures of one zamindar's estate are given here to give an idea of the loss which the country suffered. "At the beginning of 1866—the famine year—the population was 11,879. During the famine months 5,375 or nearly 50 per cent. of the population perished and 1,250 emigrated."

Famine affected the cultivated area in an estate in two ways—(1) from death of cultivators and (2) from want of means by the surviving tenants—for want of seed grain and cattle.

The famine was followed by floods. The following is a description of the floods which followed the famine:—"673,726 acres were destructively inundated, the waters lying from 3 to 15 feet. A population of 1,308,365 souls suddenly found their homesteads submerged. These figures speak for themselves, but they do not tell the whole truth."

The revenue settlement of 1839 was made on the distinct understanding that Government should keep up the embankments, and the zamindars undertook to pay the revenue assessed on the understanding that the country will be protected from inundation. In consequence of the famine the period of the revenue settlement was extended for another thirty years. During the extended period, Government did not keep up the embankments and by that means saved over £400,000.

14. Orissa is governed by Mitakshara law. Except in the few instances where the estates have passed into the hands of Bengalees, and in the few cases where custom attaches impartibility and promogeniture, Mitakshara rules govern succession. The result of this has been the division of large estates into very small ones. Most of the zamindars are poor, a large percentage of them commanding an income hardly higher than that of the well-to-do raiyat. The bajiaftidars form a portion of this. They have been classed as raiyats for certain purposes in the Bill.

15. The enjoyment of a superior legal status is not an opportunity to oppress those to whom the law assigns a lower legal status. Men and means and generally the resources at command give a man the motive and opportunities for oppression. These are wanting in the zamindars of Orissa. Hence there has been no strained relation between the zamindars and raiyats.

16. Soon after the grant of the boon of the permanent settlement to Bengal and Bihar, the Government thought that they had made a mistake. The despatches of the Hon'ble Court of Directors and the minutes by higher officials of the time show this. There was a swing of the pendulum in the opposite direction. Heavy assessment of revenue was made to cripple the resources of the zamindar. The result is shown in paragraph 13 above.

17. Nature lent her mighty help to Government in their attempt to cripple the resources of the zamindar. The famine left the lands fallow. He had to pay the full amount of revenue. The floods followed in the wake of famine. The wreck of the zamindar was complete. Famines, floods and calamities have a levelling influence. They disarm the high and proud of their power of oppression. Wealth, social position and legal status give way and sympathy asserts the levelling influence of humanity.

18. The present relation between the zamindars and raiyats in Orissa does not justify the stringent laws which are found in the Bill. Laws which are effective remedies for strained relations in society, when enforced in a peaceful state of society, produce the strained relations, in the same way as drugs which are remedies for a disease produce the disease when administered to a healthy person.

19. The introduction of Chapter X for purposes of the revenue settlement was a revolutionary measure. The result was disturbance of a settled state of things, a disturbance of vested rights. The present Bill is an attempt to introduce the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Its remarkable features are (1) that it aims at giving legislative sanction to errors committed during the settlement operations, (2) it aims at introducing into Orissa the provisions of Acts which are found in Madras, Bombay, Chota Nagpur, the Central Provinces, but find no place in the Bengal Tenancy Act. VIII of 1885.

20. No attempt has been made to show how these additional provisions, which are adopted from other provinces, but which are not found in the Bengal Tenancy Act are in requisition in Orissa. There are instances where provisions which have not been introduced into East Bengal, find place in the present Bill.

21. The cardinal mistake lies in an unjustifiable assumption that the relation between landlord and tenant in Orissa is more strained than in any part of Bengal. The records of Orissa Courts, revenue, civil and criminal, when compared with those of East and West Bengal, will not support this assumption.

22. The Hon'ble Mr. Maddox at page 13 of Paper No. 2 relative to the Bill, notices the increase of litigation between landlords and tenants. The number of suits in 1900 when the last settlement was concluded was 15,683; in 1906-07 the number rose to 30,671. This, says the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox, is due to "the adoption of coercive measures by the landlords, whom the settlement records have furnished facilities for proof of areas, status and rentals of their tenants." The figures show more strained relations. "Coercive measures"!!! I wish that in settling the policy of the Bill the proposition that recourse to Law Court is a coercive measure had received due attention. This would have kept out of the Bill in a large measure the elaborate procedure introduced in many instances. If the records of these suits were examined with a view to classify the cause of action, I have no doubt that in a very large number of cases the record-of-rights was responsible for these suits. As an instance of unnecessary cumbrous and "coercive" provision, I should mention clause 90 of the Bill—the one for abandonment. How would these provisions work if there is another famine? How would this work when scores of villages are swept away by the floods and the floods render large areas unfit for cultivation? The object in retaining the present jurisdiction of the Revenue Courts over suits under land-law has been defeated by the introduction of elaborate procedures in many instances. All these mean loss of time to the raiyat; and legislation which requires him to attend to procedure, which may be necessary in a society where strained relation between zamindar and raiyats is the rule, and not the exception, unwittingly works out the raiyat's impoverishment. Bill, clause 90.

23. The Bill is revolutionary in character. The revolution was started by the revenue settlement under the Bengal Tenancy Act, and an attempt is made in the Bill to complete it. I have shown above how the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act were found unsuited to the existing rights in land in Orissa. This is admitted by the hon'ble gentleman who drafted the Bill and the hon'ble gentleman now in charge of it. To ignore vested rights in property is the work of the revolutionist. The conqueror-warrior, the socialist and the nihilist aim at this. The accomplishment of this object, under colour of law, does not eliminate the important element in the connotation of 'revolutionary.'

24. It is necessary to have a correct estimate of the extent to which the different classes of people have gained by the provisions of the Bill by reason of concessions from Government.

The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, in his speech in introducing the Bill, said, "They (zamindars) have been deemed entitled to a more considerate treatment." It is admitted that owing to the absence of any provision in the Bengal Tenancy Act the nij-jote lands of all tenure-holders were not recorded as such. The distinction of nij-jote and nij-chas was an arbitrary one adopted by the Settlement Department under an executive order contrary to law and custom in force at the time. It should be borne in mind that the word "nij-chas" does not find a place in Act X of 1859[1] or in the Bengal Tenancy Act. Where did the Settlement Department find it? They found it in Orissa. It is the Uriya equivalent of nij-jote. The lands which were the private lands of the zamindars and tenure-holders were called by various names, and nij-chas is the most common, having a local origin. Act X of 1859[1] spoke of the private land as "khamar, nij-jote or sir land belonging to the proprietor of the estate or tenure and let by him on lease for a term or year by year." VIII of 1885.

The nomenclature is not exhaustive. The words khamar, nij-jote and sir are followed by an explanatory clause. Section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act enumerates only the terms used of zamindars' private land in Bengal and Bihar. The Act was not meant to apply to Orissa, hence no reference is made to the words in use in Orissa.

Finding that the word locally used to designate zamindar's private land was nij chas, and this word was not used in the Act, the Settlement Department recorded them under two separate heads.

The explanatory words in section 6 of Act X of 1859[1], to which reference has been made in a paragraph of this note, were ignored. The law in force at the time was practically repealed: custom prevailing on the subject was set at naught. Evidently the provisions of section 116 of Bengal Tenancy Act were followed. This is curious, seeing that that section was not extended till 1906, i.e., till after six years subsequent to the completion of the revenue settlement.

The Settlement Report by the Hon'ble Mr. S. L. Maddox says, "Down to 1894 the record of nij-jote land was made in accordance with local custom and Act X of 1859"[1]. The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson, in his speech in this Council, said—"In practice they (raiyats get little out of the nij-chas or non-privileged land; because the provisions of the law are ignored. We shall merely be giving legal sanction to the continuance of existing usages which, as the law stands, are illegal, the chief value of the change, in fact, will be that it will remove a fertile cause of strife and dispute."

I have shown that, under the law as it stood up to 1891, when Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act was introduced, the lands called nij-chas were really nij-jote. Why then was this distinction made? Which Act justified this distinction? I have shown in paragraph 8 that the Settlement Department did not know that section 6 of Act X of 1859[1] was, by reason of the extension of sections 20 and 21 of Bengal Tenancy Act, repealed by implication, till it was ruled by the High Court in Brahmanand Mahapatra vs. Arjun Rout in 1903. The Settlement Department should have followed the provisions of Act X of 1859[1] in this respect. Even in 1876 the High Court held that "land in the possession of the zamindar, whether cultivated or uncultivated, is khamar land. Every piece of land which the zamindar keeps under his own control would be khamar land within the meaning of section 6." The lands which the great famine of Orissa left in the hands of the zamindar would be properly his nij-jote lands, but for the unwarrantable arbitrary distinction made by the settlement of 1891.

25. The figures given in the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson's speech showing the generous concession to the landowner would, if correct, do great credit to Government. It is said these nij-chas lands will measure about one lakh acres. But a careful inquiry will show that a large area out of this has become unfit for cultivation. In his history of Orissa, Sir William Hunter calls it a "province at the mercy of a great river system. Engineering Science has accepted the Orissa delta as the arena of strategic movements on as vast a scale, and of far more permanent consequences than the military combinations of the late European War. The issue to be fought out is no dynastic squabble or mere frontier strife, but whether some millions of human beings shall spend their lives in chronic peril of death by famine."

26. I pointed out to the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson at an interview in his office that I know that a certain estate owns, according to the settlement records, three thousand acres of nij-jote lands; but fully one thousand acres of these have been rendered unfit since they were recorded as nij jote or nij-chas. I have no doubt that similar allowance has to be made in other estates. (Three thousand acres seem a large area in one estate, but it is a Mitakshara family having over 20 co-sharers. The estate yields a total rental of one lakh ninety thousand rupees, and, out of this amount, pays a Government revenue of nearly one lakh thirty thousand rupees.) I suggested to the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson that provision should be made in the present Bill to empower the zamindar to maintain the full area recorded as his nij-jote by an exchange of such area, as might become unfit for cultivation by deposit of sand by floods, with what he purchases in execution of decrees, provided that the exchange is made with the sanction of a Government officer. But the Hon'ble Member remained unmoved.

27. At the time of the last revenue settlement the zamindars had lands under their cultivation. There was nothing to prevent their acquiring a right of occupancy in those lands. The lands which the great famine left on their hands were cultivated by them. They had acquired a right of occupancy. The law of merger did not exist in India. Statutory recognition of the principle was made by section 22 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. This was not in force in Orissa before 1891. Neither section 22 of the Bengal Tenancy Act nor clause 21 of the Bill can extinguish this right Consequently the cultivator of this land is simply an under-raiyat who cannot acquire a right of occupancy. Has this right been reserved to the zamindar? VIII of 1885.

28. The provisions of the Bill in clauses 103A to 103F refer to communal land. The object of the provisions is commendable, but the power given to the Collector is not likely to further the object in view. The Hon'ble Mr. McPherson complains of the lack of public spirit in private individuals. The provisions of the Bill should have been so framed as to develop that spirit. The present provision will kill the spirit where there is any. The power given to the Collector should be vested in a panchayet appointed for the purpose. Bill, clauses 103A to 103F.

29. Some of the definitions are confusing.

30. Should the Government decide to consider the Bill in Council, I reserve the right to propose amendments on any provision of the Bill.

31. I annex a copy of my letter to the Hon'ble Mr. McPherson on Chapter XII of the Bill. I request that letter be taken as a part of this note of dissent.

FROM THE HON'BLE MR. M. S. DAS, C.I.E.,

TO THE HON'BLE MR. H. MCPHERSON, I.C.S.

Dated Cuttack, the 19th February 1912.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to make some observations on Chapter XII of the Orissa Tenancy Bill which is now before the Select Committee, and request you to communicate them to the authorities who are responsible for this most unwise legislative sanction to the revisional operations which were carried on in Orissa during the last few years.

When this revisional settlement operations began, the people expressed their opposition to them in a forcible manner. There were public meetings, and the resolutions of these meetings were published in newspapers and were communicated to the authorities. The suffering and harassment of the people, their suspicion about the intention of Government in starting revision settlement immediately after the revenue settlement, and the consequent unrest were brought to the notice of the authorities. Even the Englishman of Calcutta wrote in terms of strong disapproval of the measure. A short extract from an article in that paper is given here.

> "Bomb-shells are sometimes contained in very innocent-looking receptacles. The Bengal Administration Report for 1905-06, which we reviewed the other day, is innocent-looking enough, and we pronounced it to be 'colourless'. So it is, but it contains a bomb-shell which is hidden away in the 20th paragraph of the 'Summary', wherein is stated: 'it has been decided to have a general revision of the records of Orissa done by a paid staff under the control of the Settlement Officer.' There is nothing very alarming about this, but it contains all the elements of very considerable trouble in the near future. The settlement of Orissa was effected ten years ago, and this settlement was for thirty years. The report of the settlement operations is a voluminous document, containing in elaborate detail the settlement operations carried out by Mr. Maddox. Our policy has hitherto been to let such settlements run undisturbed for the period for which they have been effected. Any attempt to disturb them is followed by an incalculable amount of worry to the zamindars and raiyats alike, with vexatious inquiries and examinations of records-of-rights and a host of other matters relating to the land It is therefore difficult to understand the reasons for the proposed disturbance of the settlement of Orissa completed ten years ago. If the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal were in search of a means of stirring up a hitherto quiet and peaceful district into defiance of authority, and all that means, he could not have selected more effective method than the one under reference"

A journalist of English repute travelling in India at the time visited with me one revision settlement camp one cold night between 10 and 11 P. M., and he saw the sufferings of the people who had assembled outsite the little tent constituting the Settlement office from surrounding villages. They narrated to us how they had been in attendance there from early hours in the morning, and some of them had done so for days.

While this revisional settlement was bitterly exercising the minds of the people, floods followed by drought brought on a regular famine over a large area. Thousands whose house and hearth had been washed away by the floods, and whose sunken eyes; exposed ribs and emaciated frames were unmistakable indications of starvation arrested the attention of the public. The raiyat forgot the harassments of the revisional settlement; the educated public sympathy was directed towards this worse calamity. Revisional settlement was stopped in the famine stricken area. Government adopted sympathetic and benevolent measures for the relief of the sufferers. The suspicion which originally shadowed the revisional settlement staff was disarmed to a certain extent. In the meantime people were given to understand that the revisional settlement operations were in the nature of experiments made with a view to an ultimate decision by Government as regards the desirability or otherwise of legislation for an up-to-date maintenance of record-of-rights and interests in landed property.

The provisions of Ben. Act III of 1895,[1] though still in force, were not followed. The people have no doubt that the experience gained during the experimental stage must have convinced minds, not influenced by motives of personal gain or advantage, of the true character of the measure. During the experimental stage of this measure the public mind was, in no small degree, exercised as regards the reasons which influenced Government to select Orissa for this experiment. The revenue settlement of the province had just been completed. The record-of-rights was fresh. The troubles and harassment of the revenue settlement were green in the minds of the people. There are many places outside Orissa, where a record-of-rights is more necessary for the protection of the rights of the tenantry in permanently-settled areas, owing to the strained relation between the landlord and tenant, as evidenced by the records of courts of law. Government saw the necessity of more stringent legislation for the protection of the raiyat's interest outside Orissa, and more stringent provisions were made by subsequent legislation, while the old Act X of 1859[2] suited to a more peaceful state of things worked satisfactorily here till the Government introduced certain portions of the Bengal Tenancy Act for revenue settlement operation. VIII of 18

Yet Orissa was selected the field of experiment. Suggestion was made by people having no faith in British justice that reasons which influence the vivisectionist in selecting the harmless rabbit for the subject of his experiments must have influenced Government in selecting a province inhabited by a peace-loving and peaceful people for experiments.

The people entertained a sanguine hope that the observations of the officers who have local knowledge of the harassment and pecuniary loss of the people during the revision settlement operation would lead to an abandonment of the project—maintenance of records. I should be doing injustice to you and officers like the Hon'ble Mr. Maddox and the Divisional Commissioner Mr. E. V. Levinge, if I were to believe that Chapter XII of the Bill has the support of these officers. Such an assumption would imply an insult to their powers of observation or charge of unjustifiable ignorance of local knowledge. None but a few members of the subordinate service and the ministerial staff engaged in the revisional settlement saw or see any good in these operations. For obvious reasons these operations found favour with these classes. I have been credibly informed that one amin had earned Rs. 600 in a single village. He was at last convicted in the Criminal Court.

It is most unfortunate that legislation to perpetuate this periodical visitation should have been undertaken at this particular time. The recent administrative change is prejudicial to the interests of Orissa. The people have not yet been able to adjust their ideas to the altered state of things or to decide what they should do for the redress of their grievances. But there is the feeling of discontent. This is a most unfortunate time for legislation on a measure which is so unpopular with all classes. The people are beginning to feel that Government do not care to pay heed to the wants, grievances and feelings of the people of Orissa. If the results of the experiment in Orissa are encouraging and point to legislation which will secure the well-being of the people, 'why,' ask the people, 'do not Government legislate for parts of Bengal and Bihar where the raiyats,' interest is in great need of protection and where both the raiyats and zamindar are able to defend their rights.'

If the theory drawn by the scientist from cruel experiments on the harmless rabbit cannot without risk be applied to human life, but must be confined to the rabbit class only, the author of the theory should not be classed among scientists. He deserves to be ranked among cruel men. I am simply describing the feelings of the thoughtful public with regard to Chapter XII of the Orissa Tenancy Bill.

[1] The Land Records Maintenance Act, 1895.
[2] The Bengal Rent Act, 1859.

One of the reasons which influenced me to give notice of a motion for the postponement of this Bill was to postpone the consideration of this unpopular measure till a later day when the feelings of disappointment and discontent induced by the recent administrative changes might lose their poignancy by efflux of time or might be proved unjustifiable by subsequent events. I also hoped that the new Government might pay better attention to the feelings and wishes of the people and better regard to the opinion of officers who are responsible for the local administration of the Province. I do sincerely hope that the members of the Select Committee will attach due importance to non-official opinion in a matter like this and advise Government to omit Chapter XII from the Bill.

I am sure there will be unrest in Orissa, if this chapter of the Bill goes to the Council to be passed.

Before I conclude I should like to make a few observations on the imaginary good which finds favour with the supporters of the measure.

The main object put forward is an up-to-date record-of right. To do this it is necessary to record the transfers inter vivos of different kinds and succession by inheritance or testamentary disposition after the last preceding record-of rights. These are very few. Transfers by sale are in almost all cases embodied in registered documents. It is the transferee's interest to secure the transfer against subsequent fraud of the transferer The zamindar too is interested in it, as he has his share of salami in the consideration money.

Then there are cases of collusive transfer. This is generally done to defraud creditors. The Settlement Officer cannot go behind the deed of transfer and expose the collusive nature of the transfer.

Testamentary dispositions are very few indeed in Orissa. The Settlement officer cannot exercise the powers of the District Judge and decide as to the genuineness or otherwise of the Will. So practically the work of the Revisional Settlement Officer is limited to a record-of-rights of the man in possession who has come to the land subsequent to the last preceding record.

In case of undisputed transfer followed by the possession of the transferee, the plea of protection of rights by revisional settlement operation is superfluous. In cases of disputed transfer, the work of the Settlement Officer in only a very small percentage of cases terminates the dispute. Most of the cases go up to higher courts. Even in those cases where the dispute terminates with the order of the Settlement Officer, want of means on the part of the unsuccessful party is the real reason for not proceeding to higher authorities. In a very large number of cases, but for the revisional settlement operations there would have been no litigation. The settlement operation sets the ball of litigation rolling. There is no doubt that the number of suits connected with interest in and have increased since these settlement operations were commenced in Orissa.

Considering the very small number of cases where the periodical records-of-rights is an effective protection against encroachments on the honest poor raiyat's rights, the disadvantages, the harassment, loss of income, loss of time, the ruinous expenses of litigation and the salve to the itching palm which the revisional settlement entail on the whole population should be weighed against the imaginary gain to a few.

A very large number of the people of Orissa supplement their income from agriculture by labour. They are to be found in large numbers in and around Calcutta where ordinary or skilled labour is in requisition. When they receive the news of the arrival of the revisional settlement camp, they leave their work and forthwith return to their village—the honest man to guard against any encroachment on his holding—the crafty with a covetous eye on the land of his neighbour. The infamous tout, who lives on fomenting litigation and trading on the credulity of the ignorant, follows the greedy amin as the jackal follows the hyena or leopard. Like the jackal whose cunning, he shows in a remarkable degree, he yells to warn the prey against the ferocious enemy, but all the same has an eye to a share in the carcasses. The rich villager or zamindar with a covetous eye on the poor neighbour's land looks upon the appearance of the revision settlement camp like the descent of the angel into the pool of Bethsaida. Experience has taught him that whosoever first stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

The loss and harassment suffered by many, when compared with the supposed advantages to the few, furnish strong ground for the abandonment of this maintenance of records. The highest good to the largest numbeer of people ought to be the guiding principle of all civilised Governments.

The apologists of this maintenance-of-record imagine that the system if introduced would improve the condition of the poor and helpless tenantry. This is a mistake. By the custom of the country the poor raiyat reclaimed the waste land and thereby extended the area of his holding. He did not wait for his landlord's permission. The landlord being content with the income which the revenue settlement secured him, according to the terms of his kabuliyat, did not take any measures to ascertain whether any portion of the waste land was reclaimed. The result of this was that the raiyat was richer to the extent of the reclaimed land, as he paid no rent for this. This advantage the raiyats had enjoyed during the long period which intervened between the settlement of 1840 and that of 1894-95. But for the settlement operations he would have continued in possession without paying an enhanced rent.

The present Bill lends legislative sanction to the customary right of the raiyat to reclaim waste land. The Orissa zamindar, notoriously somnolent, would not enforce his rights within the time prescribed by the Bill, but the periodical revision of records will do for the zamindar what in the majority of cases he would not have done. Thus the revision of records does not add to the prosperity of the raiyat. The relation between zamindar and raiyat is that of payer and payee. It is a relation of conflicting interest. It is impossible to convert it into one of unalloyed concordance. The relative position of the two makes the raiyat dependant on the zamindar. Our rulers being foreigners cannot form a correct idea of the extent to which the tenant is dependent on his zamindar, or of the risk he runs in incurring the zamindar's displeasure. Both the zamindar and raiyat are the outcome of an ancient elaborate social fabric. The Government official's horizon of vision does not extend beyond the provisions of the law of landlord and tenant. An illustration will explain my meaning. The Hindu must cremate his dead relation on the day he dies, which does not mean within 24 hours, but before the following day break. Suppose an old raiyat dies at midnight. His son must remove the corpse before day break, and the cremation must be done without any loss of time. Firewood has to be secured. It cannot be had for money in the village. The dead man's son goes to the zamindar at midnight. The zamindar, if friendly disposed, gives him permission to cut down a fruit-bearing tree and this is supplied free of cost. If the cremation is not done in time the man loses his caste. To provide for expiation the poor raiyat will have to sell the lands which the Settlement Officer gave him. Then again the services of castemen have to be secured to carry the corpse to the cremation ground. If the zamindar bears a grudge against a particular raiyat he can use his influence with the castemen not to help the hostile raiyat in this work. A cunning man can gratify his grudge without making himself liable to any law, civil or criminal

Attempts to improve the position of the raiyat by legislation, which do not take into account the complex social questions which are woven in the texure of the raiyat's daily life, however laudable so far as motives go, must produce results disastrous to the interests of the party they were intended to benefit. Legislation can break asunder the social bond, it cannot tie it closer. Legislation in no country has improved the conjugal tie. It has provided for divorce.

I have said that these elements of concord and conflict exist in the peculiar relation between a raiyat and his landlord. The conflicting element must be brought into prominence when there is a revenue settlement of the Province. A frequent recurrence of the scenes of conflict is not conducive to the well being of the raiyat.

It is believed by some that an up to-date record-of-rights will make the next revenue settlement cheaper. I seriously doubt whether it would reduce the cost of the next revenue settlement, if the costs of the periodical revision settlement be taken into account. Besides, even if it were cheaper, it would be so in the costs of settlement to Government, but the periodical preparatory measures will impoverish the tenantry in the meantime, and when the time for increase of revenue comes, Government will find a tenantry unable to pay a higher rent

It is sought to justify Chapter XII as a necessary preliminary to Chapter XVI. 'The latter', say the apologists for Chapter XII, 'is in fulfilment of a pledge given by Government to the zamindar.'

It is difficult to understand how provisions, which do not extend the facilities for collection of rent to the zamindars as a class, but reserves the selection to the Local Government, can be called a fulfilment of a pledge made to the class.

The provisions of the Bill point to an anxiety on the part of Government to protect the raiyat against the unlawful demands of the zamindars. The poor, ignorant and helpless raiyat needs the strong hand of legislation to protect him. In the estimation of Government the zamindar is not in any sense the guardian of raiyats' interest. That being so, the question naturally suggests itself, is it safe to entrust the zamindar with summary powers for the recovery of rents? To the poor, time is of great value in the payment of his dues.

Besides we have to look to the extent to which this Chapter XVI will be used in Orissa. It is not at all likely that this privilege will be accorded to small zamindars who do not maintain a decent establishment for the management of their estates. Most of the large estates are in the hands of common Managers or under the Court of Wards. I do not think that even if Chapter XVI were passed, the extension of the privilege, even if the Local Government were most liberal in the bestowal of the privilege, would benefit more than two or three zamindars, but I have serious doubts if these few zamindars would care to avail themselves of the summary procedure. They give facilities for the recovery of rent, but they will add to the unpopularity of the zamindar.

As far as I know, no zamindar cares for the privilege. If it is the incubus of a pledge which troubles Government, I am sure the zamindars would gladly relieve Government of the moral obligation, and the moral principles which helped Government to disregard the solemn "pledges" which, to quote the words of the London Times, "was given as an inducement for the pacification of the Province," will be still available.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

M. S. DAS.

(2) If, in any such case, the landlord refuses to accept the requisite fee, the transferee or his successor in interest may deposit such fee with the Collector, and, at the same time, apply for registration of the transfer. The Collector shall thereupon cause the fee to be delivered to the landlord in the prescribed manner, and shall, by an order in writing, declare that the transfer has been duly registered.

(3) If an application for the registration of the transfer of a tenure or portion thereof under sub-section (1) is not made within a period of six months from the date of the transfer, and if the registration fee authorized by the said sub-section is not deposited along with the application, the transferee or his successor in interest shall not be entitled to recover at any time after the expiry of the said period, by suit or other proceeding, any rent which may have become due to him, as the owner of such tenure or portion, between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration.

(2) If, in any such case, the landlord refuses to accept the requisite fee, the transferee or his successor in interest may deposit such fee with the Collector, and, at the same time, apply for registration of the transfer. The Collector shall thereupon cause the fee to be delivered to the landlord in the prescribed manner, and shall, by an order in writing, declare that the transfer has been duly registered.

(3) If an application for the registration of the transfer of any tenure or portion thereof under sub-section (1) is not made within a period of six months from the date of the transfer, and if the registration fee authorized by the said sub-section is not deposited along with the application, the transferee or his successor in interest shall not be entitled to recover, at any time after the expiry of the said period, by suit or other proceeding, any rent which may have become due to him as the owner of such tenure or portion, between the date of the transfer and the date of the application for registration.

(2) If, in any such case, the landlord accepts the fee authorized by sub-section (1), his consent to the transfer shall be deemed to have been given.

(3) If, in any such case, the landlord refuses to accept the requisite fee, the transferee or his successor in interest may deposit such fee with the Collector, and, at the same time, apply for registration of the transfer. The Collector, after giving notice to the landlord to appear and be heard, shall thereupon inquire and decide whether the landlord is entitled by custom, or for any other good and sufficient reason, to refuse his consent to the transfer; and, if the Collector finds that the landlord is not so entitled, he shall cause the said fee to be delivered to the landlord in the prescribed manner, and shall, by an order in writing, declare that the transfer has been duly registered.

Explanation.—The landlord shall not be entitled to refuse registration of the transfer on the ground of custom, unless he can show that by such custom he is entitled to refuse consent to the transfer of tenures. The fact that the landlord is in the habit of charging fees on the registration of transfers of tenures shall not by itself be taken as proof that he is entitled by custom to refuse his consent to the recognition of transfers in individual cases.

Definition of "settled raiyat."

19. (1) Every person who, for a period of twelve years, whether wholly or partly before or after the commencement of this Act, has continuously held as a raiyat land situate in any village, whether under a lease or otherwise, shall be deemed to have become, on the expiration of that period, a settled raiyat of that village. [1885, s. 20; Notfn.]

(2) A person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have continuously held land in a village, notwithstanding that the particular land held by him has been different at different times.

(3) A person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have held as a raiyat any land held as a raiyat by a person whose heir he is.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 20-21.)

(4) Land held by two or more co-sharers as a raiyati holding shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have been held as a raiyat by each such co-sharer.

(5) A person shall continue to be a settled raiyat of a village as long as he holds any land as a raiyat in that village and for one year thereafter.

(6) If a raiyat recovers possession of land under section 90, he shall be deemed to have continued to be a settled raiyat, notwithstanding his having been out of possession more than a year.

(7) If, in any suit or other proceeding under this Act, or under any other law, it is proved or admitted that a person holds any land as a raiyat, it shall, as between him and the landlord under-whom he holds the land, be presumed, for the purposes of this section, until the contrary is proved or admitted, that he has for twelve years continuously held that land or some part of it as raiyat.

Settled raiyats to have occupancy-rights.

20. (1) Every person who is a settled raiyat of a village within the meaning of section 19 shall have a right of occupancy in all land for the time being held by him as a raiyat in that village. [1885, s. 21; Notfn.]

(2) Every person who, being a settled raiyat of a village within the meaning of section 19, held land as a raiyat in that village at any time between the tenth day of September, 1891, and the commencement of this Act, shall be deemed to have acquired a right of occupancy in that land under the law then in force; but nothing in this sub-section shall affect any decree or order passed by a Court before the commencement of this Act.

Acquisition of occupancy-rights in an area not included in a village.

20A. (1) Every raiyat who, for a period of twelve years, whether wholly or partly before or after the commencement of this Act, has continuously held as a raiyat land situate in an area which is not included in a village as defined in clause (26) of section 3, shall be deemed to have become an occupancy-raiyat in respect of that land. [1859, ss. 6, 7.] [New clause added in Select Committee.]

(2) The holding of the father or other person from whom a raiyat inherits shall be deemed to be the holding of the raiyat within the meaning of this section.

(3) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be held to affect the terms of any written contract for the cultivation of land in the aforesaid area, entered into between a landholder and a raiyat, when it contains any express stipulation contrary thereto.

Effect of acquisition of occupancy-right by landlord.

21. (1) When the immediate landlord of an occupancy-holding is a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, and the entire interests of the landlord and the raiyat in the holding become united in the same person by transfer, succession or otherwise, such person shall have no right to hold the land as a tenant, but shall hold it as a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder (as the case may be); but nothing in this sub-section shall prejudicially affect the rights of any third person. [1885, s. 22; Notfn.]

[Sub-clauses (2) and (3) omitted, and replaced by sub-clauses (2a), (2b) and (2c).]

(2a) If the occupancy-right in land is transferred to a person jointly interested in the land as proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, such person shall have no right to hold the land as a raiyat, but shall hold it as a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, as the case may be, and shall pay to his co-sharers a fair and equitable sum for the use and occupation of the same. [Act VIII of 1885, as in force in E. B. and Assam, s. 22 (3).]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 22-25A.)

(2*b*) In determining from time to time what is a fair and equitable sum under sub-section (2*a*), regard shall be had to the rent payable by the occupancy-raiyat at the time of the transfer and to the principles of this Act regulating the enhancement or reduction of the rents of occupancy-raiyats. [Act VIII of 1885, as in force in E. B. and Assam, s. 22 (3).]

(2*c*) A person interested in any estate, tenure, village or land, whether solely or jointly with others, as a temporary tenure-holder, ijaradar or farmer of rents, or as a mortgagee in possession, shall not, during the period of his lease or mortgage, acquire by purchase or otherwise a right of occupancy in any land comprised in his lease or mortgage. [1908, s. 20 ; (3).]

Explanation.—A person having a right of occupancy in land does not lose it by subsequently becoming jointly interested in the land as a proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, or by subsequently holding the land as a temporary tenure-holder, ijaradar or farmer of rents, or mortgagee.

Incidents of occupancy-right.

Rights of raiyat in respect of use of land.

22. When a raiyat has a right of occupancy in respect of any land, he may use the land in any manner which does not materially impair the value of the land or render it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy; but shall not be entitled to cut down trees in contravention of any local custom. [1885, s. 23 Notfn.]

Obligation of raiyat to pay rent.

23. An occupancy-raiyat shall pay rent for his holding at fair and equitable rates. [1885, s. 24 ; Notfn.]

Protection from eviction, except on specified grounds.

24. An occupancy-raiyat shall not be ejected by his landlord from his holding, except in execution of a decree for ejectment passed on the ground— [1885, s. 25 ; Notfn.]

(a) that he has used the land comprised in his holding in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy, or

(b) that he has broken a condition consistent with the provisions of this Act, and on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between himself and his landlord, liable to be ejected.

Devolution of occupancy-right on death

25. If a raiyat dies intestate in respect of a right of occupancy, it shall, subject to any custom to the contrary, descend in the same manner as other immovable property: [1885, s. 2 ; Notfn.]

Provided that, in any case in which, under the law of inheritance to which the raiyat is subject, his other property goes to the Crown, his right of occupancy shall be extinguished.

Transfer of occupancy-holdings.

Transfer of occupancy-holding by sale, gift or exchange.

25A. (1) When any occupancy-holding or portion of a holding is transferred by sale, gift or exchange, the transferee or his successor in interest shall apply to the landlord to whom the rent of the holding or portion is payable for registration of the transfer. The maximum fee payable on such registration shall be— [New clause added in Select Committee.]

(a) in the case of sale, a sum equal to twenty-five per centum of the consideration money, or to six times the annual rent of the holding or portion thereof, whichever is greater, and

(b) in the case of gift or exchange, a sum equal to six times the annual rent of the holding or portion thereof.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 26, 27.)

(2) If, in any such case, the landlord accepts the fee authorized by sub-section (1), his consent to the transfer and to any distribution of the rent thereby rendered necessary shall be deemed to have been given.

(3) If, in any such case, the landlord refuses to accept the requisite fee, the transferee or his successor in interest may deposit such fee with the Collector, and, at the same time, apply for registration of the transfer. The Collector, after giving notice to the landlord to appear and be heard, shall thereupon inquire and decide whether the landlord is entitled by custom, or for any other good and sufficient reason, to refuse his consent to the transfer; and, if the Collector finds that the holding is so transferable, and if there is no other valid objection to the transfer, he shall cause the said fee to be delivered to the landlord in the prescribed manner, and shall, by an order in writing, declare that the transfer has been duly registered.

Explanation I.—The fact that the landlord is in the habit of charging fees on the registration of transfers of holdings shall not by itself be taken as proof that he is entitled by custom to refuse his consent to the recognition of transfers in individual cases.

Explanation II.—In considering whether the landlord has good and sufficient cause to refuse his consent to the transfer, the Collector may have regard to the following circumstances:—

(i) whether the transferee is a bond fide cultivating raiyat or a non-agriculturist;

(ii) whether the transferee resides within, or in the vicinity of, the village in which the holding is situated or resides at a distance;

(iii) whether the transfer results in the creation of unreasonably small holdings; and

(iv) whether the transferee is a habitual defaulter of rent or a person who, for any other reasonable cause, hould not be made a tenant of the landlord without his consent.

(4) An appeal shall lie to the Collector of the district from any order passed under sub-section (3) by an officer subordinate to him, and all orders passed by the Collector of the district under sub-section (3), or under this sub-section, shall, subject to any order which may be passed on revision by the Commissioner, be final.

(5) Nothing in this section shall affect the right of either party to bring a suit in the Civil Court to contest the correctness of the finding of the Collector, provided that the Court shall presume such finding to be correct until the contrary is proved.

Enhancement of rent.

Presumption as to fair and equitable rent.

26. The rent for the time being payable by an occupancy-raiyat shall be presumed to be fair and equitable until the contrary is proved. [1885, s. 27; Notfn.]

Restriction on enhancement of money-rents.

27. Where an occupancy-raiyat pays his rent in money, his rent shall not be enhanced, except as provided by this Act. [1885, s. 28; Notfn.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 28, 29.)

Enhancement of rent by contract.

28. The money-rent of an occupancy-raiyat may be enhanced by contract, subject to the following conditions:— [1885, s. 29; Notfn.]

(a) the contract must be in writing and registered;

(b) the rent must not be enhanced so as to exceed by more than two annas in the rupee the rent previously payable by the raiyat;

(c) the rent fixed by the contract shall not be liable to enhancement during a term of fifteen years from the date of the contract:

Provided as follows:—

(i) nothing in clause (a) shall prevent a landlord from recovering rent at the rate at which it has been actually paid for a continuous period of not less than three years immediately preceding the period for which the rent is claimed;

(ii) nothing in clause (b) shall apply to a contract by which a raiyat binds himself to pay an enhanced rent in consideration of an improvement which has been or is to be effected in respect of the holding by, or at the expense of, his landlord, and to the benefit of which the raiyat is not otherwise entitled; but an enhanced rent fixed by such a contract shall be payable only when the improvement has been effected and, except when the raiyat is chargeable with default in respect of the improvement, only so long as the improvement exists and substantially produces its estimated effect in respect of the holding;

(iii) when a raiyat has held his land at a specially low rate of rent in consideration of cultivating a particular crop for the convenience of the landlord, nothing in clause (b) shall prevent the raiyat from agreeing, in consideration of his being released from the obligation of cultivating that crop, to pay such rent as he may deem fair and equitable.

Enhancement of rent by suit.—

29. The landlord of a holding held at a money-rent by an occupancy-raiyat may, subject to the provisions of this Act, institute a suit to enhance the rent on one or more of the following grounds, namely:— [1885, s. 30; Notfn.]

(a) that the rate of rent paid by the raiyat is below the prevailing rate paid by occupancy-raiyats for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the same village or in neighbouring villages, and that there is no sufficient reason for his holding at so low a rate;

(b) that there has been a rise in the average local prices of staple food-crops during the currency of the present rent;

(c) that the productive powers of the land held by the raiyat have been increased by an improvement effected by, or at the expense of, the landlord during the currency of the present rent;

(d) that the productive powers of the land held by the raiyat have been increased by fluvial action.

Explanation.—"Fluvial action" includes a change in the course of a river, rendering irrigation from the river practicable when it was not previously practicable.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 30, 31.)

Rules as to enhancement on ground of prevailing rate.

30. Where an enhancement is claimed on the ground that the rate of rent paid is below the prevailing rate,— [1885, s. 31 Notfn.]

(a) in determining what is the prevailing rate, the Court shall have regard to the rates generally paid during a period of not less than three years before the institution of the suit, and shall not decree an enhancement unless there is a substantial difference between the rate paid by the raiyat and the prevailing rate found by the Court;

(b) if, in the opinion of the Court, the prevailing rate of rent cannot be satisfactorily ascertained without a local inquiry, the Court may direct that a local inquiry be held under Order XXVI in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, by such Revenue-officer as the Local Government may authorize in that behalf by rule made under rule 9 in the said Order; V of 1908.

(c) in determining under this section the rate of rent payable by a raiyat, his caste shall not be taken into consideration, unless it is proved that by local custom caste is taken into account in determining the rate; and, whenever it is found that by local custom any description of raiyats hold land at favourable rates of rent, the rate shall be determined in accordance with that custom;

(d) in ascertaining the prevailing rate of rent, the amount of any enhancement authorized on account of a landlord's improvement shall not be taken into consideration;

(e) if a favourable rate has been determined under clause (c) for any description of raiyats, such rate may, if the Court thinks fit, be left out of consideration in ascertaining the prevailing rate;

(f) if the holding is held at a lump rental, the determination of the rent to be paid may be made by ascertaining the different classes of land comprised within the holding, and applying to the area of each class the prevailing rate paid on that class within the village or neighbouring villages.

What may be taken in certain districts to be the "prevailing rate."

31. In any district or part of a district to which this section is extended by the Local Government by notification in the local official Gazette, whenever the prevailing rate for any class of land is to be ascertained under section 29, clause (a), by an examination of the rates at which lands of a similar description and with similar advantages are held within any village or villages, the highest of such rates at which, and at rates higher than which, the larger portion of those lands is held may be taken to be the prevailing rate. [1885, s. 31A (1); Notfn.]

Illustrations.

200	...	...	...	...	.. „	1	8	0
150	...	...	...	...	... „	1	12	0
100	...	...	...	...	... „	2	0	0
Total ...	700

Then Rs. 2-4 is not the prevailing rate, because only 150 acres, or less than half, are held at that rate. Rupees 2 is not the prevailing rate, because 250 acres, or less than half, are held at that or a higher rate. Rupee 1-12 is the prevailing rate, because 400 acres, or more than half, are held either at this or a higher rate; and this is the highest rate at which, and at rates higher than which, more than half the land is held.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 32—34.)

(b) The rates at which land of a similar description and with similar advantages is held in a village are as follow :—

250	...	...	...	...	... „	1	4	0
150	...	...	...	...	... „	1	8	0
150	...		...	...	... „	1	12	0
50	...	...	...	...	... „	2	0	0
Total ... 700

Then, for the reasons given in Illustration (a), neither Rs. 2 nor Re. 1-12 is the prevailing rate, nor is Re. 1-8 the prevailing rate, because only 350 acres (exactly half) are held at Re. 1-8 or at rates higher than Re. 1-8. In this case, Re. 1-4 is the prevailing rate, because more than half the lands are held at Re. 1-4 or higher rates, and this is the highest rate at which, and at rates higher than which, more than half the land is held.

Limit to enhancement of prevailing rate.

32. When the prevailing rate has once been determined by a Revenue-officer under Chapter XI or by a Revenue Court in any suit under this Act, it shall not be liable to enhancement save on the ground and to the extent specified in section 29, clause (b), and section 33. [1885, s. 31B; Notfn.]

Rules as to enhancement on ground of rise in prices.

33. Where an enhancement is claimed on the ground of a rise in prices,— [1885, s. 32; Notfn.]

(a) the Court shall compare the average prices during the decennial period immediately preceding the institution of the suit with the average prices during such other decennial period as it may appear equitable and practicable to take for comparison;

(b) the enhanced rent shall bear to the previous rent the same proportion as the average prices during the last decennial period bear to the average prices during the previous decennial period taken for purposes of comparison:

Provided that, in calculating this proportion, the average prices during the later period shall be reduced by one-third of their excess over the average prices during the earlier period;

(c) if, in the opinion of the Court, it is not practicable to take the decennial periods prescribed in clause (a), the Court may, in its discretion, substitute any shorter periods therefor.

Rules as to enhancement on ground of landlord's improvement.

34. (1) Where an enhancement is claimed on the ground of a landlord's improvement,— [1885, s. 33; Notfn.]

(a) the Court shall not grant an enhancement, unless the improvement has been registered in accordance with this Act;

(b) in determining the amount of enhancement, the Court shall have regard to—

(i) the increase in the productive powers of the land caused or likely to be caused by the improvement,

(ii) the cost of the improvement,

(iii) the cost of the cultivation required for utilising the improvement, and

(iv) the existing rent, and the ability of the land to bear a higher rent.

(2) A decree under this section shall, on the application of the tenant or his successor in interest, be subject to re-consideration in the event of the improvement not producing or ceasing to produce the estimated effect.

Rules as to enhancement on ground of increase in productive powers due to fluvial action.

35. Where an enhancement is claimed on the ground of an increase in productive powers due to fluvial action,— [1885, s. 34; Notfn.]

(a) the Court shall not take into account any increase which is merely temporary or casual;

(b) the Court may enhance the rent to such an amount as it may deem fair and equitable, but not so as to give the landlord more than one-half of the value of the net increase in the produce of the land.

Enhancement by suit to be fair and equitable.

36. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing sections, the Court shall not in any case decree any enhancement which is under the circumstances of the case unfair or inequitable. [1885, s. 35; Notfn.]

Power to order progressive enhancement.

37. If the Court passing a decree for enhancement considers that the immediate enforcement of the decree in its full extent will be attended with hardship to the raiyat, it may direct that the enhancement shall be gradual; that is to say, that the rent shall increase yearly by degrees for any number of years not exceeding five until the limit of the enhancement decreed has been reached. [1885, s. 36; Notfn.]

Limitation of right to bring successive enhancement suits.

38. (1) A suit instituted for the enhancement of the rent of a holding on the ground that the rate of rent paid is below the prevailing rate, or on the ground of a rise in prices, shall not be entertained if within the fifteen years next preceding its institution the rent of the holding has been enhanced by a contract made after the tenth day of September, 1891, or if within the said period of fifteen years the rent has been commuted under section 41 or a decree has been passed under this Act or any enactment repealed by this Act enhancing the rent on either of the grounds aforesaid or on any ground corresponding thereto or dismissing the suit on the merits. [1885, s. 37; Notfn.]

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the provisions of rule 1 in Order XXIII in the first Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. V of 1908.

Reduction of rent.

Reduction of rent.

39. (1) An occupancy-raiyat holding at a money-rent may institute a suit for the reduction of his rent on the following grounds, and, except as hereinafter provided in the case of a diminution of the area of the holding, not otherwise, namely:— [1885, s. 38; Notfn.]

(a) on the ground that the soil of the holding has, without the fault of the raiyat, become permanently deteriorated by a deposit of sand or other specific cause, sudden or gradual, or

(b) on the ground that there has been a fall, not due to a temporary cause, in the average local prices of staple food-crops during the currency of the present rent.

(2) In any suit instituted under this section, the Court may direct such reduction of the rent as it thinks fair and equitable.

Price-lists.

Price-lists of staple food-crops.

40. (1) The Collector of every district shall prepare, monthly, or at shorter intervals, periodical lists of the market-prices of staple food-crops grown in such local areas as the Local Government may direct, and shall submit them to the Board of Revenue for approval or revision. [1885, s. 39; Notfn.]

(2) The Collector may, if so directed by the Local Government, prepare for any local area like price-lists relating to such past times as the Local Government thinks fit, and shall submit the lists so prepared to the Board of Revenue, for approval or revision.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clause 41.)

(3) The Collector shall, one month before submitting a price-list to the Board of Revenue under this section, publish it in the prescribed manner within the local area to which it relates; and if any landlord or tenant of land within the local area, within the said period of one month, presents to him in writing any objection to the list, he shall submit the same to the Board of Revenue with the list.

(4) The price-lists shall, when approved or revised by the Board of Revenue, be published in the local official Gazette; and any manifest error in any such list discovered after its publication may be corrected by the Collector with the sanction of the Board of Revenue.

(5) The Local Government shall cause to be compiled from the periodical lists prepared under this section lists of the average prices prevailing throughout each year, and shall cause them to be published annually in the local official Gazette.

(6) In any proceedings under this Chapter for an enhancement or reduction of rent on the ground of a rise or fall in prices, the Court shall refer to the lists published under this section, and shall presume that the prices shown in the lists prepared for any year subsequent to the commencement of this Act are correct, and may presume that the prices shown in the lists prepared for any year prior to the commencement of this Act are correct, unless and until it is proved that they are incorrect.

(7) The Local Government, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, shall make rules for determining what are to be deemed staple food-crops in any local area, and for the guidance of officers preparing price-lists under this section.

Commutation.

Commutation of rent payable in kind.

41. (1) Where an occupancy-raiyat pays for a holding rent in kind, or on the estimated value of a portion of the crop, or at rates varying with the crop, or partly in one of those ways and partly in another, or partly in any of those ways and partly in cash, either the raiyat or his landlord may apply to have the rent commuted to a money-rent.

(2) The application may be made to—

(i) the Collector or Subdivisional Officer, or

(ii) a Revenue-officer appointed by the Local Government, under the designation of Settlement-officer or Assistant Settlement-officer, for the purpose of making a survey and record-of-rights under Chapter XI, or

(iii) any other officer specially authorized in this behalf by the Local Government.

(3) On the receipt of the application, the officer may determine the sum to be paid as money-rent, and may order that the raiyat shall, in lieu of paying his rent in kind or otherwise as aforesaid, pay the sum so determined.

(4) In making the determination, the officer shall have regard to—

(a) the average money-rent payable by occupancy-raiyats for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity;

(b) the average value of the rent actually received by the landlord during the preceding ten years or during any shorter period for which evidence may be available;

(c) the charges incurred by the landlord in respect of irrigation under the system of rent in kind, and the arrangements made on commutation for continuing those charges;

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter V.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Chapter VI.—Non-occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 42—45.)

(d) improvements effected by the landlord or by the occupancy-raiyat in respect of the raiyat's holding, and

(e) the rules laid down in section 34 regarding enhancement of rent on the ground of a landlord's improvement.

(5) The order shall be in writing, and shall state the grounds on which it is made and the time from which it is to take effect. [An omission was made from this sub-clause in Select Committee.]

(6) If the application is opposed, the officer shall decide whether, in all the circumstances of the case, it is reasonable to grant it, and in cases in which—

(i) the landlord is, by physical or caste disability or on account of sex, unable to cultivate personally and is dependent for livelihood upon the share of the produce payable as rent, or

(ii) the land has been assigned to a religious or charitable endowment and the share of the produce payable as rent is applied for the purposes of such endowment.

he shall take into consideration the effect of commutation on the income of the landlord, unless such landlord has recovered rent in excess of the rate allowed by section 71.

(7) If the officer refuses the application, he shall record in writing his reasons for the refusal. [An omission was made from this sub-clause in Select Committee.]

(8) All orders passed under this section, including an order refusing an application, shall be subject to appeal in the prescribed manner and to the prescribed officer. [1908, s. 61 (7).] [Sub-clause (8) added in Select Committee.]

Period for which commuted rents are to remain unaltered.

42. (1) Where the rent of a holding has been commuted under section 41, it shall not, except on the ground of a landlord's improvement or of a subsequent alteration of the area of the holding, be enhanced for fifteen years; nor shall it be reduced for fifteen years, save on the ground of alteration in the area of the holding, or on the ground specified in clause (a) of section 39. [1885, s. 40; Notfn.]

(2) The said period of fifteen years shall be counted from the date on which the order takes effect under sub-section (5) of section 41.

CHAPTER VI.

NON-OCCUPANCY-RAIYATS.

Application of Chapter.

43. This Chapter shall apply to raiyats not having a right of occupancy, who are in this Act referred to as non-occupancy-raiyats. [1885, s. 41; Notfn.]

Initial rent of non-occupancy-raiyat.

44. When a non-occupancy-raiyat is admitted to the occupation of land, he shall become liable to pay such rent as may be agreed on between himself and his landlord at the time of his admission. [1885, s. 42 Notfn.]

Conditions of enhancement of rent.

45. The rent of a non-occupancy-raiyat shall not be enhanced except by registered agreement or by agreement under section 47: [1885, s. 42 Notfn.]

Provided that nothing in this section shall prevent a landlord from recovering rent at the rate at which it has been actually paid for a continuous period of not less than three years immediately preceding the period for which the rent is claimed.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter VI.—Non-occupancy-raiyats.— Clauses 46, 47.)

Grounds on which non-occupancy-raiyat may be ejected.

46. A non-occupancy-raiyat shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be liable to ejectment on one or more of the following grounds, and not otherwise, namely:— [1885, s. 44; Notfn.]

(a) on the ground that he has failed to pay an arrear of rent;

(b) on the ground that he has used the land in a manner which renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy, or that he has broken a condition consistent with this Act and on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between himself and his landlord, liable to be ejected;

(c) where he has been admitted to occupation of the land under a registered lease, on the ground that the term of the lease has expired;

(d) on the ground that he has refused to agree to pay a fair and equitable rent determined under section 47, or that the term for which he is entitled to hold at such a rent has expired.

Conditions of ejectment on ground of refusal to agree to enhancement.

47. (1) A suit for ejectment on the ground of refusal to agree to an enhancement of rent shall not be instituted against a non-occupancy-raiyat unless the landlord has tendered to the raiyat an agreement to pay the enhanced rent, and the raiyat has within three months before the institution of the suit refused to execute the agreement. [1885, s. 46; Notfn.]

(2) A landlord desiring to tender an agreement to a raiyat under this section may file it in the office of such Court or officer as the Local Government appoints in this behalf, for service on the raiyat. The Court or officer shall forthwith cause it to be served on the raiyat in the prescribed manner; and, when it has been so served, it shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have been tendered.

(3) If a raiyat on whom an agreement has been served under sub-section (2) executes it, and within one month from the date of service files it in the office from which it issued, it shall take effect from the commencement of the agricultural year next following.

(4) When an agreement has been executed and filed by a raiyat under sub-section (3), the Court or officer in whose office it is so filed shall forthwith cause a notice of its being so executed and filed to be served on the landlord in the prescribed manner.

(5) If the raiyat does not execute the agreement and file it under sub-section (3), he shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to have refused to execute it.

(6) If a raiyat refuses to execute an agreement tendered to him under this section, and the landlord thereupon institutes a suit to eject him, the Court shall determine what rent is fair and equitable for the holding.

(7) If the raiyat agrees to pay the rent so determined, he shall be entitled to remain in occupation of his holding at that rent for a term of five years from the date of the agreement, but on the expiration of that term shall be liable to ejectment under the conditions mentioned in section 46, unless he has acquired a right of occupancy.

(8) If the raiyat does not agree to pay the rent so determined, the Court shall pass a decree for ejectment.

(Chapter VI.—Non-occupancy-raiyats.—Chapter VII.—Lands exempted from Chapters V and VI.—Chapter VIII.—Under-raiyats.—Clauses 48—50.)

(9) In determining what rent is fair and equitable, the Court shall have regard to the rents generally paid by raiyats for land of a similar description and with like advantages in the same village.

(10) A decree for ejectment passed under this section shall take effect from the end of the agricultural year in which it is passed.

Explanation of "admitted to occupation."

48. Bar to acquisition of right of occupancy in, and to application of Chapter VI to, proprietors' private lands and certain other lands.

49. Notwithstanding anything contained in Chapter V, a right of occupancy shall not be acquired in, nor shall anything contained in Chapter VI apply to,— [1885, s. 116; Notfn.; 1908, s. 48.]

(b) land acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, for the Government or any Local Authority or Railway Company, or land belonging to the Government within a cantonment, while such land remains the property of the Government or of any Local Authority or Railway Company, or I of 1894.

(c) land belonging to the Government or to any Local Authority which is used for any public work, such as a road, canal or embankment, or is required for the repair or maintenance of the same, while such land continues to be so used or required. [Sub-clause (c) added in Select Committee.]

CHAPTER VIII.

UNDER-RAIYATS

Limit of rent recoverable from under-raiyats.

50. The landlord of an under-raiyat holding at a money-rent shall not be entitled to recover rent exceeding the rent which he himself pays by more than the following percentage of the same, namely :— [An omission was made from this clause in Select Committee.] [1885, s. 48; Notfn.]

(a) when the rent payable by the under-raiyat is payable under a registered lease or agreement—fifty per cent.; and

(b) in any other case—twenty-five per cent.:

Provided that, if the landlord be a bajaftidar, these percentages shall be calculated with reference to the average cash rent which is paid by occupancy-raiyats for similar land in the village, and not with reference to the rent which the bajaftidar himself pays. (a) on the expiration of the term of a written lease; or

CHAPTER IX.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO RENT.

Rules and presumptions as to fixity of rent.

52. (1) Where a tenure-holder or raiyat in a permanently-settled area, and his predecessors in interest, have held at a rent or rate of rent which has not been changed from the time of the Permanent Settlement, the rent or rate of rent shall not be liable to be increased except on the ground of an alteration in the area of the tenure or holding. [1859, ss. 4, 15, 16; 1885, s. 50.]

(2) If it is proved in any suit or other proceeding under this Act or under any other law that either a tenure-holder or raiyat and his predecessors in interest have held land situated in a permanently-settled area at a rent or rate of rent which has not been changed during the twenty years immediately before the institution of the suit or proceeding, it shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, that they have held at that rent or rate of rent from the time of the Permanent Settlement:

Provided that, if it is required by or under any enactment that in any local area, tenancies, or any classes of tenancies, at fixed rents or rates of rent shall be registered as such on or before a date specified by or under the enactment, the foregoing presumption shall not after that date apply to any tenancy or, as the case may be, to any tenancy of that class, in that local area unless the tenancy has been so registered.

(3) The operation of this section, so far as it relates to land held by a raiyat, shall not be affected by the fact of the land having been separated from other land which formed with it a single holding, or amalgamated with other land into one holding.

(4) Nothing in this section shall apply to a tenure held for a term of years or determinable at the will of the landlord.

Presumption as to amount of rent and conditions of holding.

53. If a question arises as to the amount of a tenant's rent or the conditions under which he holds in any agricultural year, he shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, to hold at the same rent and under the same conditions as in the last preceding agricultural year. [1859, s. 13; 1885, s. 51.]

Alteration of rent on alteration of area.

Alteration of rent in respect of alteration in area.

54. (1) Every tenant shall—

(a) be liable to pay additional rent for all land proved by measurement to be in excess of the area for which rent has been previously paid by him, unless it is proved that the excess is due to the addition to the [1885, s. 22; Notfn.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter IX.—General Provisions as to Rent.—Clause 54.) tenure or holding of land which, having previously belonged to the tenure or holding, was lost by diluvion or otherwise without any reduction of the rent being made; and (b) be entitled to a reduction of rent in respect of any deficiency proved by measurement to exist in the area of his tenure or holding as compared with the area for which rent has been previously paid by him, unless it is proved that the deficiency is due to the loss of land which was added to the area of the tenure or holding by alluvion or otherwise, and that an addition has not been made to the rent in respect of the addition to the area.

(3) In determining the area for which rent has been previously paid, the Court shall, if so required by any party to the suit, have regard to—

(a) the origin and conditions of the tenancy, for instance, whether the rent was a consolidated rent for the entire tenure or holding;

(b) whether the tenant has been allowed to hold additional land in consideration of an addition to his total rent or otherwise with the knowledge and consent of the landlord;

(c) the length of time during which the tenancy has lasted without dispute as to rent or area; and

(d) the length of the measure used or in local use at the time of the origin of the tenancy as compared with that used or in local use at the time of the institution of the suit.

(3) In determining the amount to be added to the rent, the Court shall have regard to the rates payable by tenants of the same class for lands of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity, and, in the case of a tenure-holder, to the profits to which he is entitled in respect of the rent of his tenure; and shall not in any case fix any rent which, in the circumstances of the case, is unfair or inequitable.

(4) The amount abated from the rent shall bear the same proportion to the rent previously payable as the diminution of the total yearly value of the tenure or holding bears to the previous total yearly value thereof; or, in default of satisfactory proof of the yearly value of the land lost, shall bear to the rent previously payable the same proportion as the diminution of area bears to the previous area of the tenure or holding.

(5) When, in a suit under this section, the landlord or tenant is unable to indicate any particular land as held in excess, the rent to be added on account of the excess area may be calculated at the average rate of rent paid on all the lands of the holding, exclusive of such excess area.

(6) When, in a suit under this section, the landlord or tenant proves that, at the time the measurement on which the claim is based was made, there existed, in respect of the estate or permanent tenure or part thereof in which the tenure or holding is situate, a practice of settlement being made after measurement of the land assessed with rent, it may be presumed that the area of the tenure or holding specified in any lease or counterpart engagement, or (where there is an entry of area in a counterfoil receipt corresponding to the entry in the rent-roll) in any rent-roll relating to it, has been entered in such lease, counterpart engagement or rent-roll after measurement.

Reclamation of waste

54A. (1) No waste land may be reclaimed by a raiyat without the oral or written consent of his landlord except where the land was, before such reclamation, included in the tenancy of the raiyat and he has acquired a right of occupancy in it. [New clause 54A added in Select Committee.]

(2) Where the consent of the landlord is required by sub-section (1) for the reclamation of waste land, such consent shall be deemed to have been given if, within four years from the date on which the raiyat commenced his reclamation of the land, the landlord has not made an application to the Collector for his ejectment:

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply to waste land which is not included in a village as defined in clause (26) of section 3.

(3) Waste land which has been reclaimed under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall be assessable to rent according to the terms of any agreement entered into by the parties before or after the reclamation. In the absence of any such agreement, the Collector may, on the application of either of the parties, settle a fair and equitable rent for the land, and, in doing so, shall have regard to—

(i) the provisions of section 54, and

Payment of Rent.

Instalments of rent.

55. (1) Subject to agreement or established usage, a money-rent payable by a tenant shall be paid in two equal instalments falling due on the last day of each half of the agricultural year. [1885, s. 53; Notfn.]

(2) Subject to agreement or established usage, a produce-rent payable by a tenant shall be payable at the time of harvest, and shall be deemed to have fallen due on the last day of the Uriya month during which the crop is harvested. [Sub-clause (2) added in Select Committee.]

Time and place for payment of rent.

56. (1) Every tenant shall pay each instalment of rent before sunset of the day on which it falls due. [1885, s. 54; Notfn.]

(2) The payment shall, except in cases where a tenant is allowed under this Act to deposit his rent, be made at the landlord's village-office, or at such other convenient place as may be appointed in that behalf by the landlord:

Provided that the Local Government may make rules, either generally or for any specified local area, authorizing a tenant to pay his rent by postal money-order.

(3) Any instalment or part of an instalment of rent not duly paid at or before the time when it falls due shall be deemed an arrear.

Appropriation of payments.

57. (1) When a tenant makes a payment on account of rent, he may declare the year or the year and instalment to which he wishes the payment to be credited, and the payment shall be credited accordingly. [1885, s. 55 Notfn.]

(2) If he does not make any such declaration, the payment may be credited to the account of such year and instalment as the landlord thinks fit.

(2) The landlord shall prepare and retain a counterfoil of the receipt.

(3) The receipt and counterfoil shall specify such of the several particulars shown in the form of receipt given in Schedule III as can be specified by the landlord at the time of payment:

Provided that the Local Government may prescribe or sanction a modified form, either generally or for any particular local area or class of cases.

(4) If a receipt does not contain substantially the particulars required by this section, it shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, to be an acquittance in full of all demands for rent up to the date on which the receipt was given.

Tenant entitled to full discharge or statement of account at close of year.

59. (1) Where a landlord admits that all rent payable by a tenant to the end of the agricultural year has been paid, the tenant shall be entitled to receive from the landlord, free of charge, within three months after the end of the year, a receipt in full discharge of all rent falling due to the end of the year, signed by the landlord. [1885, s. 57; Notfn.]

(2) Where the landlord does not so admit, the tenant shall be entitled, on paying a fee of four annas, to receive, within three months after the end of the year, a statement of account specifying the several particulars shown in the form of account given in Schedule III, or in such other form as may be prescribed by the Local Government, either generally or for any particular local area or class of cases.

(3) The landlord shall prepare and retain a copy of the statement, containing similar particulars.

Penalties and fine for withholding receipts and statements of account and failing to keep counterparts.

60. (1) If a landlord, without reasonable cause, refuses or neglects to deliver to a tenant a receipt, containing the particulars prescribed by section 58, for any rent paid by the tenant, the tenant may, within three months from the date of payment, institute a suit to recover from him such penalty, not exceeding double the amount of value of that rent, as the Court thinks fit. [1885, s. 58; Notfn; 1908, s. 54 (b), (4).]

(2) If a landlord, without reasonable cause, refuses or neglects to deliver to a tenant demanding the same either the receipt in full discharge or, if the tenant is not entitled to such a receipt, the statement of account for any year prescribed in section 59, the tenant may, within the next ensuing agricultural year, institute a suit to recover from him such penalty as the Court thinks fit, not exceeding double the aggregate amount or value of all rent paid by the tenant to the landlord during the year for which the receipt or account should have been delivered.

(3a) If a landlord or his agent, without reasonable cause, fails to deliver to the tenant a receipt or statement, or to prepare and retain a counterfoil or copy of a receipt or statement, as required by either of the said sections, such landlord or agent, as the case may be, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, to be imposed, after summary inquiry, by the Collector.

(4) If, in any suit or other proceeding under this Act or under any other law, the Court or presiding officer (not being the Collector) finds that any landlord or agent has failed—

(a) to deliver to a tenant a receipt in the prescribed form, or

(b) to prepare and retain a counterfoil, in the prescribed form, of a receipt delivered to a tenant as aforesaid, such Court or officer shall inform the Collector.

(5) Where, in any case instituted under sub-section (3a), the Collector discharges any landlord or agent, and is satisfied that the complaint of the tenant on which the proceedings were instituted is false or vexatious, the Collector may, in his discretion, by his order of discharge, direct the tenant to pay to such landlord or agent, such compensation, not exceeding fifty rupees, as the Collector thinks fit.

64. (1) If it appears to the Court to which an application is made under section 63 that the applicant is entitled under that section to deposit the rent, it shall receive the rent and give a receipt for it in the prescribed form. [1885, s. 62; Notfn.]

(2) A receipt given under this section shall operate as an acquittance for the amount of the rent payable by the tenant and deposited as aforesaid, in the same manner and to the same extent as if that amount of rent had been received—

(4) No suit or other proceeding shall be instituted against the Secretary of State for India in Council, or against any officer of the Government, in respect of anything done by a Court receiving a deposit under the foregoing sections; but nothing in this section shall prevent any person entitled to receive the amount of any such deposit from recovering the same from a person to whom it has been paid under this section.

Arrears of Rent.

Liability to sale for arrears in case of permanent tenure-holder, bajiaftidar, raiyat holding at fixed rate or occupancy-raiyat.

67. Where a tenant is a permanent tenure-holder, a bajiaftidar, a raiyat holding at fixed rates or an occupancy-raiyat, he shall not be liable to ejectment for arrears of rent, but his tenure or holding shall be liable to sale in execution of a decree for the rent thereof, and the rent shall be a first charge thereon. [1885, s. 65; Notfn.]

Ejectment for arrears in other cases.

68. (1) When an arrear of rent remains due at the end of the agricultural year from a tenant not being a permanent tenure-holder, a bajiaftidar, a raiyat holding at fixed rates or an occupancy-raiyat, the landlord may, whether he has obtained a decree for the recovery of the arrear or not, and whether he is entitled by the terms of any contract to eject the tenant for arrears or not, institute a suit to eject the tenant. [1885, s. 66; Notfn.]

(2) In a suit for ejectment for an arrear of rent, a decree passed in favour of the plaintiff shall specify the amount of the arrear and of the interest (if any) due thereon; and the decree shall not be executed if that amount and the costs of the suit are paid into Court within fifteen days from the date of the decree, or, when the Court is closed on the fifteenth day, on the day upon which the Court re-opens.

(3) The Court may, for special reasons, extend the period of fifteen days mentioned in this section.

Interest on arrears of money-rent.

69. An arrear of money-rent shall bear simple interest, at the rate of twelve and-a-half per centum per annum, from the expiration of that half of the agricultural year in which the instalment falls due to the date of payment or of the institution of the suit, whichever date is earlier. [1885, s. 67; Notfn.]

Power to award damages on rent withheld without reasonable cause, or to defendant improperly sued for rent.

70. (1) If, in any suit brought for the recovery of arrears of rent, it appears to the Court that the defendant has, without reasonable or probable cause, neglected or refused to pay the amount of rent due by him, the Court may award to the plaintiff, in addition to the amount decreed for rent and costs, such damages, not exceeding twenty-five per centum on the amount of rent decreed, as it thinks fit: [1885, s. 68; Notfn.]

without reasonable or probable cause, the Court may award to the defendant, by way of damages, such sum, not exceeding twenty-five per centum on the whole amount claimed by the plaintiff, as it thinks fit.

Produce-rents.

Recovery of produce-rent.

71. (1) Where the rent of any land is paid in kind, or on the estimated value of a portion of the crop, or at rates varying with the crop, or partly in one of those ways and partly in another, or partly in any of those ways and partly in cash, the landlord shall not be entitled to recover rent for that land in excess of half the gross produce of the land, or the value thereof, or any interest on such rent, or to recover any arrear of such rent by suit, unless the suit is instituted before the end of the agricultural year next following that for which the rent is claimed to be due. [Cf. 1885, s. 40; and cl. 41, ante.]

Explanation.—In applying the provisions of this section, the court shall estimate the value of the produce according to the rates obtaining locally at the time of harvest. [Explanation and sub-clause (2) added in Select Committee.]

(2) Nothing in this section shall bar a suit for an arrear of rent recoverable under the law hitherto in force, provided that such suit shall be brought before the end of the first agricultural year after the commencement of this Act.

Order for appraising or dividing produce.

72. (1) Where rent is taken by appraisement or division of the produce,— [1885, s. 69; Notfn.]

(a) if either the landlord or the tenant neglects to attend, either personally or by agent, at the proper time for making the appraisement or division, or

(b) if there is a dispute about the quantity, value or division of the produce, the Collector may, on the application of either party, and on his depositing such sum on account of expenses as the Collector may require, make an order appointing such officer as he thinks fit to appraise or divide the produce.

(2) The Collector may, without such an application, make the like order in any case where, in the opinion of the District or Sub-divisional Magistrate, the making of the order would be likely to prevent a breach of the peace.

(3) Where a Collector makes an order under this section, he may, by order, prohibit the removal of the produce until the appraisement or division has been effected; but an order made by the Collector under this sub-section shall not prevent the execution of any order passed by the Court for the distraint of the tenant's crops.

(4) Every officer appointed by the Collector under sub-section (1) to appraise or divide the produce shall, for the purposes of the Indian Penal Code, be deemed to be a public servant. XLV of 1860.

Procedure where officer appointed.

73. (1) When a Collector appoints an officer under section 72, the Collector may, in his discretion, direct the officer to associate with himself any other persons as assessors, and may give him instructions regarding the number, qualifications and mode of selection of those assessors (if any), and the procedure to be followed in making the appraisement or division; and the officer shall conform to the instructions so given. [1885, s. 70; Notfn.]

(2) The officer shall, before making an appraisement or division, give notice to the landlord and tenant of the time and place at which the appraisement or division will be made; but if either the landlord or the tenant fails to attend, either personally or by agent, he may proceed ex parte.

(3) When the officer has made the appraisement or division, he shall submit a report of his proceedings to the Collector.

[1885, s. 72; Notfn.]

CHAPTER X.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS AS TO LANDLORDS AND TENANTS.

Improvements.

Definition of "improvement."

79. (1) For the purposes of this Act, the term "improvement," used with reference to a raiyat's holding, shall mean any work which adds to the value of the holding, which is suitable to the holding and consistent with the purpose for which it was let, and which, if not executed on the holding, is either executed directly for its benefit or is, after execution, made directly beneficial to it. [1885, s. 70.]

(2) Until the contrary is shown, the following shall be presumed to be improvements within the meaning of this section:—

(a) the construction of wells, tanks, water-channels and other works for the storage, supply or distribution of water for the purposes of agriculture, or for the use of men and cattle employed in agriculture;

(b) the preparation of land for irrigation;

(c) the drainage, reclamation from rivers or other waters, or protection from floods, or from erosion or other damage by water, of land used for agricultural purposes, or waste-land which is culturable;

(d) the reclamation, clearance, enclosure or permanent improvement of land for agricultural purposes;

(e) the renewal or re-construction of any of the foregoing works, or alterations therein or additions thereto; and

(f) the erection of a suitable dwelling-house for the raiyat and his family, together with all necessary out-offices.

(3) But no work executed by the raiyat of a holding shall be deemed to be an improvement for the purposes of this Act if it substantially diminishes the value of his landlord's property.

Right to make improvements in case of holding at fixed rates or occupancy-holding.

80. (1) Where a raiyat holds at fixed rates or has an occupancy-right in his holding, neither the raiyat nor his landlord, shall, as such, be entitled to prevent the other from making an improvement in respect of the holding, except on the ground that he is willing to make it himself. [1885, s. 77.]

(2) If both the raiyat and his landlord wish to make the same improvement, the raiyat shall have the prior right to make it, unless it affects another holding or other holdings under the same landlord.

Collector to decide question as to right to make improvement, &c.

81. If a question arises between the raiyat and his landlord— [1885, s. 78.]

(a) as to the right to make an improvement, or the Collector may, on the application of either party, decide the question; and his decision shall be final.

(b) as to whether a particular work is an improvement,

Right to make improvements in case of non-occupancy-holding.

82. (1) A non-occupancy-raiyat shall be entitled to construct, maintain and repair a well for the irrigation of his holding, with all works incidental thereto, and to erect a suitable dwelling-house for himself and his family, with all necessary out-offices; but shall not, except as aforesaid and as next hereinafter provided, be entitled to make any other improvement in respect of his holding without his landlord's permission in writing. [1885, s. 79.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Clauses 83—85)

(2) A non-occupancy-raiyat who would, but for the want of his landlord's permission in writing, be entitled to make an improvement in respect of his holding, may, if he desires that the improvement be made, deliver, or cause to be delivered, to his landlord a request in writing calling upon him to make the improvement within a reasonable time; and, if the landlord is unable or neglects to comply with that request, may make the improvement himself.

Registration of landlord's improvements.

83. (1) A landlord may, by application to such Revenue-officer as the Local Government may appoint, register any improvement which he has lawfully made, or which has been lawfully made at his expense, or which he has assisted a tenant in making. [1885, s. 80 Notin.]

(2) The application shall be in such form, shall contain such information, and shall be verified in such manner, by local inquiry or otherwise, as the Local Government may, by rule, direct.

(3) The officer receiving the application may reject it if it has not been made within twelve months—

(a) in the case of improvements made before the commencement of this Act—from the commencement of this Act;

(b) in the case of improvements made after the commencement of this Act—from the date of the completion of the work.

Application to record evidence as to improvement.

84. (1) If any landlord or tenant of a holding desires that evidence relating to any improvement made in respect thereof be recorded, he may apply to a Revenue-officer, who shall thereupon, at a time and place of which notice shall be given to the parties, record the evidence, unless he considers that there are no reasonable grounds for making the application, or it is made to appear that the subject-matter thereof is under inquiry in a Revenue Court. [1885, s. 81.]

(2) When any matter has been recorded under this section, the record thereof shall be admissible in evidence in every subsequent proceeding between the landlord and tenant or any persons claiming under them.

Compensation for raiyat's improvements.

85. (1) Every raiyat who is ejected from his holding shall be entitled to compensation for improvements which have been made in respect thereof in accordance with this Act by him, or by his predecessor in interest, and for which compensation has not already been paid. [1885, s. 82.]

(2) Whenever a Court makes a decree or order for the ejectment of a raiyat, it shall determine the amount of compensation (if any) due under this section to the raiyat for improvements, and shall make the decree or order of ejectment conditional on the payment of that amount to the raiyat.

(3) No compensation under this section for an improvement shall be claimable where the raiyat has made the improvement in pursuance of a contract or under a lease binding him, in consideration of some substantial advantage to be obtained by him, to make the improvement without compensation, and he has obtained that advantage.

(4) Improvements made by a raiyat between the twenty-seventh day of June, 1892, and the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been made in accordance with this Act.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Clauses 86—88.)

(5) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, make rules requiring the Court to associate with itself, for the purpose of estimating the compensation to be awarded under this section for an improvement, such number of assessors as the Local Govemment thinks fit, and determining the qualifications of those assessors and the mode of selecting them.

Principle on which compensation is to be estimated.

86. (1) In estimating the compensation to be awarded under section 85 for an improvement, regard shall be had— [1885, s. 3.]

(a) to the amount by which the value, or the produce, of the holding, or the value of that produce, is increased by the improvement;

(b) to the condition of the improvement, and the probable duration of its effects;

(c) to the labour and capital required for the making of such an improvement;

(d) to any reduction or remission of rent or any other advantage given by the landlord to the raiyat in consideration of the improvement; and

(e) in the case of a reclamation or of the conversion of unirrigated into irrigated land, to the length of time during which the raiyat has had the benefit of the improvement at an unenhanced rent.

(2) When the amount of the compensation has been assessed, the Court may, if the landlord and raiyat agree, direct that, instead of being paid wholly in money, it shall be made wholly or partly in some other way.

Acquisition of land for building and other purposes.

Acquisition of land for building and other purposes.

87. (1) The Collector may, on the application of the landlord of a holding, [1885, s. 84; 1908, s. 50.]

and on being satisfied that he is desirous of acquiring the holding or part thereof for some reasonable and sufficient purpose having relation to the good of the holding or of the tenure or estate in which it is comprised, such as the use of the land for a village road or embankment, or for any charitable, religious or educational purpose, or for the purpose of mining, manufacture, drainage or irrigation, or as building ground for any such purpose, or for access to land used or required for any such purpose, authorize the acquisition thereof by the landlord upon such conditions as the Collector may think fit, and require the tenant to sell his interest in the holding or part to the landlord upon such terms as may be approved by the Collector, including full compensation to the tenant.

(2) If the landlord tenders to the tenant such sum as the Collector has approved under sub-section (1) as payment for any land and the tenant refuses to receive the same, the Collector may, on the landlord depositing the said sum with the Collector, give possession of the land to the landlord in the prescribed manner. [Sub-clause (2) added in Select Committee.]

Sub-letting.

Restrictions on sub-letting.

88. (1) If a raiyat sub-lets otherwise than by a registered instrument, the sub-lease shall not be valid against his landlord unless made with the landlord's consent. [1885, s. 85.]

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Clauses 89, 90.)

(2) A sub-lease by a raiyat shall not be valid, nor shall it be admitted to registration if it purports to create a term exceeding nine years.

(3) Where a raiyat has, without the consent of his landlord, granted a sub-lease by an instrument registered before the commencement of this Act, the sub-lease shall not be valid for more than nine years from the commencement of this Act.

(4) Nothing in this section shall apply to a sajaftidar raiyat who may sub-let without the consent of his landlord and for any term of years. [1885, s. 25.] [Sub-clause (4) added in Select Committee.]

Surrender and Abandonment.

Surrender.

89. (1) A raiyat not bound by a lease or other agreement for a fixed period may, at the end of any agricultural year, surrender his holding. [1859 s. 19 1885, s. 86.]

(2) But, notwithstanding the surrender, the raiyat shall be liable to indemnify the landlord against any loss of the rent of the holding for the agricultural year next following the date of the surrender, unless he gives to his landlord, at least three months before he surrenders, notice in writing of his intention to surrender.

(3) When a raiyat has surrendered his holding, the Court shall in the following cases, for the purposes of sub-section (2), presume, until the contrary is shown, that such notice was so given, namely:

(a) if the raiyat takes a new holding in the same village from the same landlord during the agricultural year next following the surrender;

(b) if the raiyat ceases, at least three months before the end of the agricultural year at the end of which the surrender is made, to reside in the village in which the surrendered holding is situate.

(4) The raiyat may, if he thinks fit, cause the notice to be served through the Revenue Court within the jurisdiction of which the holding or any portion of it is situate.

(5) When a raiyat has surrendered his holding, the landlord may enter on the holding and either let it to another tenant or take it into cultivation himself.

(6) When a holding is subject to an incumbrance secured by a registered instrument, the surrender of the holding shall not be valid unless the landlord is informed of the incumbrance, and the surrender is made with the consent, in writing, of the landlord and the incumbrancer.

(7) Save as provided in sub-section (6), nothing in this section shall affect any arrangement by which a raiyat and his landlord may arrange for a surrender of the whole or a part of the holding.

Abandonment.

90. (1) If a non-resident raiyat, or a resident raiyat who voluntarily abandons his residence in the village, ceases to cultivate his holding either by himself or some other person, without giving notice to his landlord and without arranging for payment of his rent as it falls due, the landlord may, at any time after the expiration of the agricultural year in which the raiyat thus ceases to cultivate, enter on the holding and let it to another tenant, or take it into cultivation himself. [1885, s. 87.]

(2) Before a landlord enters under this section, he shall file a notice in the prescribed form in the Collector's office, stating that he has treated the holding as abandoned and is about to enter on it accordingly; and the Collector shall cause a notice to be published in such manner as the Local Government may, by rule, direct.

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter X.—Miscellaneous Provisions as to Landlords and Tenants.—Clauses 91—93.)

(3) When a landlord enters under this section, the raiyat shall be entitled to institute a suit for recovery of possession of the land at any time not later than the expiration of two years, or, in the case of a non-occupancy-raiyat, six months, from the date of the publication of the notice; and thereupon the Court may, on being satisfied that the raiyat did not voluntarily abandon his holding, order recovery of possession on such terms (if any) with respect to compensation to persons injured and payment of arrears of rent as to the Court may seem just.

(4) Where the whole or part of a holding has been sublet by a registered instrument, the landlord shall, before entering under this section, on the holding, offer the whole holding to the sub-lessee for the remainder of the term of the sub-lease at the rent paid by the raiyat who has ceased to cultivate the holding, and on condition of the sub-lessee paying up all arrears due from that raiyat. If the sub-lessee refuses or neglects within a reasonable time to accept the offer, the landlord may avoid the sub-lease and may enter on the holding and let it to another tenant or cultivate it himself as provided in sub-sections (1) and (2).

Sub-division of tenancy.

Division of tenancy not binding on landlord without his consent.

91. No division of a tenure or holding, save as provided in sections 13A, 13B, 13C and 25A, and no distribution of a rent payable in respect of a tenure or holding, save as provided in sub-section (2) of section 25A shall be binding on the landlord unless it is made with his express consent in writing, or with that of his agent duly authorized in that behalf: [1885, ss. 27, 88; 1908, s. 13.]

Provided that, if there is proved to have been made in any landlord's rent-roll any entry showing that any tenure or holding has been divided, or that the rent payable in respect thereof has been distributed, such landlord may be presumed to have given his express consent in writing to such division or distribution.

Ejectment.

No ejectment except in execution of decree.

92. No tenant shall be ejected from his tenure or holding except in execution of a decree. [1859, s. 21, prov.; s. 22, prov.; 1885, s. 84.]

(2) A landlord shall not, without the consent of the tenant, or the written permission of the Collector, be entitled to measure land more than once in ten years, except in the following cases, namely:—

(a) where the area of the tenure or holding is liable, by reason of alluvion, diluvion or reclamation to vary from year to year, and the rent payable depends on the area;

(b) where the area under cultivation is liable to vary from year to year and the rent payable depends on the area under cultivation;

(2) If the tenant refuses or neglects to comply with the order, a map or other record of the boundaries and measurements of the land, prepared under the direction of the landlord at the time when the tenant was directed to attend, shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is shown.

Standard of measurement.

95. (1) Every measurement of land made by order of a Revenue Court or of a Revenue-officer in any suit or proceeding under this Act shall be made by the acre, unless the Court or Revenue-officer directs that it be made by any other specified standard. [Ben. Act VI of 1862, s. 11; 1885, s. 92.]

(2) If the rights of the parties are regulated by any local measure other than the acre, the acre shall be converted into the local measure for the purposes of the suit or proceeding.

(3) The Local Government may, after local inquiry, make rules declaring for any local area the standard or standards of measurement locally in use in that area; and every declaration so made shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is shown.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 110—112.)

Part II.—Settlement of Rents, Preparation of Settlement Rent Roll, and Disposal of Objections, in cases where a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made.

Settlement of rents and preparation of Settlement Rent Roll when to be undertaken by Revenue-officer.

110. In every case in which a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made, the Revenue-officer shall, after publication of the draft of the record-of-rights under section 108, sub-section (1), [1885, s. 104; Notfn.]

(a) settle fair and equitable rents for tenants of every class,

(b) notwithstanding anything contained in section 257, settle a fair and equitable rent for any land in respect of which he has recorded, in pursuance of clause (m) of section 105, that the occupant is not entitled to hold it without payment of rent, and

(c) prepare a Settlement Rent Roll:

Provided that the Revenue-officer shall not settle the rents of tenants of every class in an estate or tenure belonging to the Government, if it does not appear to the Local Government to be expedient that he should do so.

Procedure for Settlement of rents and preparation of Settlement Rent Roll under his Part.

111. (1) For the purposes of settling rents under this Part and preparing a Settlement Rent Roll, the Revenue-officer may proceed in any one or more of the following ways, or partly in one of those ways and partly in another, that is to say— [1885, s. 104; Notfn.]

(a) if in any case the landlord and tenant agree between themselves as to the amount of the rent fairly and equitably payable; the Revenue-officer shall satisfy himself that the rent so agreed upon is fair and equitable; and if he is so satisfied, but not otherwise, it may be settled and recorded as the fair and equitable rent;

(b) the Revenue-officer may himself propose what he deems to be the fair and equitable rent; and if the amount so proposed is accepted, either orally or in writing, by the tenant, and if the landlord, after notice to attend, raises no objection, the rent so proposed may be settled and recorded as the fair and equitable rent;

(c) if the circumstances are, in the opinion of the Revenue-officer, such as to make it practicable to prepare a Table of Rates showing for any local area, estate, tenure or village or part thereof, or for each class of land in any local area, estate, tenure or village or part thereof, the rate or rates of rent fairly and equitably payable by tenure-holders and raiyats and under-raiyats of each class, he may frame a Table of Rates and settle and record all or any of the rents on the basis of such rates in the manner hereinafter described;

(d) the Revenue-officer may settle all or any of the rents by maintaining the existing rentals recorded in the record-of-rights as published under section 108, sub-section (1), or by enhancing or reducing such rentals:

Provided that, in making any such settlement, regard shall be had to the principles laid down in sections 7 to 10, 26 to 37, 39, 40, 45, 52 to 54, 243 and 256.

(2) The Settlement Rent Roll shall show the name of each landlord and of each tenant whose rent has been settled, and the amount of each such tenant's rent payable for the area shown against his name.

Contents of Table of Rates.

112. (1) If a Table of Rates is prepared, it shall specify— [1885, s. 104B Notfn.]

(a) the class or several classes of land for which, having regard to the nature of the soil, situation, means of irrigation, and other like considerations, it is in the opinion of the Revenue-officer necessary or practicable to fix a rate or different rates of rent; and

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 113—115.)

(b) the rate or rates of rent fairly and equitably payable by tenants holding land of each such class whose rent is liable to alteration.

Local publication of Table.

(2) When the Revenue-officer has prepared the Table of Rates, he shall publish it in the local area, estate, tenure or village to which it relates, in the vernacular language prevailing in the district, and in the prescribed manner.

Revenue-officer to deal with objections.

(3) Any person objecting to any entry in the Table of Rates may present a petition to the Revenue-officer within a period of one month after such publication, and the Revenue-officer shall consider any such objection and may alter or amend the Table.

Table to be submitted to superior Revenue authority.

(4) If no objection is made within the said period of one month, or, where objections are made, after they have been disposed of, the Revenue-officer shall submit his proceedings to the Revenue authority empowered by rule made by the Local Government to confirm the Tables and Rent Rolls prepared under this Part (hereinafter called the "confirming authority"), with a full statement of the grounds of his proposals, and shall forward any petitions of objection which he may have received.

Proceedings of confirming authority.

(5) The confirming authority may confirm a Table submitted under sub-section (4), or may disallow the same, or may amend the same in any manner which appears to it proper, and may allow in whole or in part any objection forwarded therewith or subsequently made, or may return the case for further inquiry.

Effect of Table.

(6) When a Table of Rates has been confirmed by the confirming authority, the order confirming it shall be conclusive evidence that the proceedings for the preparation of the Table have been duly conducted in accordance with this Act; and it may be presumed that the rates shown in the Table for tenants of each class, for each class of land, are the fair and equitable rates payable for land of that class within the area to which the Table applies.

Application of Table of Rates.

113. When a Table of Rates has been confirmed under section 112, sub-section (5), the Revenue-officer may settle all or any of the rents, and prepare the Settlement Rent Roll, on the basis of the rates shown in the Table, by calculating the rental of each tenure or each holding of a raiyat or under-raiyat on the area of such tenure or holding at the said rates: [1885, s. 104C; Notfn.]

Provided that the Revenue-officer shall not be bound to apply the said rates in any particular case in which he may consider it unfair or inequitable to do so.

Rules and principles to be followed in framing Table of Rates, and settling rents in accordance therewith.

114. In framing a Table of Rates under section 112, and in settling rents under section 113, the Revenue-officer shall be guided by such rules as the Local Government may make in this behalf, and shall, so far as may be, and subject to the proviso to the said section 113, have regard to the general principles of this Act regulating the enhancement or reduction of rents. [1885, s. 104D; Notfn.]

Preliminary publication and amendment of Settlement Rent Roll.

115. (1) When a Settlement Rent Roll for a local area, estate, tenure or village or part thereof has been prepared, the Revenue-officer shall cause a draft of it to be published in the prescribed manner and for the prescribed period, and shall receive and consider any objections made to any entry therein, or omission therefrom, during the period of publication, and shall dispose of such objections according to such rules as the Local Government may prescribe. [1885 s. 104E; Notfn.]

(2) The Revenue-officer may, of his own motion or on the application of any party aggrieved, at any time before a Settlement Rent Roll is submitted to the confirming authority under section 116, revise any rent entered therein:

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 116—118.)

Provided that no such entry shall be revised until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Final revision of Settlement Rent Roll, and incorporation of the same in the record-of-rights.

116. (1) When all objections have been disposed of under section 115, the Revenue-officer shall submit the Settlement Rent Roll to the confirming authority, with a full statement of the grounds of his proposals and a summary of the objections (if any) which he has received. [1885, s. 104F; Notfn.]

(2) The confirming authority may sanction the Settlement Rent Roll, with or without amendment, or may return it for revision:

Provided that no entry shall be amended, or omission supplied, until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

(3) After sanction by the confirming authority, the Revenue-officer shall finally frame the Settlement Rent Roll, and shall incorporate it with the record-of-rights published in draft under section 108.

Appeal to, and revision by, superior Revenue authorities.

117. (1) An appeal, if presented within two months from the date of the order appealed against, shall lie from every order passed by a Revenue-officer, prior to the final publication of the record-of-rights, on any objection made under section 112, sub-section (3), or section 115; and such appeal shall lie to such superior Revenue authority as the Local Government may, by rule, prescribe. [1885, s. 104G; Notfn.]

(2) The Board of Revenue may, in any case under this Part, on application or of its own motion, direct the revision of any record-of-rights, or any portion of a record-of-rights, at any time within two years from the date of the certificate of final publication, but not so as to affect any order passed by a Civil Court under section 118:

Provided that no such direction shall be made until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts in matters relating to rent.

118. (1) Any person aggrieved by an entry of a rent settled in a Settlement Rent Roll prepared under sections 111 to 116 and incorporated in a record-of-rights finally published under section 108, or by an omission to settle a rent for entry in such Settlement Rent Roll, may institute a suit in the Civil Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the possession of the land to which the entry relates or in respect of which the omission was made. [1885, s. 104H; Notfn.]

(2) Such suit must be instituted within six months from the date of the certificate of final publication of the record-of-rights, or, if an appeal has been presented to a Revenue authority under section 117, then within six months from the date of the disposal of such appeal.

(3) Such suit may be instituted on any of the following grounds, and on no others, namely:—

(a) that the land is not liable to the payment of rent;

(b) that the land, although entered in the record-of-rights as being held rent-free, is liable to the payment of rent;

(c) that the relation of landlord and tenant does not exist;

(d) that land has been wrongly recorded as part of a particular estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenancy, or wrongly omitted from the lands of an estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenancy;

(e) that the tenant belongs to a class different from that to which he is shown in the record-of-rights as belonging;

Orissa Tenancy.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents.—Clauses 119, 120.)

(f) that the Revenue-officer has not postponed the operation of the settled rent under the provisions of section 131, clause (a), or has wrongly fixed the date from which it is to take effect under that clause;

(g) that the special conditions and incidents of the tenancy, or any right of way or other easement attaching to the land which is the subject of the tenancy, have not, or has not, been recorded, or have, or has, been wrongly recorded.

The Secretary of State for India in Council shall not be made a defendant in any such suit, unless the Government is landlord or tenant of the land to which the aforesaid entry relates or in respect of which the aforesaid omission was made.

(4) If it appears to the Court that the entry of rent settled is incorrect, it shall, in case (a) or case (c) mentioned in sub-section (3), declare that no rent is payable, and shall in any other case settle a fair rent; and, in any case referred to in clause (f) or clause (g) of the said sub-section (3), the Court may declare the date from which the rent settled is to take effect, or pass such order relating to the entry as it may think fit.

(5) When the Court has declared under sub-section (4) that no rent is payable, the entry to the contrary effect in the record-of-rights shall be deemed to be cancelled.

(6) In settling a fair rent under sub-section (4), the Court shall be guided by the rents of the other tenures or holdings of the same class comprised in the same Settlement Rent Roll, as settled under sections 111 to 116.

(7) Any rent settled by the Court under sub-section (4) shall be deemed to have been duly settled in place of the rent entered in the Settlement Rent Roll.

(8) Save as provided in this section, no suit shall be brought in any Civil Court in respect of the settlement of any rent or the omission to settle any rent under sections 111 to 116.

(9) When a Civil Court has passed final orders or a decree under this section, it shall notify the same to the Collector of the district who shall make a note of such orders or decree in the record-of-rights finally published under section 108, sub-section 2, and such note shall be considered as part of the record.

Presumptions as to rents settled under sections 111 to 117.

119. Subject to the provisions of section 118, all rents settled under sections 111 to 116 and entered in a record-of-rights finally published under section 108, or settled under section 117, shall be deemed to have been correctly settled and to be fair and equitable rents within the meaning of this Act. [1885, s. 104J Notfn.]

Part III.—Settlement of Rents and Decision of Disputes in cases where a settlement of land-revenue is not being or is not about to be made.

Settlement of rents by Revenue-officer in cases where a settlement of land-revenue is not being or is not about to be made.

120. (1) When, in any case in which a settlement of land-revenue is not being made or is not about to be made, either the landlord or the tenant applies, within three months from the date of the certificate of the final publication of the record-of-rights under section 108, sub-section (2), for a settlement of rent, the Revenue-officer shall settle a fair and equitable rent in respect of the land held by the tenant. [1885, s. 105 Notfn.]

Explanation.—A superior landlord may apply for a settlement of rent, notwithstanding that his estate or tenure or part thereof has been temporarily leased.

(2) When, in any case in which a settlement of land-revenue is not being made or is not about to be made, the Revenue-officer has recorded, in pursuance of clause (m) of section 105, that the occupant of any land claimed to be held rent-free is not entitled to hold it without payment of rent, and either the landlord or the occupant applies, within three months from the date of the certificate of the final publication of the record-of-rights under section 108, sub-section (2), for a settlement of rent, the Revenue-officer shall settle a fair and equitable rent for the land.

(3) Every application under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the Court-fees Act, 1870, bear such stamp as the Governor General in Council may prescribe by notification in the Gazette of India. VII of 1870.

(4) In settling rents under this section, the Revenue-officer shall presume, until the contrary is proved, that the existing rent is fair and equitable, and shall have regard to the rules laid down in this Act for the guidance of the Revenue Courts in increasing or reducing rents, as the case may be.

(5) The Revenue-officer may in any case under this section propose to the parties such rents as he considers fair and equitable; and the rents so proposed, if accepted orally or in writing by the parties, may be recorded as the fair rents, and shall be deemed to have been duly settled under this Act.

(6) Where the parties agree among themselves, by compromise or otherwise, as to the amount of the fair rent, the Revenue-officer shall satisfy himself that the amount agreed upon is fair and equitable, and if so satisfied, but not otherwise, he shall record the amount so agreed upon as the fair and equitable rent. If not so satisfied, he shall himself settle a fair and equitable rent as provided in sub sections (4) and (5).

[Sub-clause (7) added in Select Committee.]

(7) An applicant for a settlement of rent under this section may not dispute any entry in, or any omission from, the finally-published record, unless he files simultaneously a plaint under section 122 for the alteration of such record, in which case the Court shall proceed to dispose of the same before dealing with the application under this section.

Decision of questions arising during the course of settlement of rents under this Part.

[1885, s. 105A; Notfn.]

121. Where, in any proceedings for the settlement of rents under this Part, any of the following issues arise:—

(a) whether the land is, or is not, liable to the payment of rent;

(b) whether the land, although entered in the record-of-rights as being held rent-free, is liable to the payment of rent;

(c) whether the relation of landlord and tenant exists;

(d) whether the land has been wrongly recorded as part of a particular estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenancy, or wrongly omitted from the lands of an estate, sub-proprietary interest or tenancy;

(e) whether the tenant belongs to a class different from that to which he is shown in the record-of-rights as belonging;

(f) whether the special conditions and incidents of the tenancy, or any right of way or other easement attaching to the land, have not, or has not, been recorded, or have, or has, been wrongly recorded;

the Revenue-officer shall try and decide such issue and settle the rent under section 120 accordingly:

Provided that the Revenue-officer shall not try any issue under this section which has been, or is already, directly and substantially in issue between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim, and has been tried and decided, or is already being tried, by a Revenue-officer in a suit instituted before him under section 122.

Provided that the Revenue-officer may, subject to such rules as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, transfer any particular case or class of cases to a competent Civil Court for trial:

Provided also that in any suit under this section the Revenue-officer shall not try any issue which has been, or is already, directly and substantially in issue between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim, in proceedings for the settlement of rents under this Part, where such issue has been tried and decided, or is already being tried, by a Revenue-officer under section 121.

123. (1) In all proceedings under section 120, section 121 and section 122, the Revenue-officer shall, subject to rules made by the Local Government under this Act, adopt the procedure laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for the trial of suits; and his decision in every such proceeding shall have the force and effect of a decree of a Civil Court in a suit between the parties, and, subject to the provisions of sections 124 and 127, shall be final. [1885, s. 107; Notfn.] V of 1908.

(1a) Notwithstanding the period of limitation provided for in sections 120 and 122, the Revenue Officer may, at his discretion, permit an application under section 120, or a suit under section 122, to be amended by the addition of parties, or otherwise, at any time during the pendency of the same. [Sub-clause (1a) added in Select Committee.]

(2) A note of all rents settled under section 120 and of all decisions of issues or disputes under section 121 or section 122, and of all rents commuted under section 41 by a Revenue-officer appointed by the designation of Settlement-officer or Assistant Settlement-officer, shall be made in the record-of-rights finally published under sub-section (2) of section 108, and such note shall be considered as part of the record.

Provided that no such order or decision shall be so revised if an appeal from it is pending under section 127, or until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Provided that no such correction shall be made if an appeal affecting such entry is pending under section 127, or until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

(2) An appeal shall lie to the Special Judge from the decisions of a Revenue-officer under sections 120 to 125; and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, relating to appeals shall, as nearly as may be, apply to all such appeals V of 1908.

(3) Subject to the provisions of sections 103, 104 and 107 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from the decision of a Special Judge in any case under this section (not being a decision settling a rent), as if he were a Court subordinate to the High Court within the meaning of the said section 103: V of 1908.

Provided that, if in a second appeal the High Court alters the decision of the Special Judge in respect of any of the particulars with reference to which the rent of any tenure or holding has been settled, the Court may settle a new rent for the tenure or holding, but in so doing shall be guided by the rents of the other tenures or holdings of the same class comprised in the same record as ascertained under section 105 or settled under section 120 or section 124 of this Act.

Part IV.—Supplemental Provisions.

Power of Revenue-officer to give effect to agreement or compromise.

128. (1) In framing a record-of-rights, and in deciding disputes, under this Chapter, the Revenue-officer shall give effect to any lawful agreement or compromise made or entered into by any landlord and his tenant, [1885, s. 109B Notfn.]

but he shall not give effect to any agreement or compromise the terms of which, if they were embodied in a contract, could not be enforced under this Act.

(2) Where any agreement or compromise has been made for the purpose of settling a dispute as to the rent payable, the Revenue-officer shall, in order to ascertain whether the effect of such agreement or compromise would be to enhance the rent in a manner, or to an extent, not allowed by section 28 in the case of a contract, record evidence as to the rent which was legally payable immediately before the period in respect of which the dispute arose.

(3) Where the terms of any agreement or compromise are such as might unfairly or inequitably affect the rights of third parties, the Revenue-officer shall not give effect to such agreement or compromise unless and until he is satisfied by evidence that the statements made by the parties thereto are correct.

Illustration.—A, a proprietor, agrees that B, his tenant, shall be recorded as an occupancy raiyat: this affects the rights of the tenants of B. The Revenue-officer must, under sub-section (3), inquire whether B is a tenure-holder or a raiyat, as defined in Chapter II. If he finds on the evidence that B is a raiyat, he may give effect to the agreement, but shall not do so if he finds that B is a tenure-holder.

Power of Revenue-officer to settle rents on agreement.

129. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 128, if, in any case, while the record is being prepared, the landlord and tenant agree as to the rent which shall be recorded as payable for the tenure or holding, a Revenue-officer specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government may, if he is satisfied that the rent agreed upon is fair and equitable, but not otherwise, settle such rent as a fair and equitable rent, although the terms of the agreement are such that, if they were embodied in a contract, they could not be enforced under this Act; and the provisions of section 136 shall apply to a rent so settled. [1885, s. 109 Notfn.]

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents—Clauses 130—133.)

(2) A landlord or tenant may appeal to the Special Judge appointed under section 127 on the ground that the rent settled by the Revenue-officer, under sub-section (1), as a fair and equitable rent, was not agreed to by such landlord or tenant, and on no other ground.

(3) The Board of Revenue may, on application made, or of its own motion in proceedings undertaken, within one year from the date of the order, under sub-section (1), settling a rent as a fair and equitable rent, direct the revision of the rent so settled:

Provided that no such direction shall be made until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Note of decisions in record.

130. A note of all rents settled and of all decisions of disputes, on revision or appeal under section 124, section 127, or sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) of section 129, shall be made in the record-of-rights finally published under sub-section (2) of section 108; and such note shall be considered as part of the record. [1885, s. 109D Notfn.]

Date from which settled rent takes effect.

131. When a rent is settled by a Revenue-officer under this Chapter, it shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the date of the decision fixing the rent or (if a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made) the date of final publication of the Settlement Rent Roll: [1885, s. 110; Notfn.]

(a) if the land is comprised in an area, estate or tenure in respect of which a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made, the rent settled shall, subject to the provisions of sections 256 and 257, take effect from the expiration of the period of the current settlement, or from such other date after the expiration of that period as may be fixed by the Revenue-officer;

(b) if the land is not comprised in an area, estate or tenure as aforesaid, and if the existing rent has been fixed by a contract binding between the parties for an unexpired term of years, the rent settled shall take effect from the expiration of that term, or from such other date after the expiration of that term as may be fixed by the Revenue-officer.

Stay of proceedings during preparation of record-of-rights.

132. When an order has been made under section 104, directing the preparation of a record-of-rights, no Court shall— [1885, s. 111 Notfn.]

(a) where a settlement of land-revenue is being or is about to be made—until after the final publication of the record-of-rights, and

(b) where a settlement of land-revenue is not being made or is not about to be made—until three months after the final publication of the record-of-rights, entertain any application made under section 219, or any suit or application for the alteration of the rent or the determination of the status of any tenant, in the area to which the record-of-rights applies.

Limitation of jurisdiction of Civil Courts in matters, other than rent, relating to record-of-rights.

133. No suit shall be brought in any Civil Court in respect of any order directing the preparation of a record-of-rights under this Chapter, or in respect of the framing, publication, signing or attestation of such a record or of any part of it, or, save as provided in section 118, for the alteration of any entry in such a record of a rent settled under sections 111 to 116: [1885, s. 111A Notfn.]

Provided that any person who is dissatisfied with any entry in, or omission from, a record-of-rights framed in pursuance of an order made under section 104, clause (d), which concerns a right of which he is in possession, may institute a suit for declaration of his right under Chapter VI of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. I of 1877.

Stay of suits in which certain issues arise.

134. (1) Where a record-of-rights has been finally published in respect of the land in any area in which a settlement of land-revenue is not being made, or is not about to be made, no application or suit affecting such land or any tenant thereof shall, within three months from the date of the certificate of final publication of such record-of-rights, be made or instituted in any Civil Court for the decision of any of the following issues, namely:— [1885, s. 111B; Notfn.]

(a) whether the land is or is not liable to the payment of rent;

(c) whether the land is part of a particular estate or tenancy; or

(d) whether there is any special condition or incident of the tenancy, or whether any right of way or other easement attaches to the land.

(2) If, before the final publication of the record-of-rights in such area, a suit involving the decision of any of the issues mentioned in sub-section (1) has been instituted in a Civil Court, the Revenue-officer shall not entertain any suit under section 122 involving the decision of the same issue.

(3) Where, in the course of settling fair rents under section 120, the Revenue-officer finds that, by reason of a suit involving the decision of any of the issues mentioned in sub-section (1) having been instituted in a Civil Court before the final publication of the record-of-rights, or before a Revenue-officer under section 122, he is unable to settle a fair rent until such issue is decided, the Revenue-officer shall stay the proceedings for the settlement of a fair rent, pending a final decision on the issue.

And, after the issue has been finally decided, he shall settle a fair rent, as if the record-of-rights had been framed in accordance with such decision.

(4) Where the making of an application or institution of a suit has been delayed owing to the operation of sub-section (1), the period of three months therein mentioned shall be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed for such suit or application.

Power to authorise special settlement in special cases.

135. (1) The Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, on being satisfied that the exercise of the powers hereinafter mentioned is necessary in the interests of public order or of the local welfare, or that any landlord is demanding rents which have been illegally enhanced above those entered as payable in a record-of-rights finally published under this Chapter, invest a Revenue-officer with the following powers or either of them, namely:— [1885, s. 112; Notfn.]

(a) power to settle all rents;

(b) power, when settling rents, to reduce rents if, in the opinion of the officer, the maintenance of existing rents would, on any ground, whether specified in this Act or not, be unfair or inequitable.

(Chapter XI.—Record-of-rights and Settlement of Rents — Clauses 136, 137.)

(2) The powers given under this section may be made exercisable within a specified area either generally or with reference to specified cases or classes of cases.

(3) A settlement of rents under this section shall be made in the manner provided by sections 110 to 119.

136. (1) When the rent of a tenure or holding is settled under this Chapter, it shall not, except on the ground of a landlord's improvement or of a subsequent alteration in the area of the tenure or holding, be enhanced, in the case of a tenure or an occupancy-holding or the holding of an under-raiyat having occupancy rights, for fifteen years, and, in the case of a non-occupancy-holding or the holding of an under-raiyat not having occupancy rights, for five years; and no such rent shall be reduced within the periods aforesaid, save on the ground of alteration in the area of the holding or on the ground specified in section 39, clause (a). [1885, s. 113 Notfn.]

(2) The said periods of fifteen years and five years shall be counted from the date on which the rent settled takes effect under this Chapter.

[1885, s. 114 Notfn.]

(2) The estimated amount of the expenses likely to be incurred for the maintenance, repair or restoration of boundary marks for a period not exceeding fifteen years, or such part of such amount as the Local Government may direct, may be recovered in advance in the same manner as if such expenses had been already incurred.
